Drivers and Walkers.
Why Industries Grow.
Travel by Rocket.
One Gambler Jumps.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE

BOOTLEG whisky, "home brew" and automobile accidents are related.

Drunken drivers kill many. Everybody knew that.

Now Dr. Norris, chief medical examiner of New York City, says that "drunken walkers" cause accidents for which the automobile industry is blamed.

DR. NORRIS urged that reckless walkers be fined and adds, "TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT OF ADULTS HURT BY AUTOMOBILES ARE INTOXICATED."

AN observer of high finance says industry progresses rapidly "because sons of very rich men play polo and golf, neglect business, inherited from their fathers, and allow abler men to extend and develop the business."

THAT is true in some cases. No Vanderbilt runs the New York Central Railroad, no Ryan manages street car lines, no J. J. Hill descendant manages great railroads in the West. But, it isn't true always.

FOR instance, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., not conspicuous on the golf course or polo field; runs successfully the biggest business in the world, turned over to him by his father, now past 90.

AND the American Tobacco Company is run with an extraordinary success, to which its competitors will testify, by a very young man, George W. Hill, who inherited the job from his father.

Here and there young men inherit ability and ambition with great wealth, but not often.

It is easy to succeed in spite of poverty. It is difficult to succeed IN SPITE OF WEALTH.

A COURAGEOUS German inventor, Fritz von Open, takes the first ride in an airplane driven by rockets and lives to tell about it.

Science discussed the possibility of a journey to the moon inside a rocket fired with force sufficient to escape the earth's attraction.

Fritz von Open has actually traveled one mile and a quarter, in 75 seconds, in an airplane driven by the rockets exploding in the rear.

EXPLOSIVE force of chemical preparations is a little uncertain for travel. But that airplanes will fly some day carrying no gas engine or fuel is probable.

Some future Marconi or Edison will find a way to send wireless power into the air, enabling fliers crossing the continent to borrow power from Niagara, Rocky Mountain waterfalls and other plants on the way.

IN THIS column you have seen the advice: "Don't gamble." W. J. Keyes, vice president of the C. A. Earl Radio Company, New York, neglected that advice.

On Monday, he attended a directors' meeting, yesterday he jumped from the window of a high building and died. To his mother he had written: "Last April, I was worth $100,000. Today, I am $24,000 in the red."

HE LOST $124,000 in stock gambling in one year and is one in tens of thousands. DON'T GAMBLE.

Invest wisely in American securities and in America's future, and you will prosper.

Gamble, and you'll lose.

WILBUR D. HUSTON, brilliant boy from Seattle, 17 years old today, begins his scientific career at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, chosen by Thomas A. Edison as the brightest young man in the country.

Everybody wishes him success, and he will have it.

THOUSANDS of other boys may comfort themselves with the knowledge that they have as good a chance as this young man, and perhaps better, although nobody selected them "to succeed Thomas A. Edison."

Edison at 17 was working for a small salary, never went to any institute of technology, never was SELECTED, but SUCCEEDED.

AMONG men working at benches in overalls, mechanics in big factories, white collar men that think as they work, one will be the real Edison of the future. You can't select genius.

WE ARE creatures of impulse, and our impulses are usually foolish.

The old-fashioned advice, "Count 10 before you act in anger," would save many from trouble.

John G. Bennett bid four spades and "went down." His wife called him "a foolish player." He slapped her. She shot him dead and will be tried for murder.

3 SLAIN, 21 HURT IN STRIKE RIOT

MARION, N. C., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Three men were dead, at least one other dying and 15 others were in the General Hospital here at noon today as a result of a strike riot at the gates of the Marion Manufacturing Company's cotton mill early today. Five other persons were suffering from less serious wounds from pistols and clubs.

Two companies of National Guardsmen were being rushed here upon request of Sheriff O. F. Adkins, himself a casualty of the outbreak.

The riot followed a strike by part of the night force at the mill, called by the United Textile Workers' Union because it was claimed the owners of the plant had failed to keep agreements made when a nine-week strike was settled two weeks ago.

Two of the dead men are Sam Vickers and Rudolph Hall, both union workmen.

Twelve union members, two non-union men and two deputy sheriffs were taken to Marion General Hospital with bullet wounds.

Americans Victims Of 'Spectatoritis'

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—One trouble with American men, in the opinion of Dr. Jay B. Nash, is spectatoritis. He told a recreation conference that there is a problem in adult recreation; new activities must be sought for adults of leisure on the participation basis, not the spectator basis. Dr. Nash is professor of physical education at New York University.

Woman, Children Killed in Crash

Sentiment Against Coal Police Alarms Kin; Considering Plea for Change of Venue

District Attorney Samuel E. Gardner today revealed he would oppose vigorously any plan to move the manslaughter trial of the three coal and iron police, in the killing of John Borkowski, into another county.

Relatives of Walter J. Lyster, alarmed by the evident unpopularity of Saturday's acquittal of the three policemen, were said to be planning to ask a change of venue.

Lyster was believed to be en route to his home at Lansdowne, Pa., today after having been released yesterday on $5,000 bond.

His co-defendants, Harold P. Watts and Frank Slapikas, were still in the county jail while their families continue to try to raise bail.

The widow of the slain miner yesterday visited District Attorney Gardner and complained that one of the jurors during the murder trial had exchanged greetings with relatives of one of the defendants.

Mrs. Borkowski was told that while such an action was improper nothing could be done about it, it did not form the basis for a formal charge after the verdict was rendered.

HUNGER TRAPS GIRL RUNAWAY

Removed from an East Liberty car at Frankstown and Homewood avenues today when she became ill, Genevieve McAleer, 16, of Verona, was arrested after police learned she had escaped from the Girls' Service Club at 1220 Sheffield street.

She told Lieut. John Jones she had been sent to the home by Magistrate A. D. Brandon when she was arraigned in Morals Court two months ago for stealing two automobiles. She will face Brandon again tomorrow.

At Pittsburgh Hospital, where the girl was treated, physicians said she was suffering from lack of nourishment and sleep. She said she had not eaten since she left the home yesterday.

'Water Boy' Ruler Faces New Threat

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—A new threat to the throne of Afghanistan was offered today by Nadir Khan, former Afghan envoy to France and Bitter enemy of the Amir Habibullah, former water boy, for forcing King Amanullah to abdicate.

According to a Central News dispatch from Peshawar, 5,000 tribesmen under Nadir Khan are marching on Kabul, the capital of Afghanistan, following the capture of Kareza. Additional tribesmen are reported marching from the east, and a fierce clash is expected.

Fear for Aviator Lost Since Sunday

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Some concern was felt here for the safety of H. S. Mhyrees, who took off from Albuquerque, N. M., at 7 o'clock Sunday morning for Los Angeles, and who had not arrived late last night at any of the airports in this vicinity.

Snyder Murder Home Rented 'For Song'

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—Henry Schlicting, a bricklayer, his wife and her parents today are keeping house in the dwelling at Queens Village where Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Judd Gray killed her husband with a window weight. The house, untenanted for months and boarded up, was rented to Schlicting "for a song," he said.

COAL MEN PLAN FIGHT FOR CUT

Pittsburgh coal operators, it was learned today, plan a smashing campaign for reduction of freight rates in all directions.

On his return to the city today from a business trip, J. D. A. Morrow, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company and chairman of the Pittsburgh Coal Operators' Rate Committee, told of preparations that are being made for the drive.

Traffic experts, under the direction of Albert B. McElvaney, secretary of the committee, are preparing data showing the inequalities of the existing tariffs. Lawyers are co-operating.

ASK GENERAL REVISION

The committee conferred recently with executives of northern railroads and was much encouraged, Mr. Morrow said, by their attitude.

The lake cargo rate differential, a subject of litigation before the Interstate Commerce Commission and the courts for years, is temporarily out of the way, with the southern coal operators' rate to the Great Lakes fixed at 35 cents a ton more than that of their Pittsburgh competitors.

With the slate cleared, so far as that is concerned, the local operators will begin the fight anew, and this time will not confine themselves to the lake rate but will ask a general revision.

SELLING AT CUT PRICE

"In every direction out of Pittsburgh—north, south, east and west," said Mr. Morrow, "we have to pay more per ton-mile for the transportation of coal than any other competing field.

"I am so confident that this cannot continue long that we have recently been selling coal

U. S. Treasury Has $184,000,000 Surplus

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—Federal tax collections during September amounted to $542,279,000, an increase of approximately $100,000,000 over last year, it was announced today by the Treasury.

At the end of September, the Treasury had a surplus of $184,000,000, as compared with a deficit of $55,000,000 at the same time last year.

TUNNEY UNDER KNIFE IN BERLIN

Minor Operation Successful, Ex-Champion Returns to Hotel to Join His Bride

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion, today underwent a successful minor operation at a local sanitarium.

The retired champion, soon after the operation, returned to his hotel where Mrs. Tunney, the former Polly Lauder, joined him.

The Tunneys, who spent an extended honeymoon on the Island of Brioni in the Adriatic Sea, were last reported in Paris where they had gone for a visit.

While in Brioni, Mrs. Tunney was seriously ill and was operated upon for appendicitis. A German specialist was sent for from Berlin by Tunney to care for Mrs. Tunney.

JOHNSON TURNS ON HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—A spectacular attack by Senator Hiram W. Johnson, (Rep.), of California, on the President's taxing powers under the present tariff law featured the closing debate this afternoon in the Senate on Mr. Hoover's request for retention of the existing flexible provision.

Johnson, breaking openly with the President on this issue, declared the only question before the Senate was whether Mr. Hoover or Congress should exercise the taxing power. He warned the Senate that grave disasters had followed every other instance wherein the taxing power was conferred on an executive.

The Californian indorsed the Democratic-Insurgent plan for a flexible provision, in which the tariff commission would report direct to Congress and the latter body pass upon all changes in duties.

A final poll by International News Service today indicated a vote of 49 to 46 against the President. The vote margin may be increased during the day.

The President, silent since his appeal to Congress to re-enact the flexible provision, will have the final word in the controversy. He will retain his power to veto, not only the proposed congressional "flexible" changes in tariff rates, but his power to veto the new tariff bill itself.

Ambridge Mother Sentenced in Theft

BEAVER FALLS, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Cecelia Parks, 21, of Ambridge, mother of two children, was sentenced to one to two years in the Women's Industrial Reformatory at Muncy, Pa., after she had pleaded guilty to embezzlement. A clerk for the United Small Loan Corporation, Mrs. Parks confessed embezzling $1,400 of the corporation's funds. She is the wife of Charles E. Parks, Ambridge shoe merchant, recently paroled in Federal Court, Pittsburgh, after pleading guilty to violating the bankruptcy laws.

DANCES WITH MELLON

MISS ISHBEL MacDONALD

Miss MacDonald, daughter of Prime Minister MacDonald, who is bound for the United States for a conference with President Hoover, aboard the SS. Berengaria danced with Tom Mellon, Pittsburgh bachelor and nephew of Secretary of the Treasury A. W. Mellon.

TOM MELLON, ISHBEL DANCE

ABOARD S. S. BERENGARIA, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—One of those dancing last evening with Miss Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of Prime Minister MacDonald, was Tom Mellon, nephew of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon.

The prime minister and his daughter, en route from Great Britain for Mr. MacDonald's conference with President Hoover on naval disarmament, have proved to be good sailors though most of the members of their suite have hardly emerged from their cabins, due to seasickness. The MacDonalds, indeed, with their walking and Miss Ishbel's dancing, are among the most active persons aboard.

Mr. MacDonald yesterday afternoon paid a brief visit to the sun deck where he played shuffleboard with Robert G. Vansittart and W. L. Craigie, of his staff. "I had a great game," he remarked as he descended.

Later Capt. Sir Arthur H. Rostron was host at tea in his cabin on the bridge. Among the guests were James W. Gerard, former United States ambassador to Germany, and Mrs. Gerard.

Just two days remain to the party aboard ship, the expectation being it will arrive in New York early Friday morning.

Tom Mellon is a son of James R. Mellon. The latter is a brother of Secretary Mellon.

The younger Mellon, who is a bachelor, lives at 400 North Negley avenue. He is about 45 and has been in Europe on a vacation and business trip. His father is associated with the Mellon banking and industrial interests.

Coste Believed Lost In Siberian Wastes

PARIS, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—Preparations were being made today for a thorough search by land and air of the Siberian wastes in an effort to find some trace of Capt. Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte, lost on an attempted record-breaking distance flight to the east.

According to advices to the French air ministry from Moscow, the Soviet government is taking measures to send fuel and aid to the fliers as soon as they are located.

GRUNDY NAMED IN LOBBY QUIZ

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Activities of the Southern Tariff League and of groups interested in Muscle Shoals legislation were named today by Senator Caraway (Dem.), of Arkansas, for inclusion in the Senate investigation of lobbyists.

Caraway, author of the resolution proposing the inquiry, said he also desired the work of Joseph R. Grundy, representative of Pennsylvania manufacturers, considered by the committee.

With the tariff bill now before the Senate it was believed today the investigators first would consider reports of a tariff lobby.

The Judiciary Committee probably will await its regular meeting day, Monday, to organize for the probe.

POLL BOARD IDENTIFIES SUSPECT

Official Count in Council Race Shows Muldowney Nominated by 397 Margin

Today's activities as an aftermath of the primary election brought these developments:

1—County detectives arrested a suspect as one of the three thugs alleged to have stolen the ballot box from the polling place of the Twenty-first district, Fourth Ward, on election night.

2—M. J. Muldowney was revealed as the winner for the fifth council seat over Councilman P. J. McArdle, by 397 votes, by a complete count as the returning board completed its work.

3—The Elections Committee of the Allegheny County Bar Association fired the opening gun against phantom voters by petitioning the Board of Registration Commissioners to strike off 900 names from the registration lists of the First Ward.

4—Judge James R. Macfarlane refused to hold up official certification of the returning board's count of votes.

County detectives today arrested a man who was identified as one of three bandits who invaded the polling place in the Twenty-first District, Fourth Ward, and stole the ballot box on primary election night, September 17.

The prisoner, George Rodosvich, 36, was charged with robbery. He denied the charge and added that he had loaned his car to friends that night.

RODOSVICH IDENTIFIED

Members of the election board who were held at bay by the bandits identified Rodosvich as one of the three at the district attorney's office today, detectives said.

Detectives reported arresting Rodosvich on the farm of "Hap" Butler in Baldwin Township, where they said he was working.

Rodosvich was located through a description given by the election board members who said he had a birth mark beneath his right ear. In seeking suspects, County Detective John Geisler noticed that Rodosvich had such a mark.

The stolen ballot box was recovered a few days later in Schenley

Preacher Begins Balm Suit Against Aimee's Mother

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—The $50,000 breach-of-promise suit of the Rev. H. H. Clark against Mrs. Minnie E. Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, opened in Superior Court here before a jury of eight married women and four men.

The former preacher and Mrs. Kennedy sat across a table from each other as Gordon McGauvran, counsel for Clark, declared that Mrs. Kennedy had wooed Clark with a whirlwind courtship, promised to marry him and then "went south." McGauvran said that it was not until Mrs. Kennedy had left that Clark learned she was not a "Mrs. Klark," as she represented.

"We will prove," Attorney McGauvran said, "that as Mrs. Klark she secured the Rev. Mr. Clark's promise to marry her by telling him she was wealthy, that she would equip an evangelistic temple for him and that they were soul mates."

John S. Robinson, attorney for Mrs. Kennedy, declared that Clark's charges were "blackmail" and that "we will prove it with the words out of his own mouth and over his own signature."

Wales Urged to Found Colonies for Jobless

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A suggestion that the Prince of Wales "solve the over-population problem in England" by leading 100,000 of the unemployed to the sparsely settled districts of Canada or Australia where they could start new colonies, is put forward by Sir Philip Gibbs, noted British author, war correspondent and publicist.

In his "scheme or dream," as he calls it, Sir Philip suggests that the Prince offer to become the leader of these Twentieth Century pioneers, going out with them to either Canada or Australia, and then, after having helped and encouraged them to organize their new settlemen visit them from time to time.

This proposd "crusade of the unemployed" would be organized on the same lines as the British expeditionary force during the war. There would be a general headquarters, staffed by administrators and experts, including engineers, agricultural officials, surveyors and social organizers.

The pioneers would be young men and women enrolled from the "distressed" areas of Britain, such as the coal mine districts where work has been scarce, and poverty rampant for years.

CHICAGO'S 'GOLD COAST' SHAKEN BY SECOND BOMB

BLASTS RIP CLUB HOUSE; RESIDENCE

Attack Blamed on Auto Buyers Who Lost Cars; Outrages Arouse Police

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The exclusive "Gold Coast" residential district, scene of a bombing last night, was rocked by another explosion today when hoodlums attacked the apartment of C. H. McCarty, stock broker, and his son, Austin (Five Yards) McCarty, of football fame.

McCarty, former star of the University of Chicago team, now sales manager of an automobile refinancing agency, blamed the bombing on disgruntled hoodlums from whom automobiles had been reclaimed.

The earlier bombing shattered the front wall of the exclusive Lake Shore Athletic Club, terrifying fashionable Chicagoans.

The first bomb went through a window of the $6,000,000 clubhouse, tearing a hole in the wall of the natatorium. The club is at 850 Lake Shore drive, in the heart of the Gold Coast, and the force of the explosion was felt in nearby homes and hotels. Several members in the locker room and men and women in the lounge were staggered by the blast.

HOOVER AID NEAR

Frank J. Loesch, 76-year-old assistant state's attorney and member of President Hoover's Crime Commission, was aroused from sleep in his Drake Hotel apartment and joined in the investigation.

"The persons who did this bombing," he said, "advanced to the very door of the civic leaders of Chicago. The bombing must be solved."

TWO THEORIES OFFERED

Police were investigating two theories; one, that the bombing may have been done by terrorists employed by garage racketeers who in turn were disgruntled over the fact that many members of the club used an adjoining vacant lot to park their cars. The other theory was that rival cab drivers, vying for the privilege of waiting at the club entrance for fares, had resorted to violence to show their dissatisfaction with the present arrangement, which gives the club business to a single company.

The bombers, in an automobile, were seen as they tossed the bomb, with sputtering fuse, through the window. The witness, a cab driver, pursued them, but was outdistanced.

MISSION BODIES IN SESSION

LEECHBURG, Pa., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—The Lutheran Women's Missionary Society of the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America today opened its annual convention, which will culminate in a celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the organization. Over 400 societies from Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio are represented.

The Rev. Ellis B. Burgess, of Crafton, Pa., president of the synod, and Mrs. J. C. Michael, of Johnstown, Pa., addressed the conference. Election of a president to succeed Mrs. H. C. Hoffman, of Connellsville, Pa., will take place today. The jubilee dinner will be held tonight, with the convention closing tomorrow.

Appendicitis Fatal For Idaho Executive

LEWISTON, Ida., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—It was learned here that Lieut. Gov. W. B. Kinne, of Idaho, who also was acting governor, died at Orofino, Ida., last night.

The Lieutenant Governor's death was unexpected. He was stricken with appendicitis Saturday, but an operation was not thought necessary until Sunday morning. While Kinne's condition after the operation was grave because of complications, it was not believed that death was near. The end came at 7:12 p. m.

FALL REQUESTS BRIBE CHARGE DISMISSAL

Ex-Cabinet Member Appears In Court, Claims Double Jeopardy in Oil Case

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior in the Harding cabinet and central figure in the naval oil lease cases, today appeared in the District of Columbia Supreme Court to enter pleas for dismissal of a charge of bribery against him.

Fall was arraigned at his own request. He filed four special pleas, contending the indictment should be dismissed as one constituting double jeopardy and violation of his constitutional rights, since he and Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, were previously tried and acquitted on a conspiracy indictment based on the Elk Hills lease, in connection with which he was indicted on the bribery charge.

Justice Hitz, after hearing argument on the motion of the former interior secretary, noted that the case was set for trial on its merits next Monday and said he would dispose of the motion on or before that day.

Doheny, who is charged with having given the former interior secretary $100,000 in the celebrated "little black bag," was in court, as were Mrs. Fall and the defendant's two daughters, Mrs. C. C. Chase and Mrs. Jouett Fall Elliott.

Atlee Pomerene, special government counsel in the oil cases, argued that the conspiracy indictment based on the Elk Hills lease represented a distinct offense from the bribery charge.

Fall's pleas were contained in a printed pamphlet to which he made affidavit. Two of the pleas argued the exact fact involved in the present case had been involved in the case tried three years ago and that the fact had been fairly submitted to a jury. The other two pleas contended that to retry Fall constitutes violation of his constitutional rights.

BOY KICKED TO DEATH IN FIGHT

Four Under Arrest in Fatal Street Battle; Victim Accused of Hitting First

A 17-year-old boy was dead today and four others were under arrest as a sequel to a street fight at South Twenty-sixth street and Carey way last night.

The victim was Felix Obremski, of 2513 Sarah street. He died a few minutes after he had been kicked in the abdomen by Charles Zeitlman, 17, of 2416 Jane street, duing a quarrel, according to the report of South Side Police. Obremski was said to have gone to the aid of his friend, Mike Trovobich, 17, of 2614 Josephine street, after Mike had been struck in the face by Zeitlman.

KICKED VICTIM

"Why don't you pick on some one your size," Obremski asked Zeitlman, and then struck Zeitlman in the face, according to police. Zeitlman, fearing a beating, kicked Obremski in the abdomen.

The trouble started in front of Zeitlman's home at . Zeitlman and Trovobich, joint owners of a "flivver,, decided to sell one of the tires. They became involved in an argument over which one was to remove the rim bolts. The quarrel ceased temporarily only to be resumed when the pair neared a garage at South Twenty-sixth street and Carey way, where Obremski was employed.

DIES QUICKLY

Obremski heard the argument and saw Zeitlman strike Trovobich. He then intervened.

After the fatal kick efforts to revive Obremski proved futile. He was taken to South Side Hospital and pronounced dead.

Zeitlman and Trovobich were arrested on suspicious person charges, while two other boys, Joseph Zurchewski, 14, of 2617 Josephine street, and Mike Kaclowicz, 15, of 2509 Larkins way, were held as material witnesses, police reported.

MULDOWNEY WINS

M. J. Muldowney won the fight for the fifth council seat over Councilman P. J. McArdle by 397 votes, according to a tabulation after the returning board had completed its work today.

The vote:

Muldowney	58,899
McArdle	58,502

Because of the close vote, the county commissioners decided to recheck the Muldowney - McArdle vote district by district.

Judge Richard W. Martin ran second in the race for the Republican mayoralty nomination, the complete count shows, with 988 more votes than were received by James F. Malone. A $10,000 wager was reported at stake on the outcome of second place.

The vote on second and third places stood:

Martin	48,335
Malone	47,337

The total for Mayor Charles H. Kline, the nominee, were not available today. Officials will be announced tomorrow.

Judge Macfarlane today refused a petition to hold up certification of the returning board's count pending a recount in questioned districts, which was presented yesterday by Attorney O. K. Eaton in behalf of Councilman P. J. McArdle, who is running behind M. J. Muldowney for the fifth Council seat on the Republican ticket.

BAR MAKES MOVE

The election committee of the Allegheny County Bar Association today filed the first of a series of petitions with the Registration Board, in which they ask that 900 names be stricken from the registration lists of the First Ward.

The hearings on the petitions will be begun Monday by the board. Other petitions, covering practically every ward in the city, will be filed soon, members of the committee indicated.

SPECIAL RECOUNT BEGINS

Separate petitions were filed for each district of the ward, with a list of names the committee seeks stricken from the district lists.

A special recount board, consisting of Ward Bonsall, Paul McKeever and John A. Witt today began opening ballot boxes and counting votes in districts where fraud is expected.

The districts affected by the orders are: First, Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Thirty-second and Thirty-third districts of the Fourth Ward, and the Second, Third, Fourth, Seventh and Twenty-fourth districts of the Fifteenth Ward, and the Fourteenth District of the Sixth Ward.

Numerous other boxes are expected to be ordered opened and recounted. It is reported that supporters of Mayor Charles H. Kline are preparing petitions for a number of districts.

AUDIT SUBMITTED

The calling of about 100 witnesses from the First District of the Third Ward before the election-probing grand jury today will reveal the results of the audit of alleged phantom assessments, fraudulent tax receipts, illegal registrations and voting, and indicate to District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner whether this line of work shall be continued fo. information of the grand jury.

Subpenas were issued today for 165 witnesses from the Second district, Third Ward. They will appear before the grand jury tomorrow.

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—With an airplane scouting for grazing grounds in advance, the most spectacular reindeer drive in the history of the industry will begin soon, extending from the Kotzebue Sound in Arctic Alaska to Kittigazuit Peninsula on the east side of the Mackenzie Delta in the northwest territories of Canada.

DOCTORS ELECT PITTSBURGHER

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 2.—Among the officers elected at the business session of the Pennsylvania Medical Society's convention here today was Dr. Walter Donaldson, of Pittsburgh, who was named secretary.

Other officers include Dr. Ross V. Patterson, Philadelphia, president; Dr. J. A. Stackhouse, Dr. R. B. Hayes, Jersey Shore; Dr. H. R. Bostock, Norristown, and Dr. H. Stewart, Indiana, vice president.

Dr. C. B. Longnecker, of Philadelphia, was chosen assistant secretary; Dr. J. B. Lowman, Johnstown, treasurer, and Dr. J. A. Nobles, Philadelphia, and Dr. A. S. Peck, Altoona, councillors. Dr. William Sharpless, of West Chester, will continue as the Medical Society executive. The 1930 convention will be held at Johnstown, it was decided.

Wheeling Woman Found Dead in River

BELLAIRE, O., Oct. 2.—The body of a woman found floating in the Ohio River here late yesterday was identified as that of Mrs. Ida May Smith, 43, of Wheeling, by Lou Burchette, of Bellaire, a sister.

An autopsy showed no water in the lungs of the body, which leads Coroner J. W. Neal to advance the theory of murder. He believes the woman was dead when placed in the river.

NEW FIGHT ON RATES PLANNED

at less than cost in certain markets, with a view to being firmly established there when revision of freight rates permits us to make a profit.

"We have salesmen out in territories in which we cannot at present compete with southern operators. But, by taking a loss, we are underselling our competitors, thus gaining customers and recovering markets in which we believe in a year or two, with lower freight rates, we will be able to make money.

"The coal that we are pushing is mechanically cleaned. It is especially well adapted to the making of iron. Better iron can be produced with it than with other coal, and we believe that as this becomes known the demand for our coal will increase."

DIFFERENT SPIRIT

Mr. Morrow said that the northern railroads had heretofore either been neutral in the Pittsburgh coal operators' rate contests with their southern competitors or had been hostile to the Pittsburghers, but that a different spirit was now being shown.

"This was apparent," he said, "in a Washington (D. C.) rate case that was up not long ago. Southern operators, although having to ship their coal twice as far, were able to send it to Washington at a freight rate only 14 cents a ton more than we had to pay. We asked for a greater differential and had the spread increased to 43 cents. The northern railroads helped us in the fight."

"RAILROADS SEEING LIGHT"

Mr. Morrow said he did not know what had produced the change of attitude on the part of the northern railroads unless it was realization of the fact that unless Pittsburgh coal operators were given freight rates that would permit them to meet competition there would be no coal traffic out of the Pittsburgh district.

There has been an enormous shrinkage in Pittsburgh's coal tonnage to the Great Lakes because of the narrowness of the differential between the local and the southern rates, and the northern railroads, Mr. Morrow suggested, are beginning to realize that what they receive as their share of the Southern operators' freight payments does not compensate them for the loss of the Pittsburgh traffic.

Friendly Boxing Bout Causes Broken Leg

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 2.—A friendly boxing exhibition with a friend resulted in a broken leg for John Metzler, 48, of Greensburg.

PANTAGES MAY TAKE STAND

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—The trial of Alexander Pantages, wealthy theater owner, entered its second day today with the probability that Pantages himself would take the stand to defend himself against the charges of 17-year-old Eunice Pringle.

Questions put by defense attorneys to prospective jurors yesterday in Judge Charles Frick's court indicated that part of the defense plan is to introduce the testimony of the elderly millionaire.

What is regarded as a victory for the state occurred when Judge Fricke insructed the prospective jurors that they might convict Pantages on Miss Pringle's testimony alone.

The Pantages defense was taken by surprise when the prosecution dropped one of the two counts originally lodged against Pantages which charged him with forcibly attacking the co-ed dancer. This leaves the charge of an attack on a girl under the age of 18.

The tentative jury was locked up for the night in accord with the announcement of Judge Fricke that the jurors will be kept under close guard continually.

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Successful transmission of photographs to airplanes by wireless was made today for the first time in Europe when the Lufthansa radio station at Tempelhof Airport sent three photographs to an airplane flying high above Berlin. An Associated Press correspondent aboard the plane watched the photographs come in.

The first was a weather map, showing the weather which would be met by a pilot flying from Tempelhof to Cologne over the regular air route from Berlin to Paris. The second showed storm conditions, and the third was a photograph of the landing field at Tempelhof showing a rain-soaked section of the airport where a landing would be difficult for a pilot.

The photographs showed but a slight variation from the original, and the reception was effected within five minutes by an ordinary radio set equipped with a small apparatus known as a "fultograph."

Lufthansa airline officials do not expect the radio-photo service to supplant the regular weather wireless report, but propose to inaugurate such a service to make flying 100 per cent safe.

SOUTHERN FLOOD MENACE GROWS IN HURRICANE'S PATH

GALE LASHES EASTERN COAST

International News Service.

The swishing tail of the tropical storm which lashed Florida and the West Indies tore northward through the Southern states this afternoon, leaving a wake of devastating floods, swollen rivers and untold property damage.

The elemental disturbance, accompanied by heavy rainfall, swept over Southwestern Georgia, crossed the Carolinas into Southern Virginia and was heading toward New York and New England.

FIGHT TO SAVE LEVEE

Fifteen hundred men in Augusta, Ga., fought to bulwark the nine-mile levee against the steadily rising Savannah River, frothing under an eight-inch rainfall during the last 24 hours.

The river had risen to a stage of 45 feet and threatened to inundate the business section later in the day.

Communication lines were washed down by the waters and in many outlying districts residents were forced to retreat to higher ground.

Throughout the central part of Georgia roads were flooded and streams were overflowing.

RIVERS ON RAMPAGE

Throughout the South Atlantic states rivers were reported high above their normal level, and telephone, telegraph and railroad lines have their service disrupted.

Along the New Jersey coast the gale battered summer property and swept away bulkheads.

Whipping the coastline, the storm endangered shipping, and two ships were driven ashore in Boston harbor while numerous craft were swept loose from moorings.

SHIPS SEEK SHELTER

Many small vessels in the bay off Lewes were forced to put into the Delaware breakwater today as the storm increased in fury. Coast patrols were doubled.

The tag end of the hurricane is due to hit New York and other eastern communities tonight or tomorrow morning. Warnings to shipping from the local weather bureau indicated a storm with gale winds from the Virginia Capes to Boston.

In the wake of the storm lay an uncertain number of dead, millions of dollars damage to crops and property, and untold suffering—an enormous toll since it swept across the southern tip of Florida last week and then swerved up the Gulf of Mexico upon a mission of destruction and entered the mainland again near Pensacola.

3 DRY RAIDERS ATTACKED

A prohibition agent was slugged and the interior of a club at 106 East Ohio street, North Side, wrecked when a squad of agents and North Side police raided the place at 2 a. m. today. It was the second time in six weeks that agents had invaded the place.

Several hours later a policeman at Wylie and Sixth avenues reported that several men in an automobile which sped out Fifth avenue fired several shots at a prohibition car parked near the Plaza building, at Fifth and Sixth avenues. Some of the shots punctured the gas tank and others struck the fenders. The incident was believed by police to have connection with the raid.

SUMMONS AID

Three agents, who visited the Ohio street place, met resistance by a crowd of 75 visitors, they reported. A call for help was sent to headquarters and three additional men, together with a squad of police under Lieut. John Joyce, of the North Side, went to their aid.

The raiders reported finding five quarts of liquor and a barrel of beer. A man giving his name as Harry Jones, 38, of 3013 Pearl street, was arrested.

GRIDIRON STAR ARRESTED

Captured by prohibition agents after a chase of several squares, Mose Kelsch, 32, of 2931 East street, well known independent football player, and George Smith, 30, of 1410 Hamlin street, were lodged in the Central Police Station last night for transporting whisky, the agents reported.

The two were arrested after they were alleged to have attempted to carry two cartons of whisky into a building at Milroy and East streets, from Kelsch's automobile.

RACKETEERS GO TO WORKHOUSE

Sixteen prisoners, includin confessed members of the Fayette County liquor ring which came into prominence with the slaying of Constable John Donohoe, of Uniontown, last July, today began varying terms in the Allegheny County Workhouse, for dry law violations.

Among those who alighted from a big bus that brought the group from Uniontown were R. C. Bledsoe, former Fayette County detective and head of Baltimore and Ohio railroad police at Connellsville and "Big Ed" Wonsetter. Max Hannan, once powerful politician will be brought to the workhouse tomorrow, according to advices from Uniontown.

Von Hindenburg Observes 82nd Birthday

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Germany's president, Paul von Hindenburg, spent his eighty-second birthday today quietly in the bosom of his family at Schorfheide, the presidential hunting lodge on the banks of beautiful Werbellin Lake, about 35 miles north of Berlin.

The octogenarian's health was excellent, but the recent death of his sister made the event even more than formerly a family affair. His daughter, Irmengard, and his son, Oscar, were among those at the lodge.

Throughout Germany local patriotic bodies arranged special celebrations in honor of the day. Among these was the Berlin Artisans' Association, of which the field marshal is honorary president.

PRISONER DIES, 2 PALS HELD

Two prisoners, arrested for drunkenness, were turned over to the coroner today pending investigation of the death of their companion, Percy Ohl, 41, of 501 Market street.

The three were arrested yesterday in a shed in Duquesne way. Later in the police station, Ohl complained of illness.

Wagonmen John Hooper and David Wolfson said they took him to Allegheny General Hospital where the physician said, "This man is all right except that he's drunk."

The police said he appeared ill, so they took him to Mercy Hospital immediately.

There, they said the physician said, "This man has been dead for an hour."

The coroner's office attributed death to pneumonia.

Dr. John Fredette, the examining physician at Mercy Hospital, denied saying that Ohl had been dead for an hour.

"The man might have died just five minutes before he was brought in here," Dr. Fredette said. "Certainly he had not been dead long."

Dr. W. C. Trushel, who examined Ohl at the Allegheny General, expressed surprise at Ohl's death. Dr. Trushel said he was suffering from alcoholism and drugs but there was no indication of pneumonia.

"I pumped his stomach out and discharged him," Dr. Trushel explained.

The two prisoners, Harry Lavery and Robert Moore, who have been living at the Improvement of the Poor Home, said they did not know that Ohl was ill.

M'NAB DOES DRY JOB GRATIS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—As a patriotic duty of a private citizen, John L. McNab, San Francisco lawyer, has undertaken, at the request of President Hoover, the difficult task of formulating legislation to bring about better prohibition enforcement and relief of court congestion.

McNab has no official connection with the government, but was urged by Secretary Mellon, Attorney General Mitchell and Chairman Wickersham of the Law Enforcement Commission, as well as the President, to draft for submission to Congress in December legislation that would centralize prohibition enforcement under the justice department.

The abuses which have accompanied enforcement of the dry law have brought the act into "unmerited disrepute," he believes, and have broken down the legal machinery through the clogging of the courts.

Long a friend of the chief executive, and a guest since Monday at the White House, he regards the reforms suggested by the President as badly needed and has undertaken his task with the reservation that he will receive no compensation or reward. He will have at his disposal the findings of the enforcement commission.

KUMMER DEATH HELD SUICIDE

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—The body of Dr. Konsul J. G. Kummer, acting president of the American Bamberg and Glanzstoff rayon plants, who died yesterday from gashes in his left wrist which a coroner's jury said were self-inflicted, will be started on its way to his former home at Barmen, Germany, for burial after funeral services here today.

The verdict of the coroner's jury said Kummer "died from wounds inflicted by himself while in intense pain and in an unbalanced mental condition due to his health." The verdict dispelled hints of foul play advanced when the body was found.

ATTACK AMAZES WAR HERO

By HOMER H. METZ
International News Service.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 2.—Sergt. Alvin York, Tennessee mountaineer, who has been generally acclaimed as the greatest of A. E. F. war heroes, expressed astonishment today when he was questioned regarding alleged efforts of Sergt. Bernard Early, of New Haven, Conn., and Percy Beardsley, of Roxbury, Conn., to discredit his war record.

Early and Beardsley, according to a published story from Boston, are en route to Washington to present evidence purporting to prove that York obtained his reputation through fraud.

"This is a complete surprise to me," York said. "I'm not acquainted with either Early or Beardsley and I can't imagine what their purpose is in attacking my record. My exploits during the war are all on file with the War Department. I can't understand what they have against me."

The 50,000-odd members of the American Legion who are assembled here for their eleventh annual convention were prepared to settle down to the serious side of the convention after three days of fun-making. In all probability, a new national commander will be selected today.

Coal Gone, Cold Prisoners Make Threat to Go

Prisoners at Central Police Station today threatened a walkout unless furnished heat in their cells.

The desk sergeant sympathized with them, but explained that there was no coal in the bunkers down in the cellar.

"It's been gone three days," he said, "and I'll never tell you when we'll get any more."

Meantime the sergeant and the reserves, the prisoners and reporters are shivering and wondering what's wrong at City Hall.

KIDNAPERS SEAL FATHER'S LIPS

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 2.—(INS.)—Belief that Henry S. Thompson, wealthy realtor, is in communication with the kidnapers of his 5-year-old son, Jackie, persisted today as he refused to discuss the case with police.

Mrs. Thompson and the missing boy's brother heard the child scream Sunday night and ran to the front of the house in time to see an automobile being driven rapidly away.

Yesterday Thompson rushed from his home and drove away in his automobile. He returned 90 minutes later, but refused to discuss the purpose of his trip. He appeared to be much relieved on his return but would not answer questions of police inspectors.

James Sprott, superintendent of police, said Thompson during his absence was in touch with the men who held his son captive, but refused to talk because of the warnings they gave him.

MOTHERS' PLEA UNAVAILING

Two mothers who pleaded for their sons in court today heard Judge Frank P. Patterson sentence them to serve from three to 10 years in the county jail. The mothers had testified their sons worked regularly, turned their wages into the homes and went to church on Sunday.

Kenneth A. Smith, 934 Heberton avenue, alleged ringleader of an alleged holdup gang, was sentenced to serve three to 12 years; John Welsing, 1104 Fredonia street, and Joseph Schoeneman, 919 Ringold street, each three to 10 years, and Norman McMasters, 301 Grant street, Turtle Creek, six months to one year.

Six East End holdups, between June 3 and 22, which netted from $10 to $81, were admitted by Smith, Welsing and Schoeneman. They absolved McMasters when he stood trial and he was acquitted of the highway robbery charge, but convicted of receiving stolen goods.

PORT COURTESY RESTORED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—After several months of treating all travelers alike insofar as customs examination of baggage is concerned, the U. S. Customs Service hauled down its flag today and surrendered to those who insist upon preferential treatment when coming through ports of entry.

New regulations announced for examination of baggage today restored the old system of "free entry" to government officials and members of Congress returning from abroad on "official business," and "courtesy of the port" for those same classes of gentlemen who return from pleasure trips. The so-called "courtesy" simply means expeditious examination of baggage.

The practices of extending "free entry" and "courtesy of the port" were abolished some months ago after several scandals had developed, dry congressmen being charged with bringing in liquor and getting by with it.

Cantonese Advance To Capture Wuchow

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—Cantonese forces advancing upon Nanking are expected to occupy Wuchow in the near future, an Exchange Telegraph from Kongkong today stated. The troops hope to effect a bloodless seizure of the city. The American consul at Wuchow has been advised to evacuate all women and children.

RAIL CHIEF'S DROWNING ACCIDENT

Death of Mitten, Traction King, While Fishing Stirs Leaders in Philadelphia

International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—The body of Thomas E. Mitten, the farmboy who rose to be the greatest street railway manager in the world, was brought to his Wissahickon estate at Roxborough early today.

He drowned in Lake Sunnyland on his palatial estate among the Pocono Mountains of Pike County, a few miles west and north of Milford, Pa., early yesterday. The exact time was fixed at 5:10 a. m. He had gone fishing alone in a rowboat. Several hours later the boat was discovered floating upside down. Dr. A. A. Mitten, his only child, was notified and rushed to the scene. Divers meanwhile had located the body and were bringing it ashore when the [illegible] arrived.

NEWS KEPT SECRET

Mitten arose early yesterday, as was his wont, and, heavily clothed went for a morning row and to do some fishing. His secretary, Miss Ellen Hynes, of Germantown, and a Japanese valet, who served as cook and housekeeper, were the only persons on the estate at the time.

It is believed that Mitten either fell overboard while changing to a seat in the stern of the boat to fish or suffered an attack of dizziness, which caused him to upset the craft. He was still clutching his fishing rod when the body was recovered.

"Accidental death from drowning," was the official verdict of Coroner J. Henry Ludwig, of Pike County. Dr. W. R. Shannon, of Milford, who made the medical examination, found the lungs saturated with water. He concurred in the finding of the coroner.

ACCIDENT EMPHASIZED

J. S. Terwilliger, editor of a Milford weekly, and a deputy coroner took cognizance of the possibility of gossip about the magnate's death being suicide. The authorities wish to emphasize "this is not a suicide," Terwilliger said.

"After obtaining all the facts surrounding the drowning of Mr. Mitten," he said, "it was evident to all who participated in the inquiry that it was an accidental death, and none of us, or Dr. Mitten, ever had any other thought."

News of the death of the traction king, financier and industrialist was kept secret until 4 p. m. yesterday. It was feared the news would cause pandemonium on the stock market, where more than $60,000,000 worth of stocks in the various Mitten enterprises are listed.

However, two-thirds of the stock of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Corporation, the most important of all the Mitten firms, is owned by Dr. Mitten or his close associates. The son is expected to succeed his father in all of the companies. He had been trained for this position for years and of late had assumed many of his father's cares. Daily consultations were held by father and son.

SOLITARY FIGURE

It was through Mr. Mitten's failure to call his son at an early hour yesterday that the tragedy was discovered. Dr. Mitten called the Mitten estate repeatedly and alarmed at being unable to get in touch with his father before 10 a. m. sent the valet to look for him.

He died as he had lived—a solitary figure. He always rode, fished or played golf alone.

News of his death astounded state and city political leaders, for the Mitten enterprises had carried Mitten deeply into the field of politics to further his business aims.

Mitten's labor theory, which resulted in him evolving "the Mitten plan," whereby employes became stockholders in his firms through stock bonuses and were permitted to buy other shares, made labor his friend.

He was insured for $1,000,000, but which firm will be benefitted by this huge sum is not known. He was 65, and was born in England.

TWO MINISTERS STRICKEN

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 2.—Two aged ministers were stricken with apoplexy today at the opening session of the conference of the Pittsburgh area, Methodist Episcopal Church.

They are the Rev. Dr. M. J. Sleppy, 87, of Library, Pa., retired, and the Rev. Charles H. Porter, 75, of Belsano, Cambria County.

Both are in Connellsville State Hospital. The condition of Dr. Sleppy is considered critical.

The one hundred and sixth annual conference of the church opened with a memorial service for deceased ministers and their wives. The Rev. C. C. Fisher, of Waynesburg, presided, and the eulogy was delivered by the Rev. H. D. Whitfield, of the Homewood Avenue Church, of Pittsburgh.

Ministers of the conference who died during the year were: Judson Jeffreys, Pittsburgh, superintendent of the Allegheny district; Rymon C. Wolf, retired, Homestead; John N. Bracken, retired, Manor; Preston C. Brooks, Star Junction; Lester A. White, retired, Washington, Pa.; J. D. W. Hazelton, retired, St Cloud, Fla.; A. C. Elliott, retired, Geneva, O.

The congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal Church last night held a reception in honor of Bishop and Mrs. Charles E. Locke and the conference guests. Attorney Fred E. Younkin delivered the address of welcome, and the Rev. T. G. Hicks, of McKeesport, superintendent of the McKeesport district, responded.

Old Rubbish Dump Increases Road Cost

Discovery of a rubbish dump in excavating for the Laketon road, Penn Township has made $8,400 worth of extra excavation work necessary, Director Norman F. Brown reported to the county commissioners at their meeting yesterday. The Borough of Wilkinsburg is sharing 50 per cent of the cost of the road and the $4,200 additional expenditure by the county was authorized by the commissioners.

Tombstone Falls On Man, Breaks Legs, Arm

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 2.—O. C. Minor, proprietor of a marble works located in Canonsburg, is in the hospital here suffering from injuries which resulted when he was caught under a falling tombstone which he was erecting in a Waynesburg cemetery.

Physicians say Minor suffered fractures of both legs and one arm, in addition to other hurts. The stone weighed two tons. Three men were required to move the stone from Minor's body.

No parking will be allowed at any time on the north side of Bausman street, from Brownsville road to Strawberry alley.

No parking will be allowed at any time on the west side of Short street, from Water street to Liberty avenue.

Clark also presented the following ordinances for new traffic rules that will not become effective until the legislation is passed finally by Council and signed by Mayor Charles H. Kline:

PERMANENT RULES

No parking any time on the east side of Market street from Water street to Fourth avenue; on both sides of Grant street from Second avenue to Water street; on both sides of Water street from Penn avenue to Ross street; on both sides of Thirty-first street from Penn avenue to Liberty avenue; on the south side of Reedsdale street from Galveston street to Allegheny avenue; on both sides of Carson street from Twenty-seventh street to a point 300 feet eastwardly.

North bound traffic only would be permitted on Bellefonte street from Walnut street to Ellsworth avenue; south bound traffic only would be permitted on Filbert street from Ellsworth avenue to Walnut street.

Two-way traffic would be restored on Thirty-first street from Liberty avenue to Penn avenue and on Penn avenue from Thirty-first to to Thirty-second street.

Girl's Long Hair Protects Neck From Cuts

BRIDGEPORT, O., Oct. 2.—Because Myrtle Sulek, 19, of Lafferty, doesn't have bobbed hair, she escaped bad cuts on the neck. While riding with W. D. Mahon, of St. Clairsville, and Mrs. Margaret Kelley, of Youngstown, on the Ohio River highway through West Wheeling, their machine was struck by that of Mrs. I. Goldinger, of Wheeling, W. Va. The impact caused Miss Sulek's head to be snapped through the glass in the rear window. A knot of hair saved her from injury. Mrs. Kelley fainted when the crash occurred.

PARK ENTRANCE BILLS UP

Director Edward G. Lang, of the Department of Public Works, has presented to Council four ordinances for the improvement of South Homewood avenue at the entrances to Frick Park and Homewood Cemetery and at the intersection of Edgerton avenue.

This connecting link, when graded, will permit a proposed entrance to Frick Park and also make Edgerton avenue a through street.

property in the Fourteenth Ward;

The legislation provides for the acceptance of the dedication of property in the Fourteenth Ward; for the vacating of Edgerton avenue from Robinson and Dickies Lang avenue plan of lots to a point 109 feet westwardly; and for the vacating of Edgerton avenue from South Homewood avenue to South Richland street.

CITY FACES SUIT OVER SIGNALS

Electric traffic signal lights recently installed throughout the city infringe on patents and may cause a damage suit, according to a letter submitted to Council by the Associated Factories Corporation, of Dallas, Tex.

The company claims to own the patents for the lights and expressed a willingness to negotiate license arrangements upon some mutually satisfactory basis.

The city was asked to reply whether it would discontinue the existing infringement until licensing contracts are executed.

If agreements are not concluded, the company threatened to proceed vigorously against all infringers.

Council probably will refer the letter to the law department and the safety department, the latter having installed the lights.

West Liberty Ave. Sidewalk Proposed

Residents and property owners have petitioned Council for the construction of a sidewalk on West Liberty avenue from Crimson street to Brookside avenue.

thorough investigation of lobbying activities in Washington.

By unanimous action it directed the judiciary committee, of which Senator George Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, is chairman, to conduct a sweeping probe of Washington's lobbying racketeers—who spent more than $10,000,000 a year to influence legislative and executive action in the capital.

The investigation was voted as the result of the Hearst newspapers' lobby expose.

Under present plans the committee will spend the next two or three weeks in organizing its investigation, preparatory to holding hearings.

Early yesterday the committee on audit and control had favorably reported the Caraway resolution, sponsored by Senator Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas. Just before the Senate recessed last evening Senator Deneen, Republican, of Illinois, reported the resolution favorably and moved its adoption. There was not a dissenting vote.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas it is charged that the lobbyists, located in and around Washington, filch from the American public more money under a false claim that they can influence legislation than the legislative branch of this government costs the taxpayer; and,

UNCLEAN DOLLARS

"Whereas the lobbyists seek by all means to capitalize for themselves every interest and every sentiment of the American public which can be made to yield an unclean dollar for their greedy pockets; therefore,

"Be it resolved that the committee on judiciary of the United States Senate or a sub-committee thereof to be appointed by the chairman of such committee, is empowered and instructed to inquire into the activities of these lobbying associations and lobbyists.

"To ascertain of what their activities consist, how much and from what source they obtain their revenues.

"How much of these moneys they expend and for what purpose and in what manner.

"What effort they put forth to affect legislation.

A resolution setting aside $10,000 for asphalt resurfacing on Mansfield avenue from Obey avenue to Crafton boulevard has been introduced.

SHEARER PAPER STIRS CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—Investigating senators and sensation-hunters alike were left free to ponder today on the maze of startling charges and counter-charges which have featured the interrogation of William Baldwin Shearer, "big navy" expert and propagandist, during the senatorial inquiry into his anti-disarmament activities.

With the investigation adjourned until after the departure of the British prime minister, J. Ramsay MacDonald, who arrives Friday on an official visit to President Hoover, the talk of the capital today was the alleged "sensational British document" which Shearer dramatically introduced yesterday.

BRANDED AS FORGERY

Branded as a "clumsy, absurd forgery" by Sir William Wiseman, the man whom Shearer accused of writing it, the document and its mysterious contents formed the subject for gossip in government and unofficial circles. Some expressions of regret were heard that the matter was brought up so shortly before Premier MacDonald was due to arrive here on a mission of peace and international good will.

For the document, which Shearer declared was written by Wiseman, former head of the British secret service here, to former Premier David Lloyd George of England, was characterized by the witness as anti-American in the extreme, and purported to reveal the alleged existence of an extensive British espionage system in the United States.

While the investigation chamber still rang from Shearer's demands that Wiseman be called here under oath to testify as to the genuineness of the document, a message was received from him which furnished a flat denial of Shearer's allegations.

In a lengthy message telephoned from New York, where he is now associated with the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Wiseman characterized the alleged document as downright forgery, and stated that Shearer's supposed revelation was "ancient history" so far as he was concerned.

CHARGE HALTS INQUIRY

He declared that the document had been printed over Shearer's signature in a New York newspaper known as the Gaelic American in January and February of this year and stated he wished to "record my formal denial that I either wrote or caused the document to be written."

The first knowledge he had of the document, Wiseman declared, was when a small pamphlet purporting to be a copy was called to his attention. He added that on the date when the document was supposed to have been written in New York, he was attending the peace conference at Paris.

Shearer's action in diverting the course of the inquiry toward the alleged spurious document is believed to have been largely instrumental in postponing the quiz until after Premier MacDonald departs. Mention of the alleged document has lent a decidedly uncomfortable international tone to the progress of the investigation, and it was admitted it would be awkward to have a senatorial inquiry into matters of this kind in progress while Premier MacDonald and President Hoover were discussing disarmament and peace in the White House nearby.

Two Etna Typists High in Contests

Two Etna High School girls have returned from the International Typewriting contest held at Toronto, Can., last week, where each made a creditable showing. Almira Hughes, 14, brought back a bronze medal, for winning third place in the school novice class. Unofficially she was said to have broken the speed record for novice typing, but errors affected her rating. Grace Phelan, 16, sophomore, the only school girl to participate in the amateur test, was tenth among 20 participants, school authorities reported.

'Raiding' Constable Ousted From Office

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 2.—Clarence I. Conner, who last spring became known as Greene County's "raiding constable" after numerous liquor raids, was shorn of his authority when he appeared for sentence on two separate charges of assault and battery and one of forcible entry. He was fined $5 and ordered to pay the costs of prosecution in each case.

Sanford Fox, a deputy employed by Conner, was fined $5 on a forcible-entry charge.

Mentally Unfit Deserve Knife, Says Expert

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Selective sterilization of the mentally unfit was urged by Dr. Harvey M. Watkins, superintendent of the Polk School for Feeble-Minded, in an address here before a luncheon meeting of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Watkins pointed out that such a course has been successful in California.

September Record Shows 23 Suicides

Of 248 deaths investigated by the coroner's office in September, 23 were suicides, according to the monthly report issued yesterday. Records show this to be the largest number of suicides in Allegheny County in any month since 1926.

The report shows 25 deaths resulted from automobile accidents, 13 from falls, 12 from burns and 20 from mill and railroad accidents, the remainder being the result of miscellaneous accidents.

Economy in money; in time; freedom from the worries and expense of property management; relief from the ever-perplexing servant problem—the urge behind these requirements produced the modern

High Type Apartment Residence

Schenley Apartments best typifies this class. This great living group is an extraordinary achievement in providing all the comforts, conveniences and luxuries possible in this advanced age and performing for its tenants the services such results exact.

A community of over 200 sumptuous homes would represent enormous investments—enormous expense. The combined service expense would be extremely heavy, to say nothing of upkeep . . .

So, too, is Schenley Apartments financially important, but co-operation on a scientific basis so distributes costs as to produce important savings to individual tenants.

If the large spacious house is becoming a problem in any manner whatsoever, the answer undoubtedly will be found in a comparison with the mode of living in this great residence group.

M'DONALD FOR NEW IDEALS

By NORMAN ANGELL, M. P.

(The writer, a journalist of international repute and close personal friend of Premier Ramsay MacDonald, accompanies the prime minister to America for his conferences with President Hoover as special correspondent for Universal Service.)

ABOARD S. S. BERENGARIA, WITH PREMIER MacDONALD, Oct. 2.—(Radio via Chatham, Mass.)—Prime Minister James Ramsay MacDonald is not only the first British premier to visit America for the purpose of conferring with an American president on Anglo-American problems, thus introducing quite a new diplomatic technic, but is the only diplomat ever undertaking such a mission who has such a democratic background and outlook. He stands definitely for new methods and a new viewpoint.

This was brought out by a combination of circumstances which threw the Premier into reminiscences with a British newspaperman yesterday before the entire corps of writers accompanying the British statesman.

REVEALS CHARACTER

The Prime Minister's contacts these last two days with his fellow passengers have not lacked piquancy in revealing a side of his character and life which has interest just now. When some difficulty about the baggage of the newspapermen accompanying him to Washington was mentioned, MacDonald reported:

"When I was a newspaperman, we didn't have any baggage."

At luncheon, he sat next to a British journalist of strongly Tory views; a man who was his opponent in an election more than 20 years ago, and who was with the Premier in the gallery of the House of Commons when both heard Gladstone introduce the Irish home rule bill. Thereupon followed reminiscences of early struggles. With this journalist, the Premier discussed his present visit, and talked affectionately of the country he has just left.

PRESENTS NEW ANGLE

All of which reminds one that it is certainly true to say that it is a new Britain which the Premier represents, and which he will endeavor to interpret to America.

It would be well for Americans to realize that however conservative Britain may be in some respects politically, recent years have seen enormous changes, with the whole basis of the empire transformed, and the transformations continuing before our eyes, as witness Egypt and Iraq, to mention only two cases with which the present government is dealing.

But Americans must remember that if a certain caution and slowness is manifested in responding to American proposals, it will be because Britain has to make any agreement with America acceptable, first to the three other powers at the naval conference in London in the coming January, and then to the general disarmament conference in Geneva.

GRETA GARBO'S FIRST TALKIE SOON TO BE FILMED IN HOLLYWOOD

By DOROTHY HERZOG
(Copyright, 1929, by Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, October 2.

Billie Dove's husband, Irvin Willat, departed for New York 'tother eve. On the same train was Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cleary—May McAvoy, to be sure. In Arizona, or thereabouts, the train came to a stop that lasted for 16 hours. Reason: Washouts. There have been several cloudbursts, or rains almost as bad, in that section of the country. Hence, train schedules have taken a back seat until an army of hustling workers repair track damages. The Fox company has a troupe in Arizona, shooting exteriors for a picture featuring Helen Chandler. Seems they are among those marooned by sobbing skies.

Billie Dove

WELL, AND WELL!

This is pinned on an elderly producer. A young author, keen to get in his good graces, wrote to ask if he might be allowed to dedicate his new novel to said E. P. The E. P. letter-ed back he was delighted.

"What time," he asked, "is the dedication and what clothes should I wear?"

'Sfunny.

Now you know it's silly. "They" wanted a heavy for the Spanish version of Eddie Dowling's new picture, "Blaze o'Glory." Jose Bohr, Argentine's favorite, who is to portray the Dowling role in Spanish, was asked to find the right heavy. Said heavy had to speak Spanish with a German accent. That's amazing enough. But—after umpty ump interviews, Bohr found his man and bless your heart he was a Greek! Um, it's a funny bizness.

'Anna Christie' Gets Under Way

CLARENCE BROWN expects to call rehearsals today for Greta Garbo's initial vocaloid, "Anna Christie." George Marion will portray the father role he created on the stage and also in the earlier picturization of Eugene O'Neill's play. Charlie Bickford is slated to be the Garbo's man in the reels. That is, if he completes his current talky in time. There is some doubt about this. In which case Director Brown will have to get another leading man. As you probably remember, the late William Russell scored in this role in the Ince version.

Greta Garbo

Considerable interest is being evinced in Greta Garbo's first outloud. According to the M. G. M. folk, "Anna Christie" will be among the big offerings of the new year.

Beatrice Lillie departed the colony en route to Merrie England. Reason: She's taking her small son home to school. The Lillie of the footlights declared she would return to Flickburg early in November. She comiked in "Show of Shows" during her few months' sojourn here. Further work was mucked by the now demised Equity strike.

Langdon Busy In Two-Reelers

THEIR REAL NAME DEPARTMENT: Beverly Bayne—Pearl Bain.

SCREENALITIES: Mr. and Mrs. Tay Garnett (Patsy Ruth Miller, of course) dropped in at the Carthay Circle Theater 'tother eve to see Will Rogers' amusing talky, "They Had to See Paris" . . . Winnie Lightner will be the honor guest at the Roosevelt shindig tomorrow eve. By the by, Darryl Zanuck tells me that because of her wow-ish performance in "Gold Diggers of Broadway" she is to be a Vitaphone star. Darryl opines she is a "female Al Jolson." . . . Betty Bronson and her family have leased and moved into a Bev Hills home . . . Dorothy Sebastian has become a bowling enthusiast. She should challenge Adolphe Menjou . . . Harry Langdon is powerfully busy and mighty happy these days making two-reel outlouds for Hal Roach. Didst know that he is a stepfather? Um, the new Mrs. Langdon is the mother of two girls, aged 13 and 14, by a previous marriage . . . And—that's all.

Melody, Comedy In Bills of Next Week

"Luckee Girl," musical comedy coming to the Shubert Alvin next week, has had extended runs in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston. The opening performance Monday night will take place in Syria Mosque. Beginning Tuesday evening "Luckee Girl" will appear at the Alvin. The sale will open tomorrow morning.

The seat sale opens tomorrow in the box office of the Nixon for "A Connecticut Yankee," which returns for a week's engagement opening Monday evening, October 7, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

"What Anne Brought Home," next week's presentation of the George Sharp players in the Shubert Pitt, is a story dealing with home life of the average American and concerns a young married couple. The husband, to be portrayed by Kenneth Daigneau, is "what Anne brought home."

Mystery

Sojin, Chinese actor, suggests mysticism by his very appearance. He is prominent in "The Unholy Night," photoplay in the Penn.

Motor Car Casting Director Latest In Moviedom

A casting director for automobiles, who chooses and hires different makes of cars just as a regular casting director hires human actors is the latest department of the screen studio.

This is the job held by Max Kernfeldt, transportation head at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, who passed upon "types" of cars used in pictures, and locates any unusual cars needed.

Last week Kernfeldt had to locate no less than 20 French cars, including an antiquated European bus that matched one used at Sidi-Belle-Abbes, the African headquarters for the French Foreign Legion.

These cars will be used in the North African scenes in "The "Bugle Sounds," George Hill's forthcoming all talking story or life with the Legion, in which Ernest Torrence, Wallace Beery, Karl Dane and others of note will appear.

The new picture, part of which was filmed by Hill in Africa with the actual Legion in action, is a filmization of Maj. Zinovi Pechkoff's famous book of life in Morocco with the French outpost force. More than 2,000 people will appear in the major scenes of the big production.

Silver Slipper Stars In Radio Broadcast

Dick Ware, master of ceremonies in the Silver Slipper, new night club in the Kenyon Theater Building, and Margie Nelson, blues singer, will present a musical program over KQV at 11 o'clock tonight. Tomorrow night Ware's "Theatrical Night," a regular weekly feature, will be observed in the Silver Slipper.

Bees Swarm on Gen. Greene's Statue

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 2.—Gen. Nathaniel Greene, Revolutionary War leader, proved a real soldier again today, when honey bees swarmed in the hat held by the general on his lofty perch atop the Greene County Court House.

After buzzing menacingly about his head for several minutes, the bees finally settled in the general's three-cornered chapeau.

14 Routed as Fire Destroys 4 Homes

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Fourteen persons were rendered homeless last night by fire which destroyed four houses and threatened the town of Shepherdstown, near here. The blaze spread rapidly and only the concentration of 11 fire companies from surrounding communities prevented the flames from sweeping through the town. Mrs. Mary Martin, an 80-year-old occupant of one of the houses destroyed, was taken from her home by neighbors when the fire was discovered.

KONJOLA PROVED DEADLY FOE TO DREAD NEURITIS

Pittsburgh Man Relates Fine Experience With New and Different Medicine.

Here is abundant cheer and hope for all who suffer from neuritis and who may fear there is no relief for them from the pangs of this dread disease. Konjola, the new and different medicine, is daily winning victory after victory over this ailment.

MR. GEORGE MILLER

At the same time this supreme remedy has proved supreme in the obstinate and stubborn cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles and rheumatism and nervousness. You can get all the facts about this medicine, you can learn what it means to you in your search for health and you can learn what it has done for countless local men and women from the two Konjola Men in Pittsburgh. One is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, and the other is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Diamond and Smithfield Streets, Pittsburgh. Do not expect promises, claims or theories, for they will tell you only the true, verified facts about this medicine. Hear what Konjola has done and then profit from the experience of others. Take for a typical example of Konjola at work the case of Mr. George Miller, 237 Paul Street, Mt. Washington, Pittsburgh, who said to a Konjola Man a few days ago:

"Let me tell you of my amazing experience with Konjola and then you judge for yourself as to its merits. If Konjola were tried in the first place there surely would be much suffering escaped.

"Neuritis and rheumatism had been the bane of my life for many, many years. The pains were so severe that often I thought I would be unable to bear them any longer. My muscles and joints became so sore and stiff that it was practically impossible for me to move. I could not raise my arms above my head. My kidneys were also in a weakened condition and during the night my sleep was disturbed four or five times. Nervousness was the natural result and as the days passed my condition rapidly became worse.

"Desperately I sought the right medicine for my case. All I tried failed me. I was ready to give up hope when I read how Konjola had benefited a man with ailments similar to mine. Wisely I reasoned that what Konjola had done for others it would do for me. I secured several bottles and started the treatment. That was the turning point. Daily the pains became less severe and then like magic they vanished. Then Konjola strengthened my kidneys and made it possible for me to sleep soundly through the night; every night. Today I feel like a different person and I owe all my glorious health to Konjola. No wonder it is known as the world's finest medicine."

It is said that no sufferer can afford not to give Konjola a trial. It is a medicine for all the people, young and old. And what it has done for others it will do for you.

There is a Konjola Man at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, and one at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Diamond and Smithfield Streets, Pittsburgh, where they are meeting the public, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine. There is also a Konjola Man at the Dow Drug Store, 5939 Penn Avenue East Liberty.

CORRECT FUEL FOR YOUR MOTOR

Immense facilities for obtaining the right types of crude and refining it in huge quantities make it possible to bring to you this genuinely extra-powered Atlantic Gasoline without extra cost. Deep, scientific research has done something more. . . . It has put correctness into it—the most important of all motor fuel qualities. New-type Atlantic gives up its power at the right time—not too quickly, not too slowly. That accounts for its marvelously smooth, "knockless" combustion. Proper balance and absolute cleanness make ignition certain at all throttles and temperatures. That explains its amazingly easy starting and its ready response on acceleration. With all this, Atlantic is so complete-burning that maximum mileage is inevitable and carbon and valve grinding are forgotten relics. . . . ATLANTIC GASOLINE —the most thoroughly efficient all-round fuel your motor has ever known—and the greatest money value in the field!

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

RADIO CONTEST VOTES POUR IN

With thousands of votes pouring in with every mail, the lead in the movie popularity contest being conducted by Warner Brothers theaters and the Keps Electric Company changes every few hours.

Alice White, who held the lead by a handsome margin yesterday, fell into second place today for Al Jolson. Dorothy Mackail, Dolores Costello, Jack Mulhall and Richard Barthelmess follow the two leaders closely. Other Warner Brother artists are tightly bunched in the balloting.

Votes to count in this week's contest must be polled by Thursday midnight. Prize winners for the first week will be announced in Sunday's Sun-Telegraph. Details of the contest appear in the Temple Radio advertisement today.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Allderdices To Give Bud Luncheon

PESSIMISTS who insist that the melancholy days are here, and that all this talk about October's bright blue weather is inane, are feeling a bit gleeful today, with one of those persistent all-day fall rains beating down monotonously upon the city. But rains may come and rains may go, but society folks keep right on planning interesting things to do, rain or shine.

Today I've quite a variety of things to tell you about. First of all, there are some new debut plans. The Taylor Allderdices will give a luncheon in the family home on Wednesday, October 23, to present their daughter Nancy. The guests will be debutantes of the season.

And Dr. and Mrs. Robert Milligan, of Edgeworth and Pittsburgh, have decided to give a tea to present to society their daughter, Peggy. They will give the tea in their Irwin avenue residence on Wednesday, December 4.

MANY social gatherings in the fall are associated with hunt trials and fox hunts. I happen to know that the T. M. Girdlers, of Sewickley, will give a hunt supper and dance in their home on Saturday evening.

NEWS has just reached me of an engagement you'll be interested in learning about. The Henry Grant Wassons, of Devonshire street, announce the betrothal of their daughter, Helen Garrison Hawman, to Allyn Bellamy Whaley, of Pittsburgh, formerly of Toronto, Canada.

And I know of still another engagement, which hasn't been announced yet in Pittsburgh. The Stephen Beaumont Sheldons, of St. Louis, have made known the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen, to Bernard Horne, Jr., of Pittsburgh and Princeton, N. J., son of Bernard Horne, Sr., of Princeton, N. J.

IN the First Presbyterian Church of New Brighton, on Saturday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock, Miss Laura Merrick Darragh, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hart Darragh, of New Brighton, was married to Paul LaTour McConnell, son of Mrs. Lucia McConnell, of Beaver. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Stockton Axtel before the altar, which was decorated with Easter lilies and tall white tapers.

The bride was gowned in her mother's wedding dress of ivory taffeta and lace, with her veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried Easter lilies. To and from the church, she wore her great-grandmother's lace cape. Miss Charlotte Darragh, her sister, as maid of honor, wore lace over pink chiffon and carried lavender dahlias. The matron of honor, Mrs. L. D. Houck, of Cleveland, wore fuchsia chiffon and carried pale yellow dahlias. Daniel W. Talbott, of Beaver, was best man, and Frank Hart Darragh, Jr., and J. Eugene McConnell were ushers.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the Darragh home. Later the bride and bridegroom left for New York, from where they will sail October 2, for Paris, on the La-Bourdonnais.

IN St. Paul's Cathedral this morning at 11 o'clock, Miss Miriam Frances Friday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Friday, of Woodwell street, became the bride of Harry Nicholas Kransz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Kransz, of Sheridan road, Chicago. The Rev. John F. Enright, of St. Bede's Church, officiated. All the vivid fall colors were used in the decorations at the church, and at the Pittsburgh Field Club where, after the ceremony, a small reception was held.

The bride's gown was of cream empress satin, with a train falling from the waist, and her veil of cream net held by silver and pearls. She carried calla lilies. Miss Ruth Friday, cousin of the bride, wore Parnasse velvet, in the new deep purple shade, cut princess style. Her hat was of matching velvet, and she carried dahlias and chrysanthemums in orchid shades.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Cyrus H. Neuses, of Chicago, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in parchment satin and carried varicolored dahlias and chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Miss Marion Keating, Mrs. Eugene Flannery, of Philadelphia; Miss Dorothy Dunlevy and Miss Mildred Friday, wore similar gowns.

The best man was Cyrus H. Neuses, of Chicago, and the ushers, Harry Drake, Vincent Shekelton, Hans Grieser, Paul Malaney, all of Chicago; Raymond Reiss, of New York, and Paul J. Friday, of Pittsburgh.

Later, at the Field Club, covers for 36 were laid on the horseshoe-shaped bridal table, placed before a wall drop of pale green satin. Dahlias formed the centerpiece.

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made of the marriage of Miss Verdith Hilda Whited, of Pittsburgh, daughter of Caleb Whited, of Six Mile Run, Pa., to Walter Warren McCafferty, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. McCafferty, of Pittsburgh, which was solemnized Saturday morning, September 28, at 9 o'clock, in the First Baptist Church, Bayard and Bellefield streets, Pittsburgh, by the Rev. C. Wallace Petty.

Miss Odessa Scott, of Swissvale, a niece, as maid of honor, wore blue chiffon, and carried Ward roses. Harold Edmundson, of Du Bois, was best man.

A breakfast at Webster Hall Hotel, followed the ceremony, with covers laid for 16. Later, Mr. and Mrs. McCafferty left for a motor trip through Shenandoah Valley and eastern cities. They will be at home in Churchland avenue, East End, after October 15.

THIS morning the marriage of Miss Blanche M. Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Boyle, of Avondale place, to Francis M. Keane, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Keane, of Bellaire, O., was solemnized in the Church of St. Raphiel, the Rev. John J. Keane, of Iowa, brother of the bridegroom, officiating.

The bride wore a dark blue chiffon velvet ensemble and carried bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Marie Boyle, in brown chiffon velvet. She carried roses. J. A. Keane, of Bellaire, served his brother as best man.

After their return from a honeymoon in the East, Mr. and Mrs. Keane will be at home in Cornell avenue, West View.

Club Works On Gravure Project

THE College Club, true to form, is working with unity and enthusiasm in its newest undertaking, that of publishing the December 1 gravure section of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. While this sort of thing has been done by women's organizations in other cities, the College Club is Pittsburgh's pioneer, and under Mrs. F. F. Rohrer's chairmanship has mapped out a campaign that speaks well for the vision and efficiency of the workers and augurs with equal eloquence for their success. Fifty-five team workers are already in the field and more are being added to the ranks.

Mrs. Nathaniel Spear, one of the early members of the club, was hostess yesterday at the weekly buffet luncheon in her home, Northumberland street. Selling points, contacts, prospects, approaches and all the pros and cons and whys and wherefores of the campaign were discussed at the business meeting which preceded the luncheon.

The undertaking is designed to pay off the bonded indebtedness, assumed when the clubhouse in Craig street was acquired ten years ago at a cost of $50,000.

THE year book of the New Century Club of Indiana is paying its maiden visit to the club editor's desk, bringing information concerning a season of varied interest. A tea next Monday afternoon in the Presbyterian Church chapel will inaugurate the year and for it the executive board members will serve as hostesses.

A business meeting is scheduled for October 21. November's first session will be known as library night, Miss Erma Cunningham directing a benefit play for the Indiana Free Library the night of November 18. Mrs. R. Bruce Kendig will discuss "The Nation's Greatest Asset—Its Children," and Miss Florence Wallace will give a travelogue in December. Then in the new year will come another business meeting and a talk on "The House of My Dreams," by Mrs. M. M. Redenbaugh, other programs on "Musical Appreciation," "Alaska and the Northwest," a garden talk, "Ireland" and the annual business meeting with which the club closes in March.

Mrs. Adam P. Lowry is president; the vice presidents are Mrs. H. I. Johnson, Mrs. Mary B. Rhodes and Mrs. C. Gilbert Wolfenden; Miss Florence Wallace is recording, and Mrs. J. T. Stewart, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. E. B. Race is treasurer.

MRS. J. F. MOORE, new president of the Brookline Woman's Civic Club, was inducted into office yesterday afternoon at the reception given by the club in the Brookline Methodist Episcopal Church. The club choral sang and there were solos by Mrs. H. F. Hanks, numbers by a trio from Dormont New Century Club and soprano solos by Mrs. Emory D. Johnson, the program also including a talk on "Library and Community," by Miss Eugenia Brunot, a description of her Mediterranean cruise by Mrs. Edward C. Sykes and readings by Mrs. Norval R. Daugherty. The social committee members were hostesses during the tea hour and the public welfare committee members served as ushers.

HIGHER WAISTLINE AND LONGER SKIRT BRING LOWER DECOLLETAGE

Sketched in Paris

THE Princess de Faucighy-Lucinge is one of the most important clients of Lenief, and it was for her that he designed the lovely afternoon ensemble here shown. The fabric is a lightweight silk and wool mixture in beige. The full length coat has circular godets at each side edged with beige fox, and this fur trims the sleeves in the same manner.

Flowers or Bow Often Placed At Back

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

PARIS, Oct. 1.—Out where the waist begins is one of the favorite points on which to pose the trimming of an evening frock. And for those who approve of the great open spaces, there are, this season, frocks which support that approval. For many of the newest models have decolletages that are not only "V," but capital "V" in cut. And flowers or a large bow are often placed at the base of the back decolletage, to indicate that it really has come to an end. Needless to say, this fashion is heartily indorsed by the possessors of beautiful backs, but it will no doubt also be worn by those not so fortunately endowed. The mirror of fashion must sometimes be rather cloudy, for so many accentuate their defects by their choice of raiment, instead of bringing out their good points. And a little attention to the mode will help us to make the best of ourselves in a subtly distinctive manner.

ONE of the loveliest of Worth's new creations is the evening gown that he has named "Camelia," of course, in white. The close fitting bodice is of white tulle beaded in crystal, and the full flaring skirt is of plain white tulle. While fairly long in front, the skirt reaches quite to the heels behind. At the base of the very deep décolletage in the back is posed a huge black velvet bow with many loops and trailing ends. The front as well as the back of the bodice is "V" shaped.

Both new and intriguing is the graceful cut out leaf design which trims both the bodice and the tiered skirt. A whimsical touch is added by the odd little flower on the shoulder at the very top of the sleeves.

THE regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Morningside School, to be held Thursday evening, October 3, will be in the nature of a memorial service for Miss Eulalia A. Greves, former principal of the school. R. H. Henderson, principal of Woolslair school, where Miss Greves taught for 15 years, will deliver an address; Miss Stella M. Burgo will read a poem, and two hymns will be sung by Paul K. Harper. The invocation will be by the Rev. W. R. McGeary, of the Second United Presbyterian Church; Scripture will be read by the Rev. E. W. Byers, of the Morningside Presbyterian Church, and the closing prayer and benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. S. T. Brown, of the Forty-third Street Presbyterian Church. Mrs. J. F. Virgin, president of the organization, will bring a tribute on behalf of the parents of the community. Mrs. Walter R. Toerge is in charge of the serivce.

A TALK by the president, Mrs. J. M. Simpson, on "A World Cruise," which the members will take during their course of study this year, was a feature of president's day held yesterday by the Bellevue Woman's Literary Club. Mrs. W. R. Murphy, of Teece avenue, was hostess. In addition to Mrs. Simpson's talk, the program included violin solos by Miss Grace McBride, who has just returned from five years' European study. She was accompanied by Miss Editha Weikal.

THIS announcement is of paramount importance to firms or individuals confronted with the problem of preserving perishable foods in large quantities. After years of research in its laboratories, General Electric has perfected a line of commercial refrigerators radically different and more efficient.

An entirely new type. Now, for the first time it is possible to buy as one complete unit a cabinet and refrigerating mechanism specifically designed for each other—working together for greatest efficiency at lowest operating cost.

These new refrigerators embody all the vital features of superiority found in the General Electric household models—of which more than 350,000 are in use today, and not one owner has spent a single dollar for service or repairs.

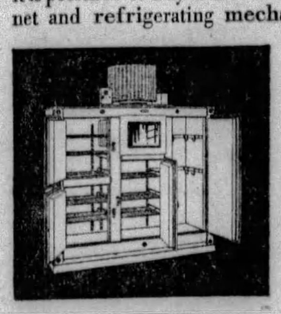
Merchants and architects are invited to become acquainted with the various models of the new General Electric Commercial Refrigerator and their outstanding merits.



SEVEN VITAL POINTS OF SUPERIORITY

1 Easy to install—because the cabinet and the refrigerating mechanism are completely combined in one unit.

2 Greater storage capacity per square foot of floor area because all the mechanism is on top, out of the way, instead of taking up valuable space elsewhere.

3 Requires no attention. The mechanism is simple, quiet, hermetically sealed in a steel casing . . . trouble-free, dust-proof, self-defrosting, never needs to be oiled.

4 Maximum efficiency and greatest economy of practical operation.

5 Completely sanitary and easy to clean.

6 Self-defrosting evaporator which minimizes dehydration, reducing shrinkage of meats and other foods.

$13,500 HOLDUP LAID TO SUICIDE

LEHARS, Ia., Oct. 2.—(INS.)—Rex Frolkey, preacher, football star and former radio station owner, who committed suicide following his arrest for robbing the Sioux Center State Bank, was identified as the man who held up the Orange City National Bank last summer, obtaining loot of $13,500.

The identification of Frolkey, who was 28 years old, and rated as a wealthy landowner, was made yesterday by G. C. Banks, assistant cashier of the Orange City Bank, and two other employes who were in the bank when it was held up.

Frolkey's body was to be taken to Kearney, Neb., today for burial beside his first wife.

Banish PIMPLY Sallow Skin

Lift the Ugly Veil of Blemishes

Beneath the surface lies radiant complexion beauty, ready and waiting to give the charm of glowing health to the skin—clear, silken, soft, fine-textured and warmly colored—just as soon as the basic cause of blemishes is removed. Stuart's Calcium Wafers correct this cause.

Pimples, acne, sallowness, blotches, and dull, pasty complexions all too frequently result from intestinal stasis—an internal sluggishness that poisons the entire system. A toxic blood-stream feeds impurities to the skin tissues. Infections and blemishes flourish. Such a condition is septic, and bodily resistance is low. Disease finds a septic system easy prey.

Correction is easy—if the condition is recognized. But septics seldom know. No one will tell you of a fetid breath or body odor. But your mirror will reveal these skin blemishes—Nature's signals of a septic system.

Three Days Will Work A Marvelous Change

Try this week-end test: A few tiny calcium wafers (Stuart's) will supply the elements that Nature needs. Speedily everything will be made sweet and clean, inside as well as out. A purified blood-stream will show immediately. Eyes Bright! Skin Clear—soft, smooth and warm with color! Let one dime open this easy way to skin beauty and health.

"Paris Proposes Raised Waistlines For All Times of Day"

Says Harper's Bazar

On practically every Autumn frock the waistline comes up for attention . . . comes up to normal. Sometimes it is frankly defined by belt or the cut of the fabric. At other times the waistline is only suggested by the ingenious shirrings and a mere shadow of curve. RIVER-RAIL PROJECT READY FOR COUNCIL IN 2 WEEKS

SIDE WALKS of PITTSBURGH

by HAVEY J. BOYLE

Havey J. Boyle

VOLUNTEER preachers prefer Diamond street, near Smithfield, for their ministrations to the faithful, the curious and the faithless who stand in a circle and listen to the lay preacher's conceptions of what is wicked in this life, confident predictions of what is to come in the mysterious beyond.

They seem to be the happiest of men, the street corner exhorters. That through the week they work hard is shown by yellow callouses on their hands, grease that lurks on the fingers in spite of much scrubbing.

A peaceful calm settles over them as they look heavenward, and a scowl comes only when referring to infamous Satan and all his works.

A tattered book of prayer is held aloft to emphasize certain bits of dogma. Serious men and women, a part of the entourage, shake solemn heads in agreement when the world and the flesh and the devil are denounced in ringing tones.

To leave the religious atmosphere for a moment, in fact to jump to the extreme: Lee Tracy, who plays Hildy Johnson in "The Front Page," just came into the office to visit his friend, Quin Hall, the cartoonist. Tracy certainly didn't look strange in a newspaper office. He looks more the reporter off-stage than an actor. It is pleasant to talk to a man whose work you admire. He rolled me into the aisle when he played the hoofer in "Broadway," and he leaves nothing to be desired as the reporter in "The Front Page."

TRACY is in his early thirties and has traveled the usual route to stardom—small bits in vaudeville playlets, stock, and finally the lead in two of the biggest hits of recent years.

As you know, the play is all about newspapermen and is not highly flattering to the guild. As in every play, there is exaggeration, but there is sufficient truth in the picture to allow every reporter to see in the characters some of the men he has worked with at different times. Some newspapermen drink, swear and talk racy, as I suppose is the case among a few other lines of work.

I can see but one dangerous circumstance in the play. I'm afraid that after some of the young reporters see how the stage reporters act they will imagine that is the way they will have to conduct themselves. Thus a young reporter, anxious to be a typical newspaperman and who is now attending vespers quite regularly, will take to strong drink and swearing after "The Front Page" manner. I'm sure that if Mr. McArthur and Mr. Hecht, the authors, had considered this awful danger to the future Horace Greeleys they would have shut the show down in the midst of its highly profitable run.

LEE TRACY, by the way, is a Pennsylvanian, hailing from Wilkes-Barre. He started out to do something for the railroads of the country after he left high school, but seeing the roads were in pretty good condition, he gave up that work and took to the stage.

MILLIONAIRES FIGHT SMALL HOUSE PLAN

Society Leader Heads List of Objectors to Sub-Division In East End Mansion Zone

Millionaire neighbors objected today to the plan of S. Lando, real estate dealer, to erect a number of comparatively modest houses, standing back only 15 feet from Fifth avenue, on the William Larimer Jones property at the southwest corner of Fifth and Murrayhill avenues.

Mrs. W. Harry Brown, society leader of Pittsburgh and London, whose Pittsburgh "castle" stands at the southeast corner of Fifth and Murrayhill, registered opposition.

OTHERS TO PROTEST

Attorney Frank S. Delp, of the law office of Calvert, Thompson & Berger, counsel for the W. Harry Brown estate, called at the office of the Board of Adjustment and said he would like to be heard in opposition to Lando's application. It was indicated that a number of other prominent and wealthy residents of Fifth avenue would also be represented in objection to Lando's scheme.

When a hearing was held on the application by the Board of Adjustment on Monday no opponents appeared, and the opinion was offered that the rich residents of the neighborhood were reconciled to a change in the character of the locality. Many of them, it was suggested, contemplated removing their homes to the exclusive Fox Chapel district back of Aspinwall.

It developed today, however, that the lack of opposition on Monday was due to the fact that Lando's plan was not generally known.

MAY GO TO PLAN BOARD

He had to go before the Board of Adjustment because he desired to be excused from compliance with the zoning ordinance which requires that houses at that point shall sit back 30 feet from Fifth avenue.

He now plans, it is understood, to take the matter up with the City Planning Commission.

He said at the hearing Monday that his purchase of the William Larimer Jones property was contingent on his obtaining permission to subdivide the land and erect the houses as planned.

The Board of Adjustment, it was said, probably will not announce a decision on the application for several weeks.

WIFE SHOT, MAN HELD FOR COURT

Joseph Elliott, 65, of Woodville, was held for court on a charge of felonious shooting by Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Moral's Court today in connection with the shooting of his divorced wife on the night of June 10.

The former wife, Mrs. Nellie V. Walton, of 108 East Park way, North Side, testified that while he was attempting a reconciliation he pulled a revolver from his pocket and shot her five times. The shooting occurred in a taxicab. Elliott said he did not remember the shooting.

Patrolman Joseph Schmidt, the arresting officer, testified that immediately after Mrs. Walton was shot, Elliott told him he "was sorry that I did not shoot her a couple of times more."

Asks City to Pay Damage Done By Golf Ball

John A. Samuels, of 601 Carnegie Building, has asked Council to authorize payment of compensation for damage to his automobile as a result of being hit by a golf ball driven from the Schenley Park links on last September 7.

Samuels stated that the finish of his car was damaged to the extent of $10 and that he should be repaid for that amount at least, if not for his loss of time, his trouble and "discomfiture at the marring of my automobile."

RAIL TERMINAL TOUR PLANNED

Inspection trips to the various rail terminals in the Greater Pittsburgh district will be made October 25, under the auspices of the Shippers' Council of the Chamber of Commerce immediately after the celebration of the Industrial Progress pageant.

A special train will carry the party, which will have as its purpose a visualization of the railroads' part in providing adequate terminal facilities for freight traffic.

The train will go from the Federal street station of the Pennsylvania Railroad to Aspinwall, to East Liberty, Braddock, East Pittsburgh, Wilmerding, Pitcairn and back through East Pittsburgh to Mifflin via the Union Railroad; Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railroad to Pittsburgh, West End; Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad to McKees Rocks; Chartiers and Youghiogheny Railroad to Buff's Junction. Pennsylvania to North Side and Millvale and then over the Baltimore and Ohio to Glenwood and the Water street station. A committee on arrangements is working out the itinerary. Donald C. Moore is chairman.

LEFT AT ALTAR, GETS DIVORCE

Deserted immediately after the wedding ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Margaret W. O'Brien, 20, of 234 Oakland avenue, was granted a divorce from Henry L. O'Brien, 1325 Bluff street, in a decree handed down in Common Pleas Court by Judge Elder W. Marshall.

Mrs. O'Brien testified they were married February 25, 1926, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. She said she went directly to her home as her husband had some business to take care of and was to make some reservations.

When he did not come home at 7 o'clock for dinner and to tell her mother they were married, as they had arranged, she waited until 9 o'clock and telephoned his home and everywhere she thought she might find him, without any success, according to her testimony. She said she finally got in touch with him the next morning, that he was curt and indifferent and told her that after he left her the previous afternoon he realized he had made a terrible mistake. He did not return, she testified.

Driver of Death Auto Given Year

Pleading guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter in Criminal Court yesterday, Harold Doriot, of East End avenue, was sentenced to serve one year in the workhouse by Judge Frank Patterson. On June 8 last, James B. Lynch, 20, a student, of 1911 Remington avenue, who was riding in an automobile with Doriot, was killed when the machine struck a porch on Greendale street. Doriot told the court he had stolen the car and was intoxicated at the time Lynch met his death. Lynch was in no way implicated in the theft, Doriot said, he having been asked by the defendant to go for a ride, unaware that the automobile had been stolen.

T. J. Bonaros Estate Left to Relatives

Thomas J. Bonaros, of 344 Melwood street, disposed of a $20,000 estate by his will filed for probate today. He leaves a life interest in the home at that address to his wife, the property later to go to two daughters, Helen and Minnie Bonaros. Two sons, John and Charles Bonaros, are given the business known as the Victory Coffee Company, 100 West Erie street, with the recommendation that $5,000 stock be given to Thomas Kricus, an employe. The Dollar Savings and Trust Company, North Side, is named executor.

F. B. Malone Made County Detective

Former City Detective Frank B. Malone, of the Ninth Ward, today began service as a county detective, to fill a vacancy of several months' standing caused by the resignation of Benson McWilliams. District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner presented Malone's name to Judge Harry H. Rowand in Criminal Court, recommending the appointment. Upon it being approved by the judge, the oath was administered to Malone by Clerk William Fairman.

COUNCIL VOTES $60,000 FOR JUBILEE

River, Light Celebrations Will See Buildings and Bridges Brightly Decorated

Council has pledged $60,000 toward the expenses of the Golden Jubilee of Light and the Ohio River canalization celebration from October 17 to 26.

On motion of President James F. Malone, Council agreed to give $25,000 to the citizens committee in charge of the joint celebration, and to allow additional money up to $35,000 to finance the decoration of bridges and buildings.

MAY ENTER BOAT

The city also will consider a proposal to provide a suitable float and perhaps entering a boat in the Pittsburgh-to-Cairo pageant.

The citizens committee, including W. S. Linderman, A. L. Humphrey, Alexander W. Dann and F. R. Phillips, advised Council that the county commissioners had pledged $65,000 for the celebration.

A special flood light system which will illuminate the Philadelphia Company Building during the Jubilee week, will be inspected tonight by delegates attending the convention of the Engineering Section of the National Electric Light Association.

NOVEL ILLUMINATION

The lighting system is said to be the first of its kind in this country. The system is composed of 22 specially designed lighting units, each containing one 1,500 watt and one 500 watt unit. The rays form pillars of light to the top of the building.

Pittsburgh and 26 other American cities will participate in the light jubilee, commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the perfection of the electric light globe by Thomas A. Edison. The local celebration is under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

LANG SISTERS GO TO CHINA

Miss Mary P. Lang and Miss Ella C. Lang, of 1802 Wynhurst street, sisters of Director Edward G. Lang, of the Department of Public Works, will sail October 10 for China on the S. S. President Wilson.

Miss Mary had been a professor in Allegheny High School and a teacher in North Side grade schools for 51 years previous to her retirement last June 30.

She has accepted a position as professor of English and geography in the University of Shanghai and will teach for a year without salary.

Miss Ella will engage in civic work in Shanghai along lines similar to the duties that have occupied her attention in Pittsburgh for many years.

The sisters were guests of honor at a dinner last night in the Congress of Women's Clubs. The hosts were 41 relatives, including brothers and sisters, nieces and nephews and grandnieces and grandnephews.

After working a year in Shanghai, Miss Mary and Miss Ella will make a world tour that will take another year.

Commissioners Buy Old Truck for Park

The county commissioners authorized the purchase of a used derrick truck to cost $750 for use in moving stone in South Park in connection with building operations there.

The truck is available at such a low price, Paul B. Riis, director of parks explained, because it had been turned in to the White Motor Company by the Bell Telephone Company and resold by them to Bennett Brothers.

STRIKERS AGAIN SEEK CONFAB

Representatives of 100 striking employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad produce yards, Pike and Twenty-first streets, today renewed attempts for a conference with officials of the road. Marvin Barger, chairman of the strikers, said that efforts to obtain a conference yesterday failed.

The men, all platform employes, demand an increase from 48 to 70 cents an hour, an eight-hour day, six days a week, with time and a half for overtime, and double time for Sundays and holidays.

MIFFLIN PUPILS' TUITION PAID

Six Mifflin Township school children were assured seats in the Baldwin Township schools for the present team, when their last term present term, when their last term ter school board at its meeting last night. The children's ousting was threatened because of nonpayment of tuition.

A delegation of Becks run district citizens, which constitutes the first district of Baldwin Township, requested the board to build a schoolhouse in that locality. At present their children attend Pittsburgh schools. The board assured the delegation that the request would be considered.

A contract for the erection of a disposal plant at the new McGibney School was awarded to the Superior Pump and Sanitation Company, Inc., for $2,100.

Luster Street Man Files Damage Claim

G. May Hill has submitted to Council a claim for damage to property at 4526 Luster street, that was caused by the filling of Shady avenue.

Absent 17 Years, Man Returns For Legacy

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 2.—(A.P.)—William Aruland returned to Erie yesterday after an absence of 17 years, during which time he had traveled to many corners of the world, to find a bequest of nearly $10,000 which would have been lost to him if he had remained away for another three years.

CITY TESTS NEW DAMAGE LAW

The right of a city, defendant in a trespass action, to compel a tenant upon whose sidewalk plaintiffs suffered injury, to become a joint defendent, is involved in an appeal argued before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania here yesterday.

The case arose in Philadelphia in an action by Beatrice and Joseph Vinnacombe against the city, which invoked the Act of April 10, 1929, enacted by the Legislature, to join in the action as defendants, by a writ of scire facias, the American Stores Company, tenant of the building before which one of plaintiffs fell and was injured. The case is a test of the constitutionality of the act, attacked by appellants.

Eight appeals were argued before the highest court yesterday. Those arising in western counties are: Fayette County—Second National Band of Brownsville, vs. The London and Lancashire Insurance Company, Ltd., appellant; appeal of Queeny R. Capuzzi, deceased, Jefferson County—William Donahue, appellant, vs. Borough of Punxsutawney; Harry R. Wilson, appellant, vs. A. Cook Sons Company; L. M. Kriner, vs. John F. Dinger, appellant.

FUND CANVASS FOR HOSPITAL

A canvass of the city in support of the Belvedere General Hospital's campaign for $50,000 to enlarge its building in Paulson avenue will be begun this week by more than 50 women composing the hospital auxiliary. The women will solicit contributions and sell tickets for the annual hospital ball, October 23, with which the campaign will close.

Arrangements for the ball are in charge of the women's committee, which has chosen the William Penn Hotel for the event, and is arranging a program in which more than a dozen theatrical stars will take part, with Teddy Joyce as master of ceremonies.

Telephone solicitation, by which the drive has been carried on thus far, has brought the total contributions above the half-way mark, and drive sponsors believe the women's campaign, along with delayed contributions now being sent, will enable them to close the campaign a week before the official date.

Interurbans Back On Regular Route

Regular service on the Washington and Charleroi interurban car line was resumed today after replacement of the viaduct at Oak station was completed. During the construction yesterday, the cars were rerouted from the Castle Shannon shuttle, through Mt. Lebanon and Dormont. Pittsburgh Railways officials said that there was no delay in yesterday's service.

Parents, Teachers To Map Fall Work

Plans for the fall and winter season will be formed at a meeting of the Parents Teacher Association of the Spring Garden Public School, Spring Garden avenue, in the school, tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Estella Bauer is president.

SPEED FINAL REPORT ON TERMINAL

Officials Hope to Have Papers Signed in Time For Waterway Jubilee

The Department of Public Works plans to commemorate the opening of the Ohio with something more than a mere flourish of trumpets.

When celebration of the completion of the nine-foot channel gets under way two weeks hence, Director Edward G. Lang hopes to be able to announce that contracts have been signed which will make the great waterway available to every shipper.

Engineers and officials are rushing work on the river-rail terminal project with a view to submitting a final report to City Council just as the jubilee begins.

IN FINAL STAGE

"A few loose ends remain, that must be tied together," said Ross M. Riegel, department engineer in charge of the work. "Negotiations with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, from whom the land for the terminal will be acquired, have reached the final stage. We expect to have everything cleared up and the papers signed within two weeks."

What is proposed is public docks, municipally operated, with derricks and other apparatus for transferring freight between barges and railroad cars. The docks will occupy six acres of land on the Ohio River just below the Manchester Bridge. The land is owned by the Baltimore and Ohio, which will lease it to the city, probably for 25 years, and at the same time agree to sell in case the city should care to buy the property.

The city, Riegel explained, desires to extend to small shippers the advantages of cheap river transportation now enjoyed to the full only by large corporations like the Carnegie Steel Company and the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, which have their own terminals.

MONEY AVAILABLE

Work on the plan for the public docks has been under way for three years. Council has ear-marked $250,000 of councilmanic bonds to pay for the terminal, but Riegel said it would cost a good deal more. A million dollars has been mentioned as the expenditure that probably would be required. Several streets will have to be relocated. That work may, or may not, be paid for out of street funds, the engineer remarked. He suggested that the county might be asked to defray part of the expense of the docks.

"St. Louis," said Riegel, "spent $2,000,000 on its public docks, and gets only $10,000 a year revenue from them. There is no blinking the fact that we will lose money, too, during the first few years of operation. It will have to be charged up to development expense."

Syria Automobile Club to Give Show

"Luckee Girl," a musical comedy hit with a Parisian touch, will be presented Monday in Syria Mosque by the Syria Temple Automobile Club, according to an announcement by Edward Hardie, president of the club. Headed by Billy House, the 300-pound comedian, the cast has been assembled from a group of Broadway artists. The show will be continued the remainder of the week in the Alvin Theater.

Auto Interests Meet at Erie

A delegation of Pittsburghers will leave Sunday for Erie to attend the ninth annual convention of the Pennsylvania Automotive Association Monday and Tuesday. Lieut. Jack Richardson, United States naval observer aboard the Graf Zeppelin on its world tour, will speak at the closing session Tuesday night.

Will Rogers

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 2.

Been reading the questions and answers in this Shearer impeachment. I didn't know that was going to be that good or I would have gone back and made that opening.

If they will take that on the road and bill it as Shearer's and Shortridge's follies they could make enough out of it to buy us some cruisers without the taxpayers. For the way things stand everybody wants disarmament, but nobody wants to see anything sunk.

And both nations would love to have some new cruisers if they could get them without paying for 'em.

Yours, WILL.

MARS SMILES ITS NAME AT PILOTS

AIR-MARKER PAINTED ON ROOF IN MARS BOROUGH, NEAR COUNTY LINE

Aviators flying over the Allegheny-Butler County line in the vicinity of Mars can locate themselves on their air maps when they see "M-A-R-S" on this building.

Air Sign Campaign Wins In 64 Communities

By MAX HENRICI.

A check today of reports received by the Sun-Telegraph since it began the campaign to get every town in the Pittsburgh district air-marked showed that 21 communities have put up signs for the guidance of aviators and 43 others have announced their intention to do so. Many, perhaps most, of the latter have completed the signs, but have not reported.

W. A. Carson announces he has air-marked Bakerstown in chrome yellow letters 11 feet high, with a meridian arrow and one pointing to the Pittsburgh-Butler airport. Mr. Carson did all the work himself, "as a token of his personal appreciation of aviation."

Daniel W. Brooks Post No. 63, American Legion, plans to air-mark Swissvale. R. V. Thomas is chairman of the committee in charge.

R. C. Farver, proprietor of the Central Garage, Sandy Lake, Pa., writes that he will air-mark that town.

The Borough of Brentwood, through Borough Secretary F. H. Appenrodt, has requested information in regard to air-marking.

The Comas Club, a Masonic organization, is thinking of putting up a sign with letters 20 feet high to identify Millvale.

The Auto Truck Equipment Company, 7511 Penn avenue, is arranging to mark that part of Pittsburgh for aviators.

Department of Commerce specifications for air-marks may be had by applying to the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries Corporation, Oliver Building, which is co-operating with the Sun-Telegraph.

PITTSBURGH CHIEF ELECTED STATE FIREMEN'S PRESIDENT

NEXT SESSION TO BE HELD IN ALLENTOWN

State Treasurer Lewis and Justice Kephart Speak; Volunteer Work Praised

Richard L. Smith, chief of the Pittsburgh Bureau of Fire, was elected president of the Pennsylvania Firemen's Association at today's session of the convention being held here. Nxt year's convention will be held at Allentown.

Jacob N. Fiedler, of Reading; Walter W. Hopple, of Sunbury; John T. Coughlin, of Greensburg, and John J. Devlin, of Larksville, were elected vice presidents.

Oliver T. Weaber, of Allentown, was unopposed for the office of treasurer, while the Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Stein, of York, was unopposed for chaplain. Secretary C. E. Clark, of Wayne, is serving his last year, having been elected for a three-year term.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A joint memorial service in Moose Temple was scheduled for today. This afternoon the women's auxiliary will attend a theater party and tonight there will be a ball and vaudeville entertainment at Syria Mosque.

Relief fund associations of volunteer fire companies which have not received their proportion of the $809,604 distributed to the treasurers of municipalities out of the proceeds of funds obtained by collecting a 2 per cent tax on foreign insurance companies are urged to apply for it at once.

That was the advice which Samuel S. Lewis, former state treasurer of Pennsylvania, gave to the members of the association in an address yesterday afternoon in Moose Temple. He said that on August 12 the auditor general of the state drew the warrant for the money and that all relief bodies had to do was to apply to the treasurers of the cities, boroughs and townships.

Lewis, who lives in York, is himself a former volunteer fireman and paid tribute to firemen for their service. He spoke of the marvelous improvements which have been made in fire fighting equipment during the last quarter of a century.

EXEMPT OF GAS TAX

It developed during the meeting that municipally-owned companies using motor apparatus do not have to pay the state tax on gasoline, while volunteer companies owning their own apparatus do. Mr. Lewis advised such companies to go before the next Legislature and have the subject remedied. He spoke of the high regard the state has for volunteer companies and explained that as a mark of appreciation the 2 per cent tax collected from foreign insurance companies had been ordered turned over to volunteer companies.

Justice John W. Kephart, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, now in session here, also was a speaker. He too is a former volunteer fireman. He assured his hearers that their function is more important than a standing army.

STATE TROOPER 'GETS HIS MAN'

A state trooper's long quest to bring to justice the man charged with slaying his buddy was nearing an end today.

John Tomak, of Troop A, State Police, stationed at Greensburg, was on his way to Pittsburgh from New York, with Salvator Accorsi, recently indicted by the grand jury for shooting to death Trooper John Downey, at Acmetonia, in August, 1927.

Downey was shot while trying to prevent disorder at a Sacco-Vanzetti protest meeting. His assailant escaped. Tomak began a hunt which lasted for a year and led him through many states.

Accorsi finally was arrested last summer in New York. A legal fight was begun in his behalf. The last round of that contest was won yesterday in the appellate division of the New York courts by Assistant District Attorney J. E. Kalson, who showed the court a copy of the indictment against Accorsi and he was ordered returned here for trial on a charge of murder.

Trooper Tomak and his prisoner were due to reach here tonight.

Hearing Requested Over Damage Claim

William G. Bechman has asked Council for a hearing to present claims for damage to property on Monitor street, between Shady avenue and Ludwick, that was caused by filling Victory way.

Poisonous Candy Stolen, Fear For Eaters

The theft of 54 pounds of poisonous candy from an automobile of Harry Mann, of 307 Sherbrook street, was being investigated by detectives today.

Fear that the candy, used for novelty effects, may be eaten, spurred detectives to keep a watch on hospitals and doctors' offices. Thus far no reports of poisoning had been reported.

Besides the candy, which was packed in cases and valued at $55, a top coat was stolen.

BOOSTERS MEET IN BROOKLINE

The Brookline Boosters' Association resumed its regular monthly meetings in the Brookline G. B. U. Hall, Brookline boulevard, last night.

In compliance with several complaints of street and sewer conditions in that section, a committee was appointed to present a complaint to Council. The same committee also will request the repaving of Brookline boulevard extension from West Liberty avenue to Pioneer avenue.

Plans for the association's first banquet were discussed and a committee appointed to make arrangements. The affair will be held in November. President Thomas Hester presided.

DEATH LAID TO CIGARET ROW

An argument over a pack of cigarets is blamed for a fight which resulted in fatal injuries to John Rabeck, 50, employed as a laborer by a road construction company near Warrendale.

County detectives today questioned Pete Morcec, 55, who had been jailed on a charge of aggravated assault and battery in connection with an alleged attack on Rabeck. He will be turned over to the coroner.

Mrs. Anna Pernice, boarding-house keper, told detectives, they said, that the two men had quarreled over cigarets which Morcec accused Rabeck of stealing. She did not see the fight. Rabeck died yesterday of peritonitis, an autopsy disclosed, but no external evidence of a blow was found, the coroner's physician said.

Four Hurt as Auto Hits Safety Zone

Two women and two men were painfully cut and bruised today when the machine in which they were riding skidded on the wet street at Penn and Euclid avenues and crashed into a safety zone.

WOMAN DEFIES ARMSTRONG ON VOTES

Placed Courts Above County Commissioner, She Says, So Refused to Sign Returns

County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong withstood a wordy barrage from Elizabeth Thompson, minority inspector of the First District, Twentieth Ward, when the board was called in by the returning board late yesterday afternoon to explain why neither the majority nor minority inspectors signed the return sheets of the primary election.

Miss Thompson declared that Former Police Lieutenant Elmer Mallasee and Edward Townsend, superintendent of the bureau of city property, "took charge of the election and told the judge, Robert Stead, how to run it."

EDDIE HAD LETTER

"Eddie Townsend brought a letter from Mr. Armstrong into the polls, when there was a hot dispute about allowing people to vote who were challenged because they were in the list of phantom voters, and said 'this is the only thing to pay any attention to. Don't pay any attention to the court order'," she declared.

"When the courts and the three learned judges gave the opinion that 45,000 names were illegal we thought that we were doing right. We saw a chance to catch 59 who did not have legal tax receipts according to the court's opinion but Mallasee, who tries to intimidate every election board and expects to get his job back, tried to bulldoze us. We thought that the court's decision was the authoritative one, but Townsend and Mallasee made the judge do what they told him to. That's why we did not sign the sheets, because we did not recognize Mr. Armstrong as the arbiter of the day. We thought and still believe that the printed election laws mean something."

DEFENDS OFFICIAL

Mortimer B. Leber, assistant county solicitor said that there was such confusion and divergence of opinion that the judge of the board could hardly be held responsible. Stead said that he followed the advice in the letter sent to the board by Armstrong.

Clara M. Berry, 1660 Broadhead street, majority inspector corroborated Miss Thompson's testimony.

On motion of Commissioner E. V. Babcock the returning board certified the count in the district with Commissioner Charles A. McGovern voting against the motion.

Commercial District Zoning Petitioned

Council has been asked to amend the zoning law by changing the classification of property bounded by Kaercher street, Bigelow street, Hessin street to an unnamed alley from an "A" residential to a commercial district.

14-STORY HOTEL PLANNED FOR OAKLAND

Wallace Homestead, at Craig And Fifth, Purchased by Easterners; Build in Year

A new 14-story hotel, containing 500 rooms and 500 baths, is to be erected by an Eastern concern at Craig street and Fifth avenue, it was announced yesterday by Leonard P. Kane, of the Kane Brothers Real Estate Company. The new hotel also will contain six roof-garden apartments. The local real estate company yesterday completed the sale of the property to Edgar A. Merkle, of Brentwood, Md., from Elizabeth Sterling.

The property, known as the old Wallace Homestead, had been held at $150,000. It extends 100 feet in Fifth avenue, 160 feet on Craig street and 100 feet on Henry street. The hotel building will be of steel and concrete construction. A special section of the hotel will be devoted to club quarters, containing a swimming pool, billiard room, bowling alleys, card room and banquet and ballroom. Eight modern store rooms will be on the first floor.

Plans for the building are in the hands of Philip M. Jullien, Washington architect, and construction will be started as soon as they have been completed. According to Mr. Kane, the building, furniture and fixtures, represent an investment of approximately $3,000,000. It is expected to be completed within a year.

Hill Man Sentenced For Selling Dope

Israel Cohen, of Bedford avenue, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Harry H. Rowand in Criminal Court to serve 18 months in the workhouse after he pleaded guilty to charges of possessing and selling narcotics. Cohen is a dope addict, according to the county physician. On May 3 last, it was charged, Cohen sold morphine to Lawrence Wilson, of 211 Sandusky street. His arrest followed.

Love of Dancer Blamed, Boy, 17, Held in Theft

Unspoken love for "Sugar" Shaad, burlesque dancer, led him to steal $100 from the downtown store at which he is employed today, Walter Benedict, 17, of Center street, West View, is said to have told city detectives when he was arrested.

Detectives Murray Edlis and Robert Best caught the boy at Seventh and Liberty avenues as he was preparing to board a bus for Columbus, where the show, "Kuddlin' Kuties," is playing this week.

Benedict said the girl doesn't know him, but that every night while she played here, at the Academy he occupied a box and threw kisses at her.

BIDS REQUESTED FOR NEW POOL

Advertising for bids for the South Park swimming pool to cost $200,000 was authorized by the county commissioners at their meeting yesterday.

Paul B. Riis, director of parks, explained that the bids are being asked now so that work can be started and the pool completed in time for the 1930 park season.

Seven separate contracts will be awarded, Riis explained, when questioned by Commissioner Charles C. McGovern, that in this manner experts in excavation, filtration, masonry, plumbing and building will have a chance to bid on the job with the probability of getting the work done cheaper and more efficiently than if the contract was let to one general contractor.

Wabash Reduces Price of Property

Director Edward G. Lang, of the Department of Public Works, has advised Council that the Wabash Railroad Company will accept $95,000 instead of $110,000 as previously reported for property required by the city for the widening of West Carson street. Lang asked Council to amend the pending ordinance authorizing the purchase by changing the price.

COUNTY HEADS SCORN LIGHT FIRM PLEA

Request for Part of Cost Of Moving Lines at Morgue Site Stirs Commissioners

The Duquesne Light Company's request that the county pay part of the $7,500 cost of the changes in the company's underground system made necessary by the relocation of the morgue brought expressions from all three commissioners in opposition to the proposition.

Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong thought that "since the county gives the light company free rights-of-way and other privileges, it is not inclined toward sharing such a minor expense."

Commissioner E. V. Babcock said that "in view of the fact that no other customer is pouring money into the company's coffers like Allegheny County, I don't feel inclined to share this small bill."

Commissioner Charles C. McGovern said: "In view of all the gratuities extended the company by the county, it did not seem to be the right thing to pay for part of this job."

E. W. Judy, operating manager of the Duquesne Light Company, who asked the county to share in the cost of the work, said that his company "wants to co-operate and does co-operate with the county, but does not think the request unreasonable." No action was taken in the matter.

Grade Pupils Get High School Room

The West View School Board has granted a request of parents to use one room of the new Junior High School annex for first and second grade pupils living in the Schwitter plan. This will enable the children to avoid long walks and traffic-thronged highways. Miss Cora Anderson, of Kersey, Pa., was named to teach the combined class which will start as soon as equipment can be installed. H. N. Hennon, supervising principal, reported that the Junior High pupils have purchased a piano with proceeds of an operetta.

Popularity.. begins with a Clear Skin

IT'S the person with a clear, smooth, lovely complexion that usually wins.

To be sure, not much is said openly about skin eruptions, but secretly they influence many important affairs. Personal likes and dislikes are quickly formed.

Everybody wants to be attractive. It is a just and natural ambition. A clear skin makes everyone more attractive.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils, eczema and other skin eruptions as being an indication that the body's power of resistance is low—that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

The sure way to remedy this condition is to restore the red-blood-cells to normal.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of those unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

S.S.S. helps Nature restore the blood to its normal state. Healthy blood makes the body strong and resistant to disease.

Without plenty of rich, red blood there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or healthy, beautiful women.

If you are troubled with so-called skin disorders or if the count of your red-blood-cells is low, take a few bottles of S.S.S. Seek energy, vitality and a clear skin through the remedy, which is made from fresh vegetable drugs, and has stood the test of over 100 years.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

SUSPENDED WILMERDING POLICE CHIEF REINSTATED

COUNCIL VOTES 5 TO 2 FOR RETURN

Threatened Political Eruption In Slugging of Editor Simmers Down to Zero

Wilmerding's chief of police, J. B. Maguire, reinstated by the Borough Council last night, is wearing a smile of victory today, while the threatened eruption in the political situation has simmered down to a tempest in a teapot.

Council voted 5 to 2 for the reinstatement, the dissenting votes having been cast by the two members of the police committee who urged adoption of their recommendations for dismissal without comment or explanation.

Councilman Frank Kukurin, chairman of the police committee, when pressed for details of the charges brought against the police chief at a secret session of his committee Monday night, declined to discuss the matter and proposed a motion for Maguire's summary dismissal in accordance with the suspension of Burgess R. W. Bishop, following an alleged slugging of a borough newspaper editor at the polls three weeks ago.

QUIZ UNANSWERED

His motion was seconded by Councilman J. C. Foreman, another member of the committee. It was defeated, 4 to 3, Councilmen Kukurin, Foreman and W. F. Pugsley, president, voting for it and the other four members opposing it.

When the motion was presented by Kukurin, Councilman McBride asked for a complete report of the charges and inquired of Kukurin:

"Were the charges brought against Chief Maguire substantiated? My understanding is that your committee adopted the recommendation for dismissal by a vote of 2 to 1, and I think we are entitled to know what transpired at your closed hearing."

A period of silence followed McBride's question, and President Pugsley inquired if the other members of the committee wished to discuss the hearing.

Both Kukurin and Foreman replied in the negative, declaring their report stood as offered.

At this point Kukurin proposed his motion, and as soon as it was voted upon, McBride offered another, proposing that Maguire be reinstated with full pay for the period of suspension.

VOLPE DEFENDS CHIEF

Councilman James Volpe, brother of John and Louis Volpe, accused of the attack upon Leonard Anderson, the editor, who brought the charges of slugging and subsequent allegations of conduct unbecoming an officer against Maguire, seconded the motion. Volpe vigorously defended the police chief.

"He did not act as my brother's attorney," Volpe stormed. "He came to our place with a warrant turned over to him by the constable from the squire's office where information had been made by Anderson and I gave him the bond myself.

"The only thing he could do was take it and it was legally proper for him to return it to the squire's office. When the bond was refused and we called the district attorney's office, we were told it was a legal procedure and we supplemented the property bond with $2,000 in cash. The whole trouble lies in the fact that the constable was 'yellow' and was afraid to serve the paper himself. Maguire had no reason to fear us nor had the constable for that matter, but Maguire performed his duty and now these people want to 'fire' him.

"It's a political frameup," he shouted in conclusion.

TO ABIDE BY DECISION

President Pugsley joined with the other four members in voting for Maguire's reinstatement. The only member of the police committee who discussed Monday night's meeting was M. J. Dempster, who voted against the committee's recommendation.

"The charge was entirely unsubstantiated," he declared. "We heard five or six witnesses and not one of them testified to seeing Chief Maguire anywhere near the scene of attack.

"It seems to me," he said, "that the constable was entirely to blame. It appeared that he had 'cold feet' and was afraid to serve the papers where our police chief showed no hesitancy at all."

Burgess Bishop declared he would abide by the decision of Council.

If he so desired, it was pointed out, the burgess could again suspend Chief Maguire and the whole procedure would have to be gone through again.

WORRY DRIVING VETS INSANE, WOMEN HEAR

Chicago Delegate Points Out Duty of Service Star Legion at Meeting Here

"Worry, discouragement and loneliness are the three horsemen that are driving afflicted American ex-soldiers in the hospitals into insanity, and aggravating their ills," Mrs. W. G. Murray, of Chicago, chairman of the relief committee, told 300 Service Star mothers at the twelfth national convention of their legion, now in its third day's session in Webster Hall.

"Our work, that of relief for the boys in hospitals," Mrs. Murray explained yesterday, "will continue for years. To others belong the questions of the day. Ours is caring, physically, as well as spiritually, for injured and ill veterans. We know that the peak in mental cases will not be reached for 10 years, and that in medical cases in 1949. The task of the Service Star mothers is the patriotism of work."

Mrs. Murray was one of the members to give reports or to address the assembly. Others were Mrs. W. E. E. Saunders, Mrs. Jessie Zimmerman, Mrs. Henry F. Baker, Dr. T. B. H. Anderson, of the Marine Hospital, Miss Helen Grimes and Mrs. Bruce Maxwell.

Today's program includes a national board meeting and the reports of regional directors and state presidents.

TECH TO START REGISTRATION

Registration for night classes at Carnegie Institute of Technology will begin tonight and continue tomorrow and Friday evening. The night school will open its classes Monday evening.

Officials are of the opinion that the enrollment this year will be the largest in the history of the school, inasmuch as 43 Pittsburgh business firms are co-operating by furnishing men in their plants who are acting as advisors to employes interested in higher education.

Prospective students are showing much interest in the class of aviation ground mechanics, which has been added to the courses. The laboratory has been equipped with airplane motors, instruments and other parts.

Three new courses in printing also are scheduled.

MERGER VOTE AUTHORIZED

Munhall Council yesterday passed the third reading of an ordinance for the annexation of the borough of Whitaker, the action following presentation of a petition of residents of the latter town. The question will be placed before the voters at the November election.

If passed the annexation will mean an addition of 2,400 population and property valued at $900,000 to Munhall.

State Requested To Improve Road

The county commissioners agreed to request the State Highway Department to improve the Beulah Church road when a committee headed by Leo Phipps, chairman of the Turtle Creek council, made the request at the commissioners' meeting yesterday.

Trade Board Asks Widening of Street

The North Side Board of Trade has asked Council to authorize the widening of Beaver avenue from Columbus avenue to Island avenue and to repave Beaver avenue from Sheffield street to Reedsdale street.

SOLVES SAFETY PROBLEM

The school traffic safety problem has been solved in Dravosburg by C. A. Livingston, chief of police, through the organization of a school traffic patrol and by a series of talks to the pupils. Safety and observance of all traffic rules is the theme of Chief Livingston's talks.

C. A. Livingston

Old students are elected by the principal and organized into traffic squads. The patrols are stationed at busy street intersections, according to Livingston, where children are cautioned in crossing during school dismissal periods. The student patrolmen do not make arrests or stop cars. Their duty, however, is to report all traffic violations to the police department where proper measures for prosecution are taken.

Chief Livingston believes that his method is a panacea for traffic evils in the smaller towns and says it is working well.

The People's Verdict Cannot Be Set Aside

TWENTY YEARS is a long time to sit in judgment, but the verdict proves the time well spent, because it reveals hidden truths and facts that can never be disputed by man. Public opinion decides all things that have advanced our better environment. Twenty years is a long time to find out your Blood Cells control your Blood Pressure. Twenty years is a long time to find out no one can be sick if the Blood Cells are normal. Twenty years of faithful work gives to the Public the only Serum that has stood every known test in Europe or America. To our knowledge, two or three years has been the usual life or existence of most Serums. Today the Public celebrates the 20th Anniversary of the great BLOOD CELL PROTEIN SERUM that has been tested by 35,000 people in Pittsburgh suffering from these supposedly incurable maladies, bringing Peace, Happiness and Health to many homes. Twenty years of continued use in the best Laboratories should help any Jury to decide its fate and worth to a suffering world. A campaign will ever be waged with a vision for human service.

Neal's Pathetic Manner Again Wins Over Ann Marie

CHAPTER XLI.

WHEN they drove up to the little police station that night Jim refused to let Ann Marie set foot in it.

"No, you're not going to get yourself mixed up in this thing if I can help it," he told her. "This is my part of the country and I've known these people up here for years. I'm pretty sure I can get everything straightened out without much trouble."

Ann Marie watched his tall figure disappear behind the gray veils of rain. She saw the door of the police station open and shut as he stepped into it.

Four or five minutes went slowly by. Ann Marie began to be nervous.

Then the door opened again and a motorcycle policeman stepped out into the rain and the darkness.

He came across the wet sidewalk towards his motorcycle, which was parked at the curb, just in front of Jim's car. He stood there a moment, lighting a cigaret.

Ann Marie opened the door of the car and called to him.

"Did you see a couple in the station who were arrested tonight in an automobile?" she asked him. "In an automobile that the police thought they had stolen?"

He threw his match down into the gutter and came up to the side of Jim's car.

"Did I see 'em?" he asked. "Lady, I arrested 'em!" He threw back his head and let out a great laugh. "And, believe me, next time they have any mugging to do they won't stop to do it on a county highway! And they won't bawl out an officer of the law, I bet you, either! If it hadn't been for Mr. Goodwin they'd have spent the night in jail. We all thought they had a stolen car."

"I see," said Ann Marie with stiff lips. "It's my car. I let them have it. . . Is Mr. Goodwin getting everything straightened out?"

The road policeman nodded, touching the visor of his cap as he backed away.

"Sure. They'll all be out in a minute now," he answered. And, as he spoke, the door opened and Alice and Neal came walking out of the building arm in arm.

For a minute or two they stood at the top of the steps under the light globes with the legend "Police Station" painted on them in black letters.

Then, still with their arms linked, they ran down the wet steps and around the corner of the building, where Ann Marie's car was parked in the streaming darkness.

Above the sound of the rain and the wind she could hear them laughing together as they ran to it. The door of it slammed and they drove away towards town.

"They never came near me," Ann Marie said quietly to Jim when he came back to her and started his own car. "After I'd come all this way up here, too!" Low as her voice was, it was full of hurt and resentment.

"I didn't say anything to them about you being here," Jim answered. "I may as well be honest with you—I was afraid that Neal would want you to ride back with him if he knew you'd come up with me. And this is probably the last ride I'll ever have with you."

Ann Marie said nothing, just stared at the wet, black road ahead of her.

"But, whether we ever see each other again," he added after a long pause, "I want you to know that if ever you need a friend you can count on me—"

He stopped for a moment more as if he didn't know how to go on.

Then suddenly he spoke again, slowly, as if it were hard for him to say what he had to say:

"Neal and I have known each other for a good many years. He's a fine chap—and my greatest wish is that you will be happy with him. I am sure you will be happy with him."

He sounded as if he were trying to convince himself that she would be happy with Neal—and only half believed it, himself.

He had been driving slowly. But now he stepped on the gas suddenly, as if he couldn't get back to Perry street soon enough.

The door of his studio stood open, and through the doorway she could see him walking slowly up and down the long room with his hands in his pockets and his eyes on the floor.

He stopped and looked up as she paused on his threshold.

"Oh, so you're here at last!" he said sarcastically. "Well, did you have a pleasant evening?"

Ann Marie came into the big untidy room that always smelled of gin and cigarets these days. She closed the door behind her and stood with her shoulders against it.

"You ought to know what kind of an evening I had," she replied, and there was a sharp little edge to her voice.

"Well, I know that you had Jim Goodwin down in your office with you at 9 o'clock, when I telephoned there. I know that much for sure—and I'm pretty sure that you just came driving back to town with him. You did, didn't you?"

She nodded. She wasn't going to tell him even the shadow of a lie.

"I did . . . he drove me up to Connecticut to get you and Alice out of the fix you were in. There wasn't anything wrong about that," she said frankly. "But you—you were arrested because you were parked on a side road, making love to Alice in the car! The motorcycle policeman told me so! You're in love with her, and you keep telling me you aren't! Why don't you be honest with me?"

He shrugged his shoulders. "Honest with you? Why should I be honest with a girl who'll take a road cop's word against mine? You think I'm crazy about Alice just because a cop says he caught us necking—"

"No! No!" Ann Marie broke in. "I've noticed things, myself. And if I had a grain of sense I'd drop you the way Johnny's dropped Alice. Why, look here, tonight you took Alice up to Westport for dinner, didn't you? But did you ever take me for dinner anywhere? No. You've never spent a dollar on me!"

"Sure! That's it—money! That's all a woman thinks about!" Neal's voice had risen and his face was flushed. That's why you let Jim Goodwin come to see you down there where you work—late at night. Because he has money! That's why. You're all gold-diggers at heart, you women!"

Ann Marie shook her head with its wet brown-gold curls plastered against her cheeks by the rain.

"You can't say I'm a gold digger," she said. "I know I'm not one."

She was thinking of the time she had paid for the dinner the two of them had had at Simonds' roadhouse back home. Of the money she had let him take since she had been here in New York. Of the food she had bought for him and for Alice and for Jeanie during the last two or three weeks. Of the car she had bought—and had not even had a ride in yet!

But she did not mention any of those things to him, as most people would have done.

"I know I haven't a ghost of a chance to keep you if Jim Goodwin's after you," Neal was saying now, and all of the anger had died out of his voice. He seemed very pathetic all at once. "I can't give you rides in a big car and dinners at a high-priced flat the way he can. I can't find jobs for you and see that you're invited to parties like the one Janet invited you to last week. I'm poor—"

The old story of "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby" once more! The story he had been telling her ever since she had promised to marry him.

But once more it had its effect on Ann Marie.

"Neal, please don't talk like that!" she cried softly. "You know I don't care how poor you are! You know I love you, and I'd marry you tomorrow if you asked me to—and just tonight I told Jim Goodwin I couldn't see him any more. I was telling him that I wouldn't drive home with him when you called up from the police station. Please do believe me, Neal!"

She came to him and laid her hands on his shoulders and kissed him.

He kissed her back, but he did it quickly as if his heart was not in it.

"I'd hate to think that Jim Goodwin could cut me out with any girl!" he said bitterly. "And I know he couldn't if he didn't have all that money of his!"

She had turned away and was going into her own rooms to go to bed when he called her back.

"No more of that business of working at night downtown! Understand?" he asked, like some commanding officer giving orders to a rookie.

Madge Tells Mary of Plot Against Georges

MARY'S feeling for Noel is no secret to me, and she knows it, but anyone possessed of normal inteligence would have interpreted her cry of "Noel! has anything happened to Noel?" for what it was—the anguished query of a woman concerning the safety of the one man in the world for her. I was thankful that no other ears than mine had heard the query, for I knew that Mary, in that moment of terror, would not have cared if all her little world stood around her bedside.

My answer was prompt.

"Noel is perfectly all right. In fact he was one of the men you heard 'carrying something heavy.' He and Jim and Mr. Underwood carried Prince Georges upstairs to your uncle's room this forenoon.

Purposely I had tried to substitute one fear for another, and knew that I had succeeded when she looked up at me with eyes which, though they lost their extreme terror, were shadowed with a fresh anxiety.

"Georges here! But I thought he was not to leave the hospital—that it was dangerous to move him—"

"It was—in a way—" I told her, "though fortunately Aunt Katherine says he hasn't suffered from the moving. But it became necessary—suddenly—to get him away—from the hospital.

"Why?" she asked, then sat upright in bed.

"Look here, Auntie Madge," she said . . . "Something awful has happened somewhere, and you're afraid to tell me for fear I'll have a nervous collapse or something. Now if you think that, you've put the brakes on with no reason. I'm perfectly all right—had a splendid sleep 'neverything. Just feel that pulse"—she stretched out her lovely slender arm to me, "and then step on the gas. You can tell me anything, now—I won't turn a hair."

I knew what she meant by the little word, "now." Being assured of Noel's safety had armored her against any other fear. I put my fingers upon her wrist, and found, that as she had said, her pulses were even. Her flesh was cool to my touch also, and a long steady look into her eyes, clear now of fright, showed me that it was safe to tell her of the things which had happened since the man with the scar like a comma on his face had tried to enter her room with murderous intent.

"Very well, dear," I said slowly. "I will tell you everything, and there is a great deal to relate. First, though, you must prepare yourself to hear shocking things, though no one you know has suffered. But the man with the scarred face will never trouble anyone again."

She asked no questions, but settled back among her pillows, her face turned attentively to mine, and as swiftly as I could I told her of the plan to throw a bomb into Prince Georges' room at the hospital, of the premature explosion of the missile, and the death of the miscreant who had planned this terrible end for the prince. I also told her of the attempt of Harry Underwood to keep the prince and princess, together with Noel Veritzen, at the farmhouse until he could "bait his tiger trap" with Prince Georges at the hotel.

As I finished, purposely omitting the reason for all the precautions, she looked at me unwinkingly for several seconds, and then said slowly:

"Am I to be told the reason for it all, or is that a secret I'm not to know? Remember I'm not asking what it is, or not teasing—as you used to tell us. If you don't wish to tell me, it's all right with me."

I laughed amusedly at her shining, eager eyes so utterly at variance with the noble renunciatory sentiments she just had voiced.

"I ought not to tell you, Mary," I said slowly, "for it's very exciting stuff—but—" as her expressive face clouded with disappointment. "I'm going to give you all the information I have nevertheless. "No!" as she sprang to a sitting posture and threw her arms around my neck with a choked "Oh! you darling Auntie Madge!" —"Not unless you lie back quietly."

"I'll shut my eyes right and clinch my fingers, if you say so," she said submissively, lying back against her pillows, and I told her of the plot against Prince Georges by his villainous cousin and the men he employed, and of Mr. Underwood's certainty that her own life was in danger because the next heir to the throne after Georges was taking no chances of the prince leaving a wife behind him. Mary's face was crimson when I finished, and her finger tips were tracing designs on the bedspread.

"Does Georges know the man tried to kill me, too?" she asked.

"No, and you mustn't tell him when you go to see him in a few minutes," I told her.

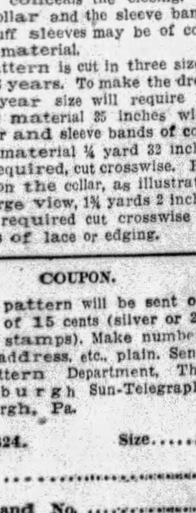
The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern



A NEAT LITTLE FROCK FOR A LITTLE MISS.

Cotton prints are smart for this dainty model. It will also look well made up in gingham, pongee, lawn or in crepe. The skirt portions are arranged in groups of plaits over the center of front and back, one plait in front going over the pointed yoke sections, and to the neck, where it conceals the closing. A dainty collar and the sleeve bands of the puff sleeves may be of contrasting material.

This pattern is cut in three sizes: 2, 4 and 6 years. To make the dress for a 4-year size will require 1¾ yards of material 35 inches wide. For collar and sleeve bands of contrasting material ¼ yard 32 inches wide is required, cut crosswise. For plaiting on the collar, as illustrated in the large view, 1¾ yards 2 inches wide is required cut crosswise or 1¾ yards of lace or edging.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Household Hints

In making a fresh fruit salad to set aside for the evening meal remember to sprinkle a few drops of lemon juice on the bananas and apples. It prevents them from turning brown.

Wet salt will remove egg stains from spoons. Whitening mixed with ammonia will take away other marks without injuring the silver. When the stains have been removed the silver should be washed and polished.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN.

Delightful Presentation of a Gift

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I am giving a little luncheon at which we will present a gift to my girl friend at whose honor the little affair is held. This girl is to be a bride a week from the day of the luncheon, so the gift will be one appropriate for a bride. The girls who will be present at the luncheon are participating in the donation of money for the gift, but I am giving the luncheon. Would it be correct or would it seem selfish for me to make a short speech of presentation at the meal, and at that time give her the gift? Or would it be better to ask another member of the party to take the part of presenting the gift? E. S.

I SUGGEST that, instead of planning to have the gift presented so formally, you have the gift placed at the place of the guest of honor, so that she will "discover" it when she takes her place at the table.

The Visitor's Gifts

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

A girl friend wants me to visit her sister in a distant city and I would like to go, but she insists that I cannot pay any board. Would it be all right for me to buy a gift for her sister, brother-in-law and the children, and what would you suggest? C. B.

I SUGGEST that you take a general sort of "family gift" when you go to visit these people a box of candy, a box of assorted sweets, some phonograph records or player piano rolls, some books, or anything else that you would be sure the family would enjoy. Then, after your visit, with your bread-and-butter letter, send each member of the family a gift, something for each that you have thought of while you were a guest there. Watch to see the interests of each, or an enthusiasm, or a hobby, and send a gift that would be valuable for this. Something, too, for the home would be lovely, a handsome vase, or something for the table perhaps.

Entertaining Visiting Friends

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Sometime ago I visited a friend in another city. While there I stayed with two maiden ladies who are now visiting their sister here in my home town. I would like to help entertain them in some way while they are here. I should like to take them to lunch or dinner some time. Can you inform me of the proper procedure for inviting them? It will be an informal engagement. Should I ask their hostess to go with us? M. Q.

IT would be gracious for you to go to call on these two friends and invite them by word of mouth. If this is not possible, write a note of invitation, making the date and hour specified, or name two dates for them to choose between. And by all means invite their hostess also.

Inviting a Widow

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

We want to tell you how very interesting your "talks" on Correct Manners are and how much they are enjoyed by a group of girls.

We would be thankful if you would give us the correct answer to this question. Mrs. Smith, who is a widow, received an invitation to a formal wedding. Should the letter of acceptance begin with Mrs. John Smith, or Mary Sloane Smith, or Mrs. Mary Sloane Smith? JUST SIXTEEN GIRLS.

THANK you! How very delightful and thoughtful of you to tell me—and how helpful. Please come to the column every time you will. Yes?

The acceptance that the widow writes should begin with:

Mrs. John Smith
accepts with pleasure, etc.

A widow uses exactly the same forms for her name that she used when her husband was living. Her visiting card, for instance, still reads: Mrs. John Smith or Mrs. Alexander Smith. She still signs the hotel register Mrs. John Smith. And she still uses this formal name—Mrs. John Smith—when accepting or regretting formal invitations. All letters addressed to her should be addressed to Mrs. John Smith.

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

A Man's Woman.

SOPHISTICATION, like medicine, is a good thing when taken in homeopathic doses. Its primary effect is to make a woman entertaining—but its secondary effect is apt to be fatal. Fatal to her charm! And to her marrying prospects.

HELEN ROWLAND

Theoretically, a man may admire a "bright, snappy girl" who can't be fooled and who refuses to take him seriously. But he takes far more heart interest in the girl who looks trustfully into his eyes and pretends to believe him.

He may stand for the frank and cynical young woman who laughs off his line and "sees through him"—but he usually falls for the girl who swallows the hook, line, and sinker, and says she "understands" him.

He may be a good pal to the girl who likes him in spite of his faults and weaknesses—but he gets a lot more thrills with the one who adores him for his imaginary virtues.

He may have a wholesome respect for the girl with a ready comeback and a snappy line of repartee—but he has a warm, glowing spot in his heart for the one who knows how to listen raptly and only interrupts when it's time to applaud.

Mentally, he may agree with the disillusioned woman who has discovered that all men are alike." But sentimentally and subconsciously, he is looking for a woman who has not had all the star-dust brushed from her eyes and who still believes in love and "heroes," and is looking for a combination of Prince Charming-Solomon-and-Richard Coeur de Lion—and thinks he's "IT."

* * *

He may be afraid to trifle with the hard-boiled young person who has his number—but he is not afraid to marry the woman who thinks his number is "Number ONE!"

* * *

Pep and cynicism and wit, like diamonds and orchids, may dazzle him—but a soft dulcet voice, a tender, glamorous eye, a winning, gracious way, and the fragrance of spring flowers still enchant him.

In short, the average man doesn't want to be analyzed—he wants to be idealized. And no woman can do both.

They may enjoy dancing to the blare of a saxophone—but they fall in love to the mellow, soft notes of a violin.

Modernistic women like modernistic furniture are too sharp and hard and uncompromising to be comfortable. A man's idea of a comfortable woman or a comfortable chair is as old-fashioned as embroidered mottoes and crocheted tidies. Men haven't budged a quarter of an inch from their original or aboriginal tastes in feminine charm or their tastes in women, since Adam first strolled in the moonlight with Eve!

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Modern Girl Dodges Cramping Footwear

WOMEN dislike conspicuous feet—conspicuous for size I mean. Even with that qualifying clause I haven't said exactly what I have in mind. To be blunt about it, no woman is proud of big feet, she positively dislikes them, but she is increasingly sensible about her shoes and stockings.

DR. COPELAND

The prevailing styles in women's dress have given us rather accurate information regarding matters formerly hidden in mystery. We know a lot more than we did in the older days.

But along comes the manager of a great hosiery company who says: "Despite the probable protest from the fair sex throughout the country, the feet of women in America are growing larger!"

Only a few years ago, he insists, women wore hosiery well divided in sizes between 8½ and 10. Now the smaller sizes are rapidly decreasing and the larger sizes are in increasing demand. "Size 9½ is the general average worn by women, but size 10 is coming more and more into demand."

I follow the statistician to this point, but part company when he says, "In another generation there will be little difference in the size of a woman's and a man's foot."

I don't believe it. This is merely another of the many dire predictions we have heard, about what will happen to women. I have lived to see every one of these fall by the wayside.

They used to say that corsets would cramp the organs and lead to disaster. High-heeled shoes would "throw the spine out of alignment" and disturb the nervous system. Veils would cause irritation of the retina and produce blindness. Sheer costumes would lead to bronchitis, pneumonia and tuberculosis. Rouge and powder would poison the blood and damage the nerves.

But they didn't. These terrible things never happened.

In spite of all her "bad" but charming habits, lovely woman has survived and continues to rule the world from her throne of undisputed power. Her feet may be a trifle larger than they used to be, but even that I doubt. Anyhow, fair woman will never become as gross and massive as is man.

Modern women have a different outlook on life than their mid-Victorian ancestors had. Western women have been emancipated just as have Chinese women. No longer will they bunch their toes and crowd their feet into tiny shoes. They are wearing shoes the size nature requires for their pedal extremities. Of course, they need larger sizes in hosiery, not because they have bigger feet, but because they have bigger brains.

They eat honest-to-goodness food. They take real exercise. They walk and dance. Stately minuets, through which a foot-tortured maiden could move only with mincing steps, have given way to dances which set the pulses beating.

The feet aren't bigger—they simply spread out over the territory nature intended. They won't be any bigger in the future, because with woman's present sensible foot dressing they have reached, not larger sizes, but merely the sizes they should have worn all the time. Just as you see more of women these days, you see more of her feet. It is the mode, nothing else.

She insists on having good shoes, well-fitted shoes, sensible shoes. She can't be fooled by the plausible salesman. I am proud of her emancipation.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Thursday, October 3.

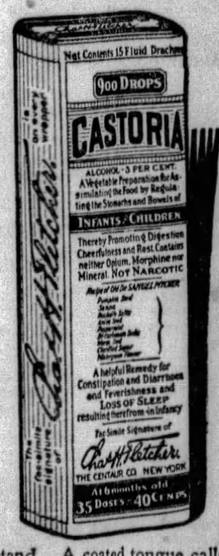
THE lunar configurations for this day encourage the growth of finances, as well as the expansion of business. Some profit may be had from investment or speculation or through litigation. But there may be a sudden opening for important change, which should not be too eagerly embraced. Sign all agreements with precaution. Personal associations may assume spectacular phases.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of increase of business, with gain and promise in finances through speculation, investment or law. But sign all papers with caution and be not hasty in important change. Social, domestic or romantic affairs may be accompanied by rumors of sensational nature. It would be well to keep a firm control of the tongue.

A child born on this day may have many capabilities for success and good fortune, although it may be disposed to jump at conclusions and into situations too eagerly. It should succeed in law, as a writer or in adventurous undertakings.

If you look straight you'll discover more truth in men's eyes than their mouths ever reveal.—Glen Buck.

Restless Children



Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

O'DOUL NEAR LEAGUE MARK FOR HITS

UNUSUAL interest will center in the final series of three games between the Giants and Phillies in Philadelphia tomorrow, Friday and Saturday on account of the possibility that one or two records of long standing will be smashed. A new National League mark for home runs in a season through the making of one more homer by Chuck Klein or Melvin Ott, who have equaled Rogers Hornsby's total of 42 hung up in 1922, isn't the only one in prospect.

Frank O'Doul

Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, of the Quakers, aside from the likelihood that he will sew up the league batting championship for the year, will also have a chance to crack a record in this series—a record for number of hits made in a season. O'Doul now has 248 safeties to his credit, and as the National League record is 250, set by Hornsby in 1922, it follows that Lefty needs only three more hits to establish a new mark.

O'Doul is only nine hits behind the modern record for all major leagues, which is 257, set by George Sisler while playing for the St. Louis Americans in 1920.

THE late Denny Lyons, once a Pirate third baseman, made 284 hits while a member of the Philadelphia American Association in 1884, but as bases on balls were counted as hits that season, Lyons' record is not to be taken into consideration in comparison with the marks of Sisler and Hornsby.

The chances are against O'Doul's being able to make in the Phils' remaining three games the 10 hits required to beat Sisler's total, but as he will be required to turn in only three safe blows to pass Hornsby's mark it is strongly probable that he will end the season with a new National League record, at least, to his credit.

THOUGH local football fans are already raving about Tom Parkinson, the Pitt fullback, and anticipating all-America honors for him in view of the big season he is expected to have, there are two other members of the Panther team who cannot be overlooked as possibilities for the annual all-star national mythical eleven.

Joe Donchess

IN THE opinion of many good football judges, Donchess comes close to being a dead sure all-America bet. Joe's play in the opener against Waynesburg last Saturday was little short of marvelous. His catch of one particular forward pass for a touchdown was, by unanimous agreement, one of the best ever seen here. On another occasion, when a Waynesburg play went around the Pitt right tackle, Donchess, diagnosing it correctly, crossed over from the Pitt left end and, after the runner had cleared the Panther line, brought him down from the side, a feat for which the once great Rube Wagner is well remembered but which mighty few ends are able to accomplish.

DONCHESS appears to be the most versatile and accomplished end that Pitt has had since the days of Wagner in 1910, 1911, 1912 and 1913. Pat Herron, from 1913 to 1916, inclusive, was as dependable, but not more so, and may have had a little less sparkle and fire than Joe. Toby Uansa is another who must be reckoned among the best.

Montgomery is just about as perfect in his position at guard as Donchess is at end. Here is a player who may prove himself the most important member of the Sutherland machine. Though carrying 188 pounds, he is the fastest runner of the Pitt linemen, gets "out of there" on intereference with greater sped than any other, is a brilliant tackler, and can play center or tackle as well as he can play guard.

THE entire line is toned up by Montgomery, who has as mates there Tully, two youngsters in MacMurdo and Daugherty, and Captain DiMeolo. The two kids have the possibility of greatness, and it is no exaggeration to say that the Wheeling, W. Va., boy is the keystone of the Pitt team. It will not be surprising if, by the end of the season, Montgomery is generally regarded as the best guard in the district and worthy of an all-America place.

Ray Montgomery

CUB stock in the world series showed a rise yesterday when Charley Grimm appeared at his old place in the lineup for the first time since he was injured on August 20. It was Grimm's error that cost the Bruins yesterday's game, but the presence of the former Pirate first baseman at his post will give the Cubs considerable added playing strength for the title struggle with the Athletics, not only by reason of Lefty's individual worth but because of the fact that it will steady the whole infield and boost the general morale of the team.

ONLY a few weeks ago considered as certain to be Chicago's pitching choice for the first game in the world series, Guy Bush continues in the losing rut that has taken a lot away from him as a good winning bet for the post-season debate. He pitched shutout ball for seven innings against the Reds yesterday but then lost out through two singles, a triple and an error, and Red Lucas hung up his nineteenth victory of the season.

Bush has not won a game since he defeated the Reds, 10 to 1, on August 25. His record shows an unusual reversal of form. He won 17 of his first 18 games, his string including 12 consecutive victories; one defeat and one victory followed, and since then Guy has been charged with four straight defeats and has been lifted out of five of his last seven consests.

DEATH has called another prominent baseball figure of the old days in the person of Elton Chamberlain, former major league pitcher. He was naturally a right-hander, but old-timers declare he also developed to an unusual degree ability to pitch with his left arm as well. Chamberlain was with the Philadelphia Athletics of the American Association when that league disbanded after the season of 1891.

The following year the Cincinnati Nationals signed him, along with Charley Comiskey, present owner of the White Sox, and Tip O'Neil, of the St. Louis Browns.

Elton pitched three seasons for the Reds, during which time Comiskey was manager and first baseman. When Comiskey left after the 1894 race to become owner of the St. Paul club in the Western League, Chamberlain was dropped by the new Cincinnati manager, Buck Ewing, and retired from the big show.

THE first complete season of outdoor boxing ever put through in the Pittsburgh district on the basis of regular weekly shows was a most successful one, as shown by the attendance figures for the summer period at the North Braddock Bowl, which closed last

TOMORROW—THE TOWER THAT OVERLOOKS SIX STATES.

TEAMS' MENTAL ATTITUDE INCREASINGLY BIG FACTOR--HARPSTER

By Howard Harpster

(All-America Quarterback at Carnegie Tech in 1928; Captain of All-East Team; Praised by Critics as Player With the Mind of a Coach; Coach at Shady Side Academy, Pittsburgh, This Fall.)

FOOTBALL, the king of American sports, the game which on a single Saturday is witnessed by more spectators than most other sports attract in a season, undoubtedly is going to have its greatest year this fall. Interest in football is ever increasing and when you consider that on one Saturday last October, in the city of Chicago, there were more than 180,000 people witnessing college football games, you begin to realize the amount of popularity which this great American game has attained.

Howard Harpster.

The columns upon columns which the newspapers of the country devote to football, the number of stadia which have been erected and the fact that recently there have been many intersectional games played leave no doubt as to the popularity which football now enjoys. Even the game itself has definitely advanced, so that today it is more scientific, more complex and more difficult than ever before. Whereas, in the olden days, football was a mass game and a physical struggle between giant teams, today it is a game of skill, with cleverness and brains more to be desired than brawn and muscle.

Power, deception, timing rhythm, speed, accuracy, all go to make up the modern game, while the mental attitude of the players and the psychology used to "set" a team for a game have more to do with the outcome of football struggles than any other factors.

In a game between two big college teams, such as the Yale-Princeton, the Michigan-Ohio State or the Pitt-Carnegie Tech games, I believe there is very little difference to be found in the physical ability and the strength of the rivals. I also believe that the playing ability of the respective teams is very nearly equal, judging merely from the natural skill of the players, and that one school has just as good passing, blocking, tackling, etc., as the other.

Mental Attitude Big Factor

WHAT is it then that makes a team look so impressive on one Saturday and so miserable the next? What is it that causes the so-called "upsets" and what are the deciding factors in the winning and losing of football games?

I believe that it is not the difference of two teams in physical strength or playing skill that wins or loses football games, but, rather, the mental attitude of the players and the smartness of the attack, or the cleverness with which the teams are directed.

The responsibility for these two factors is assumed by two men, the coach and the quarterback. It is the coach's task to arouse his team, to have his players keyed up and "set," mentally, when the game starts. From then on it is the quarterback's job to direct the attack and many games have been won or lost by that player's ability to select the right plays at the right time.

It is the aim of every coach to have his team fighting mad when it steps onto the field previous to a major game. It is a well-known fact that a team's playing efficiency varies greatly, according to the frame of mind of the players. If the players are aroused, if they are determined, and if they go onto the field with the desire to win, they will play many times better football than if they go into a game lukewarm, without determination and with little or no fight.

There is an old saying that "a team that won't be licked, can't be licked," and every coach strives to arouse his players so that they will constitute a team that won't be licked. Some of the last-minute talks of coaches to their teams are masterpieces and the average fan little realizes the efforts coaches make to get their teams "set." Many methods are used to accomplish this end. Some coaches touch upon a player's pride, others arouse his sympathy. Some coaches shout and curse their teams, while others are quiet and reserved.

'Dying' Teammate Inspiration

COACH SCHISSLER, of Oregon State College, used a unique method of arousing his players before the Carnegie Tech game at Portland, in 1927. George Scott, the Oregon halfback, had been taken ill with pneumonia on the Monday before the game and at game time on Saturday was considered, at the hospital, to be critically ill. Schissler gathered his players about him just before he sent them on the field and said:

"Boys, I have just received word from the hospital that George is very low. He thinks of nothing but the game and the doctors have informed me that they are basing their hopes for his recovery upon the outcome of this game. If Oregon wins today, Scott will rally, but, if we lose, the doctors are afraid the worry and disheartening news will cause him to suffer a relapse. Now, boys, you've got to go out and win this one for a boy who is fighting for life—your teammate, George Scott."

This reasoning may sound a little far-fetched, but if you could have seen the way that Oregon team fought you would have known that it was an inspired team, a team that wouldn't be licked. The game ended 14 to 14, so—according to Schissler's theory—Scott still should be in the hospital. However, I learned, soon after our return to Pittsburgh that he had recovered.

DOROTHY HURD WINNER OVER LOCAL STAR

OAKLAND HILLS COUNTRY CLUB, BIRMINGHAM, Mich., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—After scoring an unexpected victory over Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser, of Ottawa, yesterday in the first round of the national women's golf championship, Miss Anjeannette Hunter, of the Stanton Heights Golf Club of Pittsburgh, today was eliminated in a second-round match, losing to Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, a former Pittsburgher and now a resident of Philadelphia, by a lop-sided score of 8 and 8. Mrs. Hurd has held the women's championship three times.

WINNER TAKES NINE HOLES

Mrs. Hurd won nine holes and halved only one, the fourth, with a par four. The Pittsburgh girl who yesterday upset Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser, another three-time champion, from Ottawa, Canada, was 11 strokes over par for the 10 holes today as compared to Mrs. Hurd's score of one under perfect figures. Their cards:

Par, out.....	5	5	3	5	5	4	5	5	4	—41

GLENNA IS VICTOR

Glenna Collett, of Pebble Beach, Cal., seeking her fourth national women's golf championship, circled the course with par-shattering golf to swamp Maureen Orcutt, of White Beeches, N. J., 7 and 5. The champion lost only one hole—the ninth.

CHAMP HURDLER OHIO STATE FULLBACK

By LESTER J. BIEDERMAN,
Special Correspondent.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 2.—Sam Willaman, Ohio State football coach, is in such desperate straits for a fullback that he welcomed with open arms Dick Rockaway, Ohio's world champion 220-yard low hurdler as a candidate for that position.

Rockaway is a senior weighing close to 175 pounds and standing six feet in height and should be able to accomplish some pile driving tactics, the lack of which on the part of Ohio's fullback prospects this season has been outstanding.

PECK PROTEGE

He played two years of football at Culver Military Academy under Bob Peck, former all-America star at Pitt, but has never donned the moleskins at Ohio State.

His hurdling form makes him a good bet to sidestep would-be tacklers and in track he has gained the necessary momentum to drive into a line for the additional yardage every fullback aims to accomplish. Rockaway is the second track performer to report for the grid squad at Ohio State this fall. George Simpson, world dash champ preceding Rockaway, is the other, but he dropped out when a trip to Australia this winter beckoned him, and started training immediately.

Willaman has used Joe Ujhelyi at fullback during all the practice sessions, but there was something lacking. Ujhelyi was shifted back to his old post at guard in yesterday's practice workout.

HOLCOMB TOO LIGHT

Stewart Holcomb, Erie boy, weighing only 165 pounds, was shoved into the breach in Saturday's game against the Reserves, but his weight acted as a handicap.

If Rockaway shows any kind of form at the fullback post, Pitt fans will get a glimpse of a world champion hurdler in action doing fullback duty when the Buckeyes clash with the Panthers at the Pitt Stadium, November 2. This latest drastic move on the part of Coach Willaman is only another gesture of the Buckeye tutor to correct some glaring weaknesses apparent on the Ohio team.

LITTLE WORLD SERIES OPENS

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The Kansas City Blues, champions of the American Association, and the Rochester Red Wings, International League flag winners, will meet here today in the first game of the little world series.

The Rochester Club worked out yesterday at Muehlebach Field for two hours before giving way to the Blues, who came direct to the field from a Victory Luncheon given to them by Kansas City fans. Rochester players were invited to the spread, but Manager Billy Southworth thought it better they devote the time to getting acquainted with the spacious Kansas City ball park.

Tex Carleton, right-handed no-hit hurler of Rochester, probably will start for the International League representatives. Manager Dutch Zwilling, of the Blues, was undecided between Tom Sheehan and Pearidge Day, both right-handers, and Young Max Thomas, sensational youthful portsider.

Games are scheduled in Kansas City today, tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday. The teams then go to Rochester. The club winning five games takes the series.

GRUDGE TILT CARDED

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 2.—Much interest is being shown in the football game scheduled here Friday, when Waynesburg high plays North Union Township High, of Fayette County. The game is expected to develop into a grudge battle, as North Union decisevly defeated Waynesburg here last season.

LAST OF CUB WORLD SERIES DUCATS MAILED

CHICAGO CLUB TURNS DOWN $1,190,640

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Not another reserved seat ticket for world series games in Wrigley Field remains in the Cub offices. The last batch of ducats for successful applicants was put into the mails yesterday, along with thousands of formal regret notices.

William L. Veeck, president of the club, believes the number of requests for tickets to series games in Chicago to be the largest any club has experienced in the history of the classic. Lack of seating facilities made it necessary to turn down 32,800 applicants for tickets to the two, and possibly three contests which will be played here. With the applications averaging requests for two seats, making a total of nearly 65,000, it was necessary to pass up $1,190,640 worth of business.

Between $250,000 and $300,000 was returned to applicants who violated the regulations by asking for more than two seats.

Tickets have been reaching lucky purchasers during the last two days, but no scalper activity has been reported. Several ticket agencies which have raised signs reading "world series tickets bought and sold" are being watched by special agents of the Department of Internal Revenue to see that there are no law violations. The law requires a tax of 50 per cent of the excess price charged for a resold ticket.

While all the tickets have been sent out, returning checks to unsuccessful applicants will require another day.

WOMEN PLAY AT ALCOMA

By VERN SWARTSFAGER

Suitable weather conditions prevailing, teams of Section 2 of the Women's Golf Association of Western Pennsylvania will participate in their final team match of the group at the Alcoma Country Club today, according to Mrs. H. C. Anderson, captain. If it blows up cold, or rainy, the contests will be postponed.

The feature of today's 18-hole contests, if they are played, will be in the resourcefulness of the Chartiers Heights and Shannopin Country club teams, which have been running a close race for top honors this season. Chartiers Heights was leading by a small margin until today's matches.

The winner of Section 2 will play either the Pittsburgh Field Club or Allegheny, of Section 1, for the right to continue in Section 1.

Miss Anjeannette Hunter, of Stanton Heights, former West Penn champion, who eliminated Mrs. Aleva Stirling Fraser, of Canada, Bobby Jones' pal of his boyhood days, is meeting a former Pittsburgher, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Merion, today.

Col. Franklin Blackstone, chairman of the state and National golf committees of the Sons of the American Revolution, has complied with the request of President Millspaugh, of the Tennessee Society, and extended the closing date of the S. A. R. National tournament to Thursday, October 31. Score cards are being sent to the official scorer, A. W. Wall, Farmers Bank Building.

Jack Gross Stops Herman in Third

READING, Pa., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Jack Gross, Salem, N. J., southpaw, knocked out Italian Jack Herman, of New York, in the third of a scheduled eight round bout, here last night. Gross weighed 213 and Herman 187.

In the semi-wind up Tom Toner, 194, Philadelphia, received the judges' decision over Leonard Dixon 200, Alabama, in eight rounds.

Tiny Hoffner, 215, Reading, knocked out Russ Eckert, 192, Allentown, scored a technical knock out over Frankie Brown, 180, Philadelphia, in the fourth, while Tommy de Maio, 201, Stony Creek, knocked out Frank Oliver, 190, Reading, in the second round.

DICK SHIKAT VICTOR

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Dick Shikat, recognized by several state athletic commissions as a world championship wrestler, pinned Frank Brunowiecz, New York, in 22 minutes 31 seconds, with a body slam here last night. Shikat weighed 216, Brunowiecz 212.

Fight Results

At Butler — Harold Scarney knocked out (technical) Ray Fay, 2 rounds; Freddie Boylestein knocked out (technical) Joey Reynolds, 8 rounds; Casey Hayes knocked out (technical) Roy Taggart, 3 rounds; Young Berry knocked out Luther McCarthy, 4 rounds; Albert Shurra defeated Kid Sapienza, 6 rounds.

holes in 37, four under par to gain her big lead, while the best accomplished by Miss Orcutt, conqueror of Helen Hicks yesterday, was a par 41.

The champion bagged four birdies on the journey and did not go over par on a single hole. The only hole she lost was the short ninth where she misjudged her drive. It was the first hole she dropped in 25 holes played in the tournament, as her first round opponent was unable to gain any yesterday.

While Miss Orcutt was wild with her pitches, the champion was spectacular in that department, frequently placing her approach shots to within easy putting distance of the cup. She also out-drove Miss Orcutt off every tee except one.

PIRATES TRIM RICHMOND

RICHMOND, Ind., Oct. 2.—In a game played in weather more suitable for football than baseball, the Pittsburgh Pirates easily defeated the Richmond K. I. O. League nine, 14 to 5, here yesterday.

The Pirates started all their regulars with the exception of Hemsley, and immediately took a six-run lead in the first two innings.

French, rookie Southpaw, who did the flinging for the Pirates, had a big time during the game, letting the local boys get on base and then bearing down to set them down in order. This little stunt worked on two of three occasions, but on the third, in the sixth inning, Minner slammed one of French's offerings for a triple with the bases loaded. He scored a minute later when McElroy followed with another triple.

Lloyd Waner had a big day at bat, playing the first five innings and getting three hits and three runs in three trips to the plate. Mosolf's home run over the center field fence was the longest ever hit in the local park. The score:

Coach Biff Jones Shakes Up Line

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 2.—(INS.)—Dissatisfied with the work of the Army line in last week's game, Coach Biff Jones has juggled his forward wall until only two letter-men of last year's squad, Ferry and Humber, remain on the first eleven. The backfield remained unchanged in yesterday's drill.

DUKES' HOPES AGAINST W. VA. ARE GLOOMY

Elmer Layden's Dukes are in for a hard drubbing on the line Saturday when t' y journey to Morgantown to tackle West Virginia. The Mountaineers should have come out of their contest with D. & E. far better than they did and will be out to remove the sting of that defeat from their own minds. The result will be a harder tussle for the Bluffites.

The question of weight may mean all the difference between success or failure for Duquesne since the wearers of the Red and Blue are far lighter than the husky Mountaineers of Coach Ira Rodgers. Added to these facts is the discouraging showing which the Dukes have made in their first two encounters of the season.

It is apparent, however, that the poor performance of the Duquesne teams which Elmer Layden sent into the contests at various times when he made his usual wholesale substitutions was partly well calculated to deceive any and all scouts in the Bluff stands. But on the other hand, it is hardly possible that Layden directed his men to make the loose handling of the ball which showed up and the poor defensive work also parts of the camouflage.

None except the incurable campus optimist looks to the Layden outfit to win. The more sober minded Duke adherents are hoping for a low score which would be in the nature of the well-known "moral victory." Others are out and out pessimists in their expectancy of a bad beating at the hand of the big West Virginians.

Nevertheless, preparations on an elaborate scale are being made for the attendance at the game. A special train has already been arranged for. Motor busses are being chartered by special groups of students and some word has come from the law school that about 15 students will fly to the big contest. The team will leave Friday afternoon or evening while the huge motorcades and the special train will get under way early Saturday morning.

An aerial attack may prove the Duquesne trump card, notwithstanding the fact that such a scoring method proved quite futile for the Bluff gridders against even so light a team as Slippery Rock.

PITT TEAM SELECTED

Following a light dummy scrimmage with the second team using Duke University plays, the 33 players who will leave here tomorrow evening to represent Pitt at Durham on Saturday were announced by the local coaching staff.

In the workout yesterday Edwards and Baker continued their stereotyped alternation at the quarterback post while the starting line which faced Waynesburg held their places in the first string lineup. That will probably be the eleven to hear the opening whistle Saturday.

The local party will be headed by Coaches Sutherland and Bowser, Trainer George (Bud) Moore, Custodian of Equipment Percy Browne, Manager Joseph Bower, Team Physician Dr. H. A. R. Shaner and Assistant Athletic Director James Hagan will help with the many details connected with the trip.

KARCIS OUT AGAIN

The Monaca star is having a decidedly bothersome time with his finger infection and Skibo coaches are taking no chances of furthering the injury at this early date.

Unless he shows decided improvement before the end of the week he is likely to ride on the sidelines against the Lutherans.

Trainer Bert Munhall expressed hope that Jimmy Traa, the promising halfback from South Hills High school will get back into uniform soon. The former Tunnelite star suffered a severe leg injury in an early scrimmage but is rapidly regaining normal strength.

W. & J.-PITT SIGN

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 2.—All rumors that Washington & Jefferson would not be given a favorable date on the Pitt schedule next season, or that the Panthers were considering the elimination of the Presidents as an opponent, were set at rest when Graduate Manager William G. Theurer, of W. & J., announced that contracts had been signed for a combat at the Pitt Stadium on November 16, 1930.

The game agreement will give Wash-Jeff two Pittsburgh engagements as negotiations had already been closed for a game there with Carnegie Tech. Other games certain on the Wash-Jeff card for 1930, are Temple, at Philapelphia; Bucknell, at Washington, and Lafayette at Easton.

West Virginia may be played in Washington.

W. VA. SECONDS WORK

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 2.—With the West Virginia University regular staff still depleted by injuries, Head Coach Ira Rodgers had virtually his whole second team in play against the Freshman squad in the regular weekly scrimmage session. The only regular started was Ike Lewis, guard, and before the practice had been completed he had suffered a severe sprain to his left ankle and may be forced out of the lineup for an indefinite period. The exact extent of the injury will be determined today by x-ray.

Eddie Stump, Buss Larue, Ed Bartuna, Nelson Lang, Clint Carrico, Dally Beall, Gene Joseph, Red Gordon, Louis Varney and Capt. Little Sleepy Glenn, all Varsity regulars, are suffering minor injuries and did not take part in the rough session with the yearlings. Johnny Doyle, sophomore halfback, continued to flash good form as field general and as a ball-toter, while Tarzan Glenn's performance from right halfback also was outstanding.

MORE RAIN AT DURHAM

DURHAM, N. C., Oct. 2.—The Duke practice field is a sea of mud and water. In the last 24 hours three inches of rain has fallen, more than Durham received during all of last October. This three-inch rain, on top of light rains for the last three weeks, has seriously affected the practice of the Blue Devils for Saturday's game with Pitt.

Yesterday afternoon the coaches sent the men to the field and they splashed about for 45 minutes. They scrimmaged as usual, but the water was ankle deep over most of the field and the practice was finally called off. Then the squad was gathered in the gym for a long session at calisthenics, the first the Blue Devils have had this year. There has been little work done with the forward passing attack since the second week of practice, although the Blue Devils did use an aerial attack against Mercer last Saturday, to good effect.

BUNTACH ADDS PANKA TO STABLE

By HARRY KECK, Sports Editor.

The wild chase of upwards of a score of managers to sign George Panka, promising young heavyweight, of Homestead, to box under their direction apparently is at an end.

Following a long conference yesterday, Panka signed on the dotted line to box under the management of Bunny Buntach, of Swissvale, for the next three years. Buntach also manages Buck McTiernan, classy Swissvale welterweight, and Bobby Burns, Swissvale bantamweight, and the addition of Panka to his string gives him just about the best stable of boxers in the district.

Last Saturday, Panka confirmed an announcement that he had decided to cast his lot with I. D. (Apples) Meyers, one of the three Meyers Brothers, promoters of the Meyers Bowl fame. On Monday, reports began to circulate that he had changed his mind and planned to leave town to escape the wild siege the many managers were laying at his door for the right to handle him because of the hit he had registered in turning in a series of knockout victories in Oklahoma and here. All sorts of rumors followed until Buntach came up last night with the contract duly signed and witnessed that makes him the legal manager of one of the best looking young heavyweight boxers in the country.

Bunny Buntach

Panka's next start will be with K. O. Blackburn, of Louisville, in the six-round second bout at Motor Square Garden next Monday night.

PERLICK TWINS COMING

The Perlick Twins, of Kalamazoo, Mich., who appear in the double windup at the Garden Monday, Herman meeting Marty Silvers, of Brooklyn, and Henry opposing Joey Goodman, of Cleveland, will arrive in town Saturday to finish their training. They are twins in every sense of the word. Even their manager Manny Schupan, has difficulty telling them apart. Their records also run along parallel lines. Each has fought the topnotchers and they have battled, between them, Armando Santiago, Roger Bernard, conqueror of Tony Herrers; Jack Berg, Sailor Kosky, Harry Kahn, Harry (Kid) Brown, Joey Nedill and Herrera. They will be making their first appearance in the Eastern states in their battles here.

Henry Perlick

Herman Perlick

Marty Silvers, who meets Herman Perlick, has boxed Joey Kaufman, Sid Terris, Chick Suggs, Ray Miller, Augie Pisano and Andy Martin, and figures to be a tough foe for the young Michigander. Goodman is a young Jewish lad, originally from Baltimore, who has been fighting with fine success under the management of Jimmy Dunn, of Cleveland.

The Garden card is complete, Young Corsey, of Canton, O., and U. S. Carpentier, of New Kensington, featherweights, being booked for the opening bout.

George Engel, former local manager of boxers, who has been in New York for the last 20 years, is visiting relatives in East Pittsburgh. The former manager of Frank Klaus and Harry Greb, local products who held the world middleweight title, still is very active in the boxing game, being associated in the management of Al Singer, the New York featherweight star, and several other good boxers. He looks as youthful as ever, if not more so.

MICHAELS FUND RAISED

Friends of Johnny Michaels, the local boxer, formerly of Jamestown, N. Y., who died in the Allegheny General Hospital yesterday from injuries suffered in an automobile accident at Sixth street and Duquesne way Sunday morning, had raised more than $500 toward paying his doctor and hospital expenses and will divert much of this toward funeral arrangements. The wife and young child of the boxer arrived in Pittsburgh shortly before he died and were at the bedside when the end came. The body will be sent to Jamestown for burial. George Kelly, friend of Johnny, is in charge of arrangements. Michaels suffered a shattered leg and crushed pelvic bone in the accident and underwent two operations before he died. He was a southpaw boxer of fair skill who came here several years ago from Jamestown and appeared in a number of bouts in this section.

Young Kansas, a featherweight boxer, of Holyoke, Mass., is in town seeking action against the best men his weight here. He has boxed Young Montreal, Chick Suggs and other good ones down East. Max Zucker, his manager, may be reached by calling Court 3440.

Tommy Dacey and Dandy Allen box the main bout of a show at Bradford, Pa., tonight. Eddie Ryan and Billy Fisk are in the semi-final.

Tiger Joe Randall will box the main bout of a show at Johnstown, October 17. The boxing commission has refused to sanction Johnny DeMarco, of Philadelphia, as his opponent, and Promoter Cooney Martin now is on the lookout for another foe.

Al Fay, Charleroi heavyweight protege of Jack Kearns, meets Babe Hunt, Oklahoma star, in the main bout of a show at Oklahoma City next Monday night.

DAVIES' ENTRY SOUGHT

Jim Buchanan, of Charleroi, manager of Willie Davies, the flyweight ace, has received a telegram from Tom McArdle, matchmaker of Madison Square Garden, New York, advising him that six boxers already have entered the flyweight tournament to open in the Garden, November 4, and urging that Willie's entry be sent in. It is desired to have eight starters in the field, and the winner will be recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission as the new champion.

NET FAVORITES ARE PRESSED

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Favorites found the going harder yesterday as the singles events of the Middle Atlantic States intercollegiate tennis tournament neared the final rounds.

Edward Graham, of North Carolina, was forced to three sets to defeat Frank Braedy, of Washington & Lee, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2, and Fred Johns, of Virginia, found difficulty in downing James Allen, Jr., of Davis & Elkins, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

C. Alphonso Smith, Jr., of Virginia, reached the quarter-finals with a straight-set victory over F. X. Brewka, of Washington & Lee, 6-1, 7-5.

Doubles competition for the Greenbrier trophy was interrupted by rain, together with the second round singles match between Edgar Yeomans, of North Carolina, and Herbert Levis, of West Virginia. Robert Clapp and Rand Shields, of Washington & Lee, easily defeated Smith and Leeming, of Greenbrier, in the only doubles match played.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

Answered by

CYRIL WALKER

Former National Open Champion.

This is neither right nor wrong. The question of putting, more than of any other stroke in golf, is a question of individuality. If you feel that you could do better by standing on one leg, by all means do it.

The one eye closed may appeal to some people, but my advice is to keep them both open. I have seen all kinds of styles and whims in putting. Some people putt off the right heel, some off the left, and some off the center of the two feet, each having a relative measure of success and disappointment.

TENER TO HEAR SERIES FROM SICK BED

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

He has loved baseball for nearly all of his 66 years; he has given it a prestige and dignity unmatched by any other person—he hasn't got a ticket for the world series, and if he did have one he couldn't go, for John K. Tener, former Governor of Pennsylvania, past grand exalted ruler of the Elks, former president of the National League, and a star pitcher of the league 40 years ago, is in bed fighting successfully after an attack of pneumonia with complications.

A victory over a big-league ball club ever has been regarded as a crowning glory to this upstanding man who won national fame in more serious fields. At the West Penn Hospital yesterday, a pretty nurse said she was sorry but Mr. Tener was to have no visitors. Eventually, however, the nurse considered the suggestion that a little baseball discussion might act as a tonic to the sick man and when she mentioned it quietly to the patient it made it unanimous, but not as quietly as her approach.

HEART WITH CUBS

Well, anyhow, the game was called at the end of the first inning by the soft-spoken umpire with the smile but firm demeanor.

"You may speak to him for two or three minutes," said the umps who threatened to pull out the watch.

The still powerful arm that often stopped .300 hitters and made impressive gestures in legislative halls was extended, accompanied by a greeting to "put your coat on the bed, sit down and let's have a little talk."

"But you know whom I'm pulling for, of course," he elaborated. "Once a National Leaguer, always a National Leaguer."

NO SET-UPS

"Say, what about those Chicago pitchers," queried the patient, who seemed to be forgetting he was ill.

At this point the nurse began to take on some Bill Klem seriousness, indicating she was getting ready to call the game.

"Those fellows surely must have a lot of stuff on the ball, but do they know how to pitch?" continued John K.

"You know fellows like Al Simmons are not going to be any setup for any pitcher. That boy is a whale of a hitter. He stands up there something like Heinie Groh, but you watch his stance as he meets the ball and you will see that he has all his power in his swing.

"Wrigley and McCarthy have shown them something, haven't they? It ought to be a fine series, but much as I like Connie, I'm hook, line and sinker for the Cubs."

The smiling face of the sick man apparently became aware of the nurse's feelings by this time and he agreed to a postponent. But he says he will be all set to listen in next Tuesday, and the umpire said she would take it under advisement.

Handicap Features Jamaica Opening

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—The Interborough Handicap will feature the opening today of the 13-day meeting at Jamaica.

The Jamaica meeting will be followed by the 14-day session at Empire City, which will mark the end of racing in the Metropolitan district for the year.

Frisch Resting After Operation

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Frankie Frisch, Cardinal second baseman, underwent a minor operation here yesterday and was resting well today. He probably will be released within a week.

BENEFIT RING SHOW SUCCESS

More than $1,100 was raised for Matt Cooney, Homewood athlete, who lost a leg in an accident a few months ago, at the benefit boxing show staged at Motor Square Garden last night.

Tiger Griffith, of Clairton, scored the only knockout of the show when he stopped John Ock, of the Willow Club, in the second round. Many of the leading amateur boxers of the West Penn district appeared on the card. The summary:

Officials were: Referee, Billy Simendinger and M. J. Connors; judges, Harry I. Neiman and Chester A. Philips; timer, Dr. George Todd; announcer, Ray Eberle.

COOPER WINS RIVERSIDE TOURNEY

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Pa., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Harry Cooper, of Buffalo, won the annual two-day professional tournament at the Riverside Golf Club yesterday when he turned in a 72-hole card of 282, to give him an eight-stroke lead over Ted Luther, Corry, Pa., pro, and Jack Gordon, of Buffalo. Luther and Gordon tied for second place with 290.

In a special team match arranged for the final 36 holes yesterday, Perry Delvecchio, of Greensburg, P. O. Hart, of Wheeling, Charley Manning of Shannopin, and Vincent Eldred, of Highland, defeated a Buffalo quartet composed of Cooper, Gordon, Earl Rowley and W. H. Loomis. The count was 590 to 596.

Scarney, Boylestein Win by Knockouts

BUTLER, Oct. 2.—Harold Scarney, of Youngstown, scored a technical knockout over Ray Fay, of Butler, in the second round of a scheduled 10-round fight, the final open air show here, last night. Fay was sent to the canvas five times before his seconds finally threw in the towel.

Freddie Boylstein, of Kittanning, won on a technical knockout over Joey Reynolds, of Pittsburgh, when Referee Jack Henderson stopped the slaughter in the third. Casey Hayes, McKeesport, won a technical knockout over Roy Taggert, of Butler, when the latter broke his wrist in the third.

week. The three Meyers brothers promoted 19 fistic shows there, under management of I. D. (Apples) Meyers, and the attendance averaged almost 3,000 per show. The total attendance for the summer was 56,246 and the total of paid admissons was 53,939.

I. D. Meyers

THIS is a grand average of 2,960 per show, and an average of 2,786 paid. Twice the number of persons present exceeded 5,000. The largest crowd was that attending the show of July 29, when the paid admissions totaled 5,780.

The handlers, seconds, officials and others swelled the figures on that date to 5,895, just 15 short of the 6,000 mark. The next largest was 5,539 paid and 5,679 total, on July 8. The smallest gathering was that of July 4, when there were 1,142 paid admissions and a total attendance of 1,227. The figures demonstrate that the Pittsburgh district will support boxing the year 'round.

IRWIN MOHAWKS PLAY OAKLAND SUNDAY

BIG WEEK-END GRID SLATE IN SIGHT

By TOM BIRKS.

The best independent football game flashed in the city limits for many moons will be played at the Frazier street grounds Sunday when Abe Goldstein's Oakland Community team, fresh from its victory over the Twenty-sixth Ward leaders in its initial game, clashes with the Irwin Mohawks, one of the best-coached clubs along the Main Line. The Mohawks have been trying to get into Pittsburgh territory for a long time and rapped up the chance to clash with the Community aggregation.

FANS SURPRISED

Fans were surprised when the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph announced that the East Pittsburgh Firemen and the McKeesport Olympics had signed on the dotted line for a two-game series beginning Sunday, at Dorbrow Gardens. That went to upset the fallacy that big clubs are hard to get together. Two managers with an incentive to cut out the gyp stuff easily can get together and arrange terms.

And one of the greatest crowds that ever watched an independent football game is expected to crowd Rainbow Gardens Sunday.

East Liverpool, another team anxious to crash into Pittsburgh's independent schedule, defeated the Marshall Tech in its opening game, and Saturday will meet the Homewood Tylers at East Liverpool. The Tylers played a scoreless tie with the New Kensington Olympics last Sunday, it being quite a feat, seeing that the Olympics had copped eight straight games last season.

Homewood looked good in its initial battle, and Tyler is looking for other fields to conquer. Burns will meet the Charleroi Whippets. Hector Kennedy, genial manager of the McChesneytown outfit, watched the Whippets battle with Port Vue last Sunday and stated that the Whippets had more fight than any team he had seen in the gridiron. So Burns may have a tough afternoon.

CRIMSONS WANT GAME

The McKeesport Crimson Bulldogs are looking for a game abroad Sunday. The Crimsons have a good reputation and are willing to meet the best clubs in the district. For games call McKeesport 5995 and ask for Handel.

Pleasant Valley Smilers will be the attraction of the Ambridge Mystics Saturday. The Smilers made a wonderful showing against Burns and the McKeesport Olympics and expect to defeat Pat Comore's club. The Mystics kept in the titular race last season until eliminated by McChesneytown, but Comore feels his club is far better this season.

The New Kensington Olympics, undefeated last season, are looking for a game abroad Sunday. Manager Seaman was faced with a cancellation last evening. Managers wishing to book this attraction should call New Kensington 1067, and ask for Seaman.

Dempsey in Debut As Promoter Tonight

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Jack Dempsey will return to active participation in the boxing business tonight—not a scowling, panther-like Dempsey throwing padded gloves, but a smiling, slightly heavier Dempsey offering his first boxing program as a promoter in his own right.

The Manassa Mauler will make his premier in the new role in the Chicago Coliseum, less than a mile from Soldier Field, where he fought his last battle with Gene Tunney two years and 10 days ago.

Dempsey, scarcely less of a drawing card than he was as a fighter, was assured of a capacity crowd in the remodeled coliseum. New seating arrangements have increased the capacity to 11,000, which would bring a gate of about $50,000.

PANTHERS HEAD FOR DURHAM

By JESS CARVER

Pitt's first athletic invasion of the southland will begin tonight when the varsity football squad entrains over the B. & O. for Durham, N. C., where on Saturday the Panthers will assist in the dedicatory ceremonies at Duke University's new stadium. The Panthers' part in the program will be to engage Jimmy DeHart, himself a former Pitt all-America quarterback star, and his Duke gridiron warriors in what promises to be one honey of a football game.

THREE CONTINGENTS

There will be three contingents of Pitt forces to invade Durham. Following the departure tonight of the footballers themselves, accompanied by the coaches, trainers, physicians and newspapermen, another special train will puff out tomorrow, carrying the Pitt band and a flock of students and alumni, who intend to look on as Pitt helps make football history in the South.

The third contingent will consist of a group of four Pitt men, who will make the jaunt via the air in one of the Mayer Aircraft Corporation's swift planes Friday.

The block of 50 tickets sent here by the Duke people for sall all have been purchased and a number of local people are intending to drive to the game. For the benefit of any of these folks who do not wish to tour in the rain, Pitt officials have announced that there are a number of berths on tomorrow night's special unsold. An extra set of tickets have also been ordered for those who wish to make an eleventh-hour buy.

COACHES LEAVE

In addition to the players, the group departing tonight will include Head Coach Dr. John Bain Sutherland, Assistant Coach Charley Bowers, Joe Bower, student manager; Bud Moore, trainer, and Dr. Harry Shanor, team physician.

The team will be taken for a sightseeing tour of Washington, D. C., tomorrow and will practice at Georgetown University's field in the afternoon, departing for Durham at 12:20 midnight.

VARNEY AT FULLBACK

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 2.—Next Saturday, at Mountaineer Field, the Duquesne University eleven will be called upon to stop one of the best line plungers in West Virginia University football history if they expect to keep the Mountaineers from crossing their goal line.

Louis Varney, a junior, already has fully demonstrated that he is capable of filling the post left vacant by the graduation of ex-Capt. Keefer last year. When the Mountaineers assembled at Camp Jacksons Mills on September 1, all positions, except fullback, were apparently well fortified, but there was considerable doubt concerning the ability of fullback candidates. Lou Varney, Francis Gleen and George Haddock. For two weeks Varney, Glenn and Haddock waged a fight for the position on even terms, but in the Wesleyan and Davis-Elkins games the 184-pound Varney plunged and bucked his way through the Bobcat and Senator forwards to clinch the fullback job.

Rajah Raises Average in Big Six

Associated Press

With all except two of the major league teams idle yesterday, Rogers Hornsby was the only member of the Big Six in action. The Chicago Rajah combed Red Lucas for three singles in four attempts at Cincinnati, lifting his average three points to .380. He still has a chance to finish second in the race for the batting championship of the National League and the Big Six. The standing:

KERWIN, ROSE DRAW

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—George Kerwin, Chicago, and Billy Rose, Cincinnati, welterweights, boxed a slashing 10-round draw here last night. Frankie Palmo, Cincinnati, won handily from Norman Brown, Chicago, in six rounds.

GROVERS PLAN ON DEFENSE

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 2.—Seeking a defense against forward passing, Coach Charley Berry resumed practice with the Crimson squad yesterday. Adrian completed too many tosses to please the local grid leader, who plans several sesions this week devoted to this phase of defense.

St. Francis, bringing a highly touted aerial attack, will be Grove City's opponent next Saturday.

JACKETS RESUME DRILLS

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 2.—heartened, by their grueling game hearted, by their grueling game with the University of Pittsburgh gridders last Saturday, members of the Waynesburg college football squad yesterday started preparation for their coming game with Iniana State Teachers college here Saturday.

The game will be the last home game of the season for the Yellow Jackets, who will launch their quest for the Tri-State Conference title immediately following the Indiana engagement.

SYRACUSE KEPT BUSY

Violets Lose Center For Wesleyan Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(INS.)—New York University has suffered its first major football casualty of the season. Harry Schneider, veteran center, wrenched a shoulder in scrimmage and will be on the sidelines when the Violets tackle West Virginia Wesleyan. Chick Meehan's desire for another punter may be fulfilled by Charles Marshall, an end.

Rain Wipes Out Mack-Nat Games

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—The doubleheader scheduled between the Philadelphia Athletics and Washington today was declared off because of rain. As the two clubs do not meet again, the games will not be played. The American League season in Philadelphia is now closed. The new champions have only two more games to play, with the Yankees in New York, Saturday and Sunday.

MID-ATLANTIC SELLS 21 PLAYERS

Twenty-one players who saw service with six of the eight teams in the Middle Atlantic League were sold to leagues of higher classification at the close of the 1929 baseball campaign, according to information furnished by Elmer W. Daily, of Windber, Pa., president of the loop. This is probably a record sale for a "Class C" circuit in one season.

Wheeling and Scottdale, the latter a St. Louis Cardinal "farm," sold seven players apiece, while Charleroi, champion of the league, Clarksburg and Jeannette were fortunate in selling two tossers and Fairmont sold one. The records disclose that Johnstown and Cumberland failed to sell a single player. The flock of players purchased included seven pitchers, seven infielders and a like number of outfielders. The players sold were as follows:

SCOTTDALE.

Harold Grant, first baseman, to Fort Wayne.
Jimmy Winford and Lefty Heise, pitchers, and Bill Boland, outfielder, to Danville.
Frank Crompton, outfielder, to Houston.
William A. Beckman, pitcher, to Fort Wayne.
E. V. Chapman, pitcher, to Rochester.

WHEELING.

Tome Bridge and Cy. Deneering, pitchers, to Evansville.
Harold King, infielder, and William Gwathmey, pitcher, to Toronto.
Ray Bessenbach, outfielder, to Williamsport.
Gerald Welker, outfielder, to Rochester.
Edwin Lowell, first baseman to Pittsburgh Pirates.

CHARLEROI.

William Joseph, shortstop, and Fred Lucts, outfielder, to Scottdale. The latter club has announced that Joseph will be sent to Danville, while Lucas goes to Rochester.

CLARKSBURG.

Joseph Morrissey, shortstop, to Evansville.
Ernie Sabo, third baseman, to Jersey City.

JEANNETTE.

FAIRMONT.

Julius Solters, outfielder, to Baltimore Orioles.
Only one player, Gordon Hinkle, Scottdale, catcher, was recalled. He will join Rochester next spring.

Rutgers Defeats Tiger in Practice

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 2.—(INS.)—The Tiger's tail has been twisted before he got started.

For yesterday in a practice game Rutgers defeated the Princeton eleven, 7 to 6.

Despite the slippery field Rutgers flashed a fine aerial attack and it was a 30-yard pass over the goal line that earned it victory.

SCOUT GRIDIRON CLUB TO SEE TECH GAME

After yelling themselves hoarse in boosting Pitt last Saturday, the members of the Boy Scout Gridiron Club are expected to turn out in full strength next Saturday to cheer the Tartan eleven on to a big win over Thiel in the Stadium.

Four Pitt cheer leaders took care of the ensemble yells of the kids in the Waynesburg game, and special Tech masters of ceremony are preparing to go out and get the shrill voices in chorus for a long "Skibo" and a couple of "Hoot Mons" in the coming clash.

The Boy Scout Gridiron Club is not composed of Boy Scouts only, but it was sponsored by the Allegheny County Council, Boy Scouts of America, with the co-operation of the University of Pittsburgh, Carnegie Institute of Technology and the Pittsburgh Railways Company to encourage an interest in collegiate football by providing the children of the Pittsbrugh district with the opportunity of seeing the games and street car transportation to the stadium and back to their homes for the sum of 25 cents.

Special combination admission tickets and street car passes will go on sale today for Saturday's game at the car houses of the Pittsburgh Railways Company and other offices where street-car passes are sold, and also at Spalding's, 608 Wood street; Joseph Horne's; Honus Wagner's sport store, 812 Liberty avenue; Stauff's, 3806 Forbes street; Beacon Pharmany, 1937 Murray avenue; Mayflower Drug Company, Forbes and Murray; Cullen's drug store, 4649 Center avenue, and the Coraopolis Y. M. C. A.

First Perfect Game Pitcher Is Dead

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 2.—Dr. J. Lee Richmond, who pitched the first perfect big league game, is dead.

On June 12, 1880, on the mound for Worcester, then in the National League, he defeated Cleveland without a man reaching first. He was just out of Brown University.

Frankie Hayes Wins Over Gene Gaffner

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Frankie Hayes, of Philadelphia, won the decision over Gene Gaffner, of Vineland, N. J., in an eight round bout here last night. Hayes weighed 142; Gaffner 150.

In the eight round semi-final, Al Gaffner, 129, of Vineland, won the decision over Hal Murray, 132, of this city. Sammy Slatto, 114, of Philadelphia, won a six round decision over Red Snell, 114, of this city.

Mr. Wilron G. Walters, Retired Prominent Citizen of 1124 Salem Ave., Dayton, Ohio, says

"THE economy of WHITE OWL at 3 for 20 cents is attractive, I'll admit . . . But, far greater than its economy, is the thorough enjoyment of its mild, sweet, full-flavor . . . I get as much sound satisfaction out of WHITE OWL as I do from any 10 cent cigar I ever smoked."

MARKET MEETS WITH STRONG SUPPORT

Activity of Bear Operators Brings Little Evidence of Widespread Liquidation

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Passing of the month-end credit stringency, signalized by the drop from 9 to 7 per cent in call money, stimulated the recovery of prices in today's stock market.

Some irregularity developed during the morning as waves of selling, presumably set in motion by "bear" operators to test recent resistance points, swept through the market, but there was little evidence of any widespread forced liquidation.

EXPECT RALLY

While considerable difference of opinion still exists as to the future course of prices, most of the leading commission houses advised their customers today that the market was entitled to at least a technical rally after nearly three weeks of almost steadily declining prices, which have cut down market values from 10 to 20 per cent in many of the leading issues. Subsidence of foreign selling was an encouraging factor.

Iron Age reported a marked falling off in the automotive demand for steel, due in part to the preparation of manufacturers of low-priced cars for changes in models, but again emphasized the heavy railroad demand. Car loadings for the week ended September 21 showed substantial increases over the corresponding weeks of 1928 and 1927 and the previous week. A further substantial drop in the daily average of crude oil production also was hailed as a bullish factor.

SPECIALTIES RISE

High priced specialties rebounded in rather spectacular fashion on the lifting of selling pressure. J. I. Case and Foster Wheeler preferred each jumped 15 points and Columbian Carbon soared 13¼ to a new high record at 303. Standard Gas and Electric, which dropped more than 20 points yesterday, rallied 11. Westinghouse Electric common and first preferred, Commercial Solvents, Gillette Safety Razor, Timken Roller Bearing, American Machine and Foundry, General Electric, National Biscuit Ladlum Steel, and A. M. Byers, sold 5 to 10 points higher.

United States Steel common, Pullman, International Harvester, American and Foreign Power, and Industrial Alcohol and New York Central were among the many issues to rally 3 to 4 points. Myer & Bros. crossed 67 to a new high record.

SOFT SPOTS FEW

There were few soft spots. Studebaker, International Combustion, National Bellas Hess and Youngstown Sheet and Tube sagged 2¼ to 7¼ points to new low records for the year. Midland Steel Products preferred broke 28¾.

Hudson 9 Months Sales Above 1928

DETROIT, Oct. 2.—Hudson Motor Company has produced and sold more cars in the first nine months this year than in the entire 1928 year. The total for the nine months to October 1 was 284,382 Hudson, Essex and Dover cars, against 282,-207 in all of 1928.

Mesta Machine Earnings Gain

Mesta Machine Company reports for six months, ended June 30, 1929, net profit of $934,120 after all charges and taxes, equal, after preferred dividends, to $14.64 a share on 60,000 common shares outstanding. For the full year, 1928, net profits were $1,051,473, or $15.59 a share.

LONE STAR GAS IN HEAVY DEMAND

Stocks Resume Rise Here As General List Holds to Fractional Price Range

A sudden spurt of activity in Lone Star Gas enlivened the early trading on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today while the general list remained quiet.

The buying of Lone Star started at the opening with large blocks of the stock changing hands on a slowly rising price movement which carried the quotation up about a point from last night's final price. Western Public Service firmed up in response to the Lone Star activity but did not compete with the big fuel leader for market prominence.

The industrials showed only minor changes in the early trading. Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt, which has been displaying more activity recently, firmed up fractionally but did not cover a wide range. Blaw Knox continued to reflect cautious acquisition similar to that noted yesterday. Mayflower Drug sold in the early market at 8, off ¼ from Tuesday's close.

International Rustless Iron opened off a small fraction but did not appear to be under any particular selling pressure.

Increased Dividends Set Record

By B. C. FORBES

IN THE first nine months of this year no fewer than 1,436 improved dividend announcements have been made by American corporations. This contrasts with only 955 during the first three quarters of last year, 755 in 1927 and 669 in 1926.

September's total was 193, making a very favorable comparison with 135 last year and 104 two years ago.

Better dividend payments, it will thus be seen, have been in some measure responsible for the advance in many stocks.

ONLY 94 companies have taken unfavorable dividend action this year, against 117 in the first nine months of 1928 and 131 in 1927.

THE most notable feature of this year's disbursements has been the frequent resort to the payment of stock dividends. They have totaled 255, contrasted with only 87 a year ago and 99 in the first three quarters of 1927.

So frequent, indeed, have stock dividends become that certain Washington politicians have denounced them as subterfuges by wealthy capitalists to obviate income tax payments. The fact is, however, that stock distributions have lost some of their charm during recent months. In not a few instances the market quotation for a stock has not been improved at all by the announcement of a stock payment.

Utility corporations have utilized the stock dividend more freely than the railroads or industrials, the reason given being that utility companies are constantly in need of new capital to cope with needed expansion.

Stock rather than cash dividends appear to be coming into vogue also among investment trusts, the new phenomenon in American finance.

MORE companies have made their debut in the dividend ranks this year than ever before. This is due mainly to the organization of an extraordinary number of new enterprises last year and this. Approximately 500 investment trusts alone have entered the field, and many of them were able to begin dividends immediately. Initial dividend payments for the last nine months have aggregated 440, compared with 320 in the corresponding period last year and only 154 two years ago.

There is noticeable, too, a greater disposition to declare extra disbursements than to make increases in the regular rates, suggesting that many boards of directors are not certain that recent prosperity will be permanently enjoyed.

Extra	458	18	10	349	14	12
Initial	405	34	1	285	30	5

Back	41	3	5	27	0	0
Resumed	32	1	1	21	1	1
Totals	1307	103	26	860	71	24

THE monthly record of improved dividend payments, as compiled exclusively for this column, is presented in this table covering the last five years:

	1929	1928	1927	1926	1925

Totals	1436	1468	1179	1025	791

MOST dividends are paid on the first of the month, the favorite dates being January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1. Now that so many companies pay dividends, and now that so many corporations lend their surplus funds temporarily in Wall Street, it is becoming more and more of a problem to get through the chief dividend dates without a flurry in the money market. Obviously, when a great many corporations lend their surplus funds temporarily in Wall Street, it is becoming more and more of a problem to get though the chief dividend dates without a flurry in the money market. Obviously, when a great many corporations have to withdraw, to meet dividends, funds out on call in Wall Street, the strain is immediately felt in the money market. It is such calling of loans that has been responsible for the tightness of money towards the end of last week and again this week.

Bankers are apprehensive as to what may happen when the abnormal January 1 requirements have to be faced.

Daily Oil Output Off 24,100 Barrels

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 24,100 barrels to 2,900,400, says the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production east of California was 2,022,700 barrels, a decrease of 11,300 barrels.

Reserve Opinion Differs With Hazlewood

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Federal Reserve authorities are inclined to think that the expressions of Craig B. Hazelwood, vice president of the American Bankers' Association, regarding security loans are somewhat pessimistic. It is the attiude of officials here that generally, bankers have co-operated in the effort of the board to prevent use of Federal Reserve credit for speculative purposes. Cases where this has not been so have been isolated.

Reserve officials find that while the stock market demands for funds has served to raise interest rates, this demand has not operated to deny credit to legitimate commercial and industrial needs where the borrowers were willing to pay the higher rates.

RAIL ORDERING AIDS STEEL

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The Iron Age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade tomorrow will say:

Automotive demand for finished steel has undergone a further slump, in contrast with the expanding requirements of the railroads and the sustained needs of the structural steel industry and other avenues of consumption.

The two leading makers of low-priced automobiles both of which are bringing out new models, are scheduled to shut down their plants this month, one for two to four weeks and the other for 30 days. Although several motor car builders are preparing to get under production on new models about November 1, the industry's operations during the rest of the year are unlikely to show much recovery.

Meanwhile railroad buying of both rails and equipment is assuming larger proportions.

Demands from the farm equipment industry, partly because of foreign orders for tractors, have improved.

Pig iron production in September totaled 3,466,611 tons, or 115,553 tons a day. While this was the largest output for any ninth month, it showed a decline from August, in terms of daily rate, of 4.6 per cent. Output for the nine months, at 32,648,371 tons, established a new record, surpassing the previous high total for the corresponding period in 1923 by 5 per cent.

Finished steel prices have developed further weakness, notably in sheets and wide strip, on which concessions are more common. Scrap markets continue to weaken and heavy melting steel has undergone a further decline of 25 cents at Pittsburgh and 50 cents at Chicago.

Bantam Rooster Adopts Turkeys

Another hen hatched the turkey eggs early in the spring, but after the turkeys were about five weeks old she disowned them. "Mike" was engaged, and he promptly took over the care of the orphans.

The turkeys are now about three times as large as their kind foster-parent, but "Mike" still hovers over them at night.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Unexpected strength shown by Liverpool wheat quotations, together with bullish aspects of monthly unofficial crop figures, helped give an early lift today to the wheat market here. There were also assertions that export business in North American wheat was increasing to a material extent. Opening ½c to 1¼c up, Chicago wheat later scored decided additional gains. Corn and oats were also firmer, with corn starting at ⅛c decline to ½c advance, and subsequently rising all around. Provisions slanted downward.

At noon wheat was 1½c to 1⅞c net higher and corn ⅝c to ⅞c up.

In connection with unlooked for upturns in Liverpool wheat prices, much notice was taken here today of strength in the Buenos Aires wheat market. Current gossip had it that urgent offering of Argentine wheat to Europe had ceased and that bulky purchases of North American wheat for Great Britain were contemplated, despite talk of storage congestion at Liverpool and of reduced credit in Europe forcing sales of native wheat.

As analyzed by one leading authority, unofficial monthly crop reports issued here today showed domestic spring wheat yields to be slightly below the conditional indication of a month ago. He gave the present estimate as 10 bushels per acre, with a total spring wheat crop of 209,000,000 bushels. This, added to 549,000,000 bushels of domestic winter wheat, would make the 1929 United States wheat production aggregate 758,000,000 bushels, an amount 144,000,000 bushels less than last year.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—A drop in the call money rate from 9 to 7 per cent stimulated a rally on the Curb market today. After an irregular opening prices struck a soft spot, but later reversed their trend and headed upward under the leadership of the utilities. United Gas Improvement soared 12 points.

The oil group developed some strength, Ohio Oil rising about 4 points and Vacuum 1, while Gulf Oil of Pennsylvania improved fractionally. Standard of Indiana was also strong.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales columns of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list).

EVENING SUN-TELEGRAPH MARKETS

Market Shifts Technical | Chicago Stocks

STOCK MARKET SUBJECT TO FASHIONS

Changes Will Be Technical, Not Affecting Long-Term Future of Solid Business

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—In this speculative era, there is an undue tendency to let the immediate trend of the stock ticker set the feeling tone for business.

Such stock market correction as is under way is technical in character, and has no real bearing on the long term future of well-managed American business corporations. The remaking of the business map of the country has not yet been completed. In the public utility field particularly, stategic financiers have numerous uncompleted plans for further consolidations and mergers. Here in New York the Consolidated Gas Company, for example, has not yet finished rounding out its group of properties. It is expected that the company will take over the New York Steam Company in the near future, and later may absorb the Brooklyn Union Gas Company.

The stock market is highly subject to shifting fashions. He who runs with the crowd must jump rapidly to avoid being burned. The new vogue has been to sell motor stocks insistently. The liquidation has been going on for months. Unquestionably, the full return of the Ford Motor Company to production has adversely affected the near term prospects of other producing companies. The prospects of some recession in sales volume have become so universally recognized that prudent security analysts are already beginning to wonder whether the selling will not be overdone. It is wholly likely that bargains will become available for the long term holder. And yet with competition in the industry more intensive than ever before, the cautious investor who is willing to make commitments in automobile securities will concentrate on the share of leaders.

"EDUCATION" INVESTMENT

What is the best investment? In suggesting an answer, Robert L. Gordon, of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association, of Los Angeles, in speaking before the convention of the American Bankers' Association at San Francisco, took a leaf from the book of Henry Ford, and said "education." Mr. Ford had long ago urged young men to invest in books instead of bonds.

In supporting this viewpoint, Mr. Gordon explained: "What can be of greater value, then, to the embryonic banker than a banking education? In the field of general business, with its expanding methods of trade, what can be worth the while more than a business training? In the state, with its involved international relations and its complicated domestic affairs; in the realm of science, with the hidden truths of nature rapidly unfolding themselves to the gaze of men; in the church or in the home, or in any path that a man or a woman might elect to follow, must be met the problems of that particular course. The individual best equipped is the one who succeeds. Education yields the highest return."

This endorsement of education will perhaps be reassuring to hundreds of thousands of young hopefuls in the colleges of the country who have just paid over the family savings to avid bursars.

Even the biggest business corporations cannot run counter to the conscience of the public. It has been demonstrated anew that public opinion in respect to corporate activities is more compelling than laws on the statute books. The International Paper Company apparently violated no laws in acquiring control of a group of newspapers. However, the public considers the control of newspapers by a corporation heavily interested in power developments as highly improper.

NEWSPAPERS DROPPED

The corporation, bowing to public opinion, has gradually liquidated its embarassing assets. The company is now virtually out of the newspaper field.

Its only remaining interest is in the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle and three associated properties. The company last week sold its interest in the Boston Herald-Traveler, after having disposed of its holdings in the Gannett enterprises last spring. The management indicated that long term paper contracts have been effected with the newspapers. It conceded, however, that "public sentiment was not favorable" to a continuance of the International Paper Company as a newspaper owner. The holding company, the International Paper and Power Company, has become primarily a public utility enterprise.

The lack of the customary pronounced seasonal expansion in trade in September caused some disappointment. However, the situation should be judged in the light of the extraordinary activity in previous months. There appears nothing sufficiently wrong in the business situation to cause a severe letdown. George E. Roberts, vice president of the National City Bank of New York, an expert observer, says:

"If in the exuberance of the upswing business has adhered to sound principles in such matters as inventory policies, forward buying and credit, there is no reason why the ensuing downswing should be severe or prolonged. On these points, the business situation, from all available evidence, remainins strong."

Western Kentucky Crude Oil Reduced

FINDLAY, Oct. 2.—The Ohio Oil Company has reduced the price of Western Kentucky crude oil 15 cents a barrel to $1.68, effective today.

Record Year Expected For Follansbee

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

THE present year will establish a new record for the Follansbee Brothers Company. Net profit in the first nine months of 1929 will not be far below earnings for the entire year of 1928. Current operations are at about 85 per cent of capacity and the outlook for the balance of the year is good.

July and August were both active months. The general recession in demand for steel products has been reflected in the company's operations to only a moderate extent. Production was at capacity during all of the first half of the year.

Earnings have shown almost uninterrupted gains during the past six years. The improvement was especially pronounced in the first six months of 1929 when $999,660 or $5.05 a share was earned. This compared with $654,143 in the corresponding period of 1928.

Plant Improvements

RECENTLY an additional sheet mill was constructed and the work of electrifying older mills is well under way. The company has made large expenditures in the past few years for the improvements to its plants. These investments in new equipment have been reflected in a pronounced upward trend in earnings.

The following table shows net profit after all charges and net earnings per share on the basis of 180,000 shares of common stock now outstanding, after deducting dividend requirements on $3,000,000 of 6 per cent preferred, from 1924 to 1928, inclusive:

Year.	Net Profits.	Earned per Share.
1928	$1,535,732	$7.53
1927	866,380	3.81
1926	949,249	4.27
1925	702,410	2.90
1924	222,240	2.45

Outlook for Year

WHILE the profits for the third quarter of the year are not yet available, it is generally expected that a favorable showing will be made even though they may fall slightly below the exceptional second quarter, when $597,088 or $3.07 a share was earned.

Allowing for the fact that the last half of 1929 may not be quite as profitable as the first half, an estimate of earnings of $9 a share for the present year seems quite conservative.

Price Conditions Good

WHILE the market for steel sheets cannot be called firm, there has been comparatively little shading of prices during the past few weeks. Follansbee produces sheets and tin plate from steel ingots which have been broken down by forging instead of by the usual process of rolling. The superior characteristics of its product have tended to lighten the effect of price cutting by competitors. In addition to the production of sheets and tin plate, the company makes a line of specialties such as milk cans, stove pipe and other fabricated steel articles.

Funded Debt Reduced

RAPID strides have been made in reducing the funded debt. On June 1, $500,000 of the total issue of $3,250,000 of 5 per cent first mortgage bonds were retired. Since that time the company has purchased a large amount of bonds which are being held in the treasury. The annual sinking fund on the issue amounts to only $100,000, so that this requirement has been met many times over in the past year.

The common stock pays regular dividends of 50 cents quarterly and extras of 25 cents. Recent earnings have been about four times the annual dividend requirements of $3 a share.

Stored Oil Stocks Increase in August

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Total stocks of crude and refined oils on August 31, last, totaled 672,066,000 barrels versus 666,962,000 on July 31, and 616,328,000 barrels August 31, 1928, the Federal Bureau of Mines announced.

Crude oil production during August was 92,288,000 barrels, a daily average of 2,977,000 barrels versus 91,327,000, a daily average of 2,946,000 for July and 77,807,000, a daily average of 2,510,000 in August, 1928.

Gasoline stocks totaled 33,788,000 barrels on August 31, last, versus 37,880,000 July 31 and 27,075,000 on August 31, 1928. This represents 24 days' supply versus 27 in July and 25 in August, 1928.

Electric Supply Companies Merge

The organization will be headed by H. B. Tompkins, general sales manager, with headquarters at Bridgeport, Conn.

General Electric Supply Corporation will have its local office and warehouse at 420-422 Duquesne way. A. J. Millington, Jr., is manager; W. L. Fader, sales manager; P A. McCoy, service manager, and C. W. Hand, financial manager.

Freight Loadings Increase for Week

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Revenue freight loadings for the week ended September 21, were reported today by the American Railway Association to have totaled 1,166,330 cars.

This was an increase of 13,268 cars over the preceding week and an increase of 22,299 cars above the corresponding week of a year ago.

P. R. R. to Build 100 New Engines

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—The Pennsylvania Railroad has authorized construction of 100 new locomotives of the mountain type at an estimated cost of $9,000,000. In the past eight years the Pennsylvania road has increased the number of its heavy locomotives from 350 to 1,596.

Simpson Named Cuba Cane's Receiver

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Federal Judge Thatcher appointed Col. John R. Simpson, president of Cuba Cane Sugar Corporation, a receiver for that company following the friendly action started yesterday. The receiver was placed under a $50,000 bond.

Judge Thatcher also signed an order returnable on October 15 directing the stockholders on that date to appear and show cause why the receivership should not be made permanent or be terminated.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Irregularity marked the course of bonds in today's early trading. Convertibles and other stock feature obligations showed a liberal mixture of gains and losses, but the changes were small. A few prime investment issues, of which the current supply has been sharply curtailed, displayed some of the wide price movements characteristic of the current thin market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

OIL BOOST DUE TO BIG YIELD

OIL CITY, Pa., Oct. 2.—(AP.)—The Derrick says that the greatly increased production of Pennsylvania crude oil, especially in the Bradford and Allegheny districts, has more than offset the constantly increasing demand for Pennsylvania oil products and is responsible for the 25 cents a barrel cut in oil today.

Refineries are not using the crude as fast as it is produced and the result is a lower quotation. A contributing cause is the lowering market for many oil products caused partly by the general oil situation and partly by the entrance of large national concerns into the territory which was formerly held largely by firms which were big users of Pennsylvania crude.

The prediction is made that the new quotations will have a great affect on activity in the Pennsylvania producing field and will materially reduce the amount of drilling under way throughout the territory.

The reduction was the fourth of 25 cents to be posted this year and brings the quotation to a point $1 lower than the high mark of the year. The new quotation in all fields except Southwestern Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Southeast Ohio is $3.05 for current production and $3 for oil produced prior to July 1. In Southwestern Pennsylvania it is $3, in West Virginia $2.90 and in Southeastern Ohio $2.70.

Consolation

I WISH that I could shake you from my mind
And sleep of nights the way I used to do!
But you come creeping back—a vagrant wind
To stir my poignant memories of you.

You walk around as proudly as a queen,
And greet me level-eyed and debonair;
But I can't carry out your pretty scene.
My heart is on my sleeve, I'm well aware.

Well, pose away—but I recall a night
When you were not so insolent and cool;
You whispered, faltered. Think now—am I right?
Please give a little solace to a fool.

Remember how the moon rode in the sky—
And people turned and stared as we went by?
—Don Wahn.

OF ALL CRACKS

GEORGE PECK entertained a group at the Newspaper Club with this one the other night. Bill Shakespeare, then of the engraving department at the New York American, was accosted by one of the big shots of the outfit on a tour of inspection.

"Let me see," let-me-see'd the executive, "what is your name again?"

"William Shakespeare, sir," replied Bill.

"Oughta be," was the devastating retort, "I've been around here for 25 years!"

HEHEHER

In Detroit last week one of the female principals in a new show was asked by the manager of the company how she liked the hotel at which she was stopping. She gave her okay, and the manager then asked: "Don't the drummers in the lobby annoy you?"

"I should say not. I never heard any music all night!"

LOVE IS A TERRIBLE THING

NOT too many nights ago a chorus lass in a hit who had never touched giggle water before was persuaded to have a drink by her undressing-roommates. After the third swallow she cornered her sweetheart in the same troupe and let go with a mess of verbiage that startled the entire company. It so infuriated the chap that he mislaid his temper for the moment and socked her a terrific wallop on the nose (ritz for snoot) and she laid there like a herring who has been trapped by a Delancey Streeter.

Not content with knocking her down the enraged chap proceeded to murder her with his fists, but others stepped in and she was rescued.

YES, INDEEDY

Credit Marc Lachman with this grand tale. One of our most beautiful show girls, who has been keeping company with a Broadway gorilla, recently opened in Atlantic City with a new musical show prior to its New York premiere. As is often the case these beauties have romantic love spells with various members of the cast which last only for the try-out period. On this occasion the girl fell for one of the chorus men in the show.

It was a grand week for both. Midnight parties, boardwalk walks in the moonlight, etc., etc. The boy realized that it would soon be over. So did the girl.

At the end of the week, just before the company boarded the train back to Broadway, the couple met in the vestibule of the Pullman. The girl realized she would soon be back with her gunman. As they kissed, probably for the last time, she sighed and said: "Gosh, I am going to miss you in New York."

"New York, my eye!" shouted the chorus man. "You are going to miss me at Manhattan Transfer!"

IMAGINE

EVEN George M. Cohan will tell you that Once An Actor Always Something or Other.

Cohan, you might have heard before, has a payroll for numerous actors and others who now are has-beens, but he seldom fails them. Recently, however, a former star who appeared in Cohan shows was in great need, even if he managed to promote coin for likker. The one-time star called Cohan on the phone. "See here, George," he growled, "I've got to have $500 at once. I'm sending my valet for it!" Then he hung up.

Cohan gave the valet a check for $250. When the actor received it he sent Cohan a note. "Dear George," it read, "thanks for the $250 check. But you didn't inclose your I.O.U. for the other $250!"

YOU'VE MET HER

IT happened at the N. Y. U.-Vermont football game the other Saturday. Izzy Elison took his "heart" to witness it, a sweet young thing who had never seen a football game before. During the proceedings she was bored, her gloomy silence being occasionally interrupted with some silly query about why that big brute had to jump so violently on that cute little fellow.

She certainly was having a dull time of it. When Izzy was about to suggest that they leave he saw her face light up in happy anticipation. She was watching something with keen interest and Izzy followed her gaze. A tall, handsome, curly headed blond chap was making his way toward the stand. He was evidently the cheer leader, for he held a megaphone in his hand. As he came nearer he put the megaphone to his lips. Then, the girl friend tugged violently at Izzy's good arm.

"Oooooh!" she cried passionately, "I do hope it's 'Deep Night'!"

Real Estate

Building permits issued in Pittsburgh during September were lower in value than the same month last year, but showed a substantial gain over August. The Bureau of Building Inspection reports 623 permits for work valued at $2,860,677 in September, compared with 485 permits for $3,067,084 in September, 1928, and 461 permits for $2,415,205 in August, 1929.

Philip J. Door, deputy superintendent of the State Highway Patrol, addressed the members of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Board yesterday following the noon luncheon at the William Penn Hotel. He outlined the essentials in the state's examination of motor vehicles and disclosed that 50 state troopers will co-operate with Pittsburgh police in checking up on the inspections during the early part of November.

The H. J. Heinz Company has requested a permit for a new four-story brick and steel auditorium building in Progress street, North Side, to cost $1,000,000. The building will be used by employes of the company.

A new house in Glen Arden drive, Clover Crest, has been sold by Adam F. Bortz to James A. Dunn. The lot is 50x117 feet.

An English design residence and two-car garage at 314 Orchard drive, Mt. Lebanon, has been sold through W. W. Parshley for John E. Larson, builder, to Dana Z. Eckert, who takes the property for a home. The lot is 50x124 feet.

A property in Paulson avenue, Twelfth Ward, has been deeded by John Joyce to Mark Conroy. The lot is 50x214 feet.

The Guthrie Real Estate Company sold for Robert D. Anderson to the Abromats Construction Company 50x100 feet in Melbourne street, Fifteenth Ward, as a site for a double house. The same brokers sold for the Leff Construction Company to J. Paul 30x100 feet with a house and garage at 832 Greenfield avenue.

Twenty-sixth Ward—J. F. Kappel and W. J. Kappel, brick dwelling, 3802 Baytree street, $9,500.

Eleventh Ward—H. Holland, brick and tile dwelling, 312-14 Graham street, $7,000.

TRY your hand at this fascinating game of Anagrambles—the game that is taking the town like the crossword puzzle craze took the whole nation for a ride through the dictionary.

The game is quite simple. Merely change the following words by the addition of the single letter indicated. Do not omit any letter of the original word. The letter may be inserted at the beginning of the word, anywhere within the word, or at the end. Thus, the word "pate," by the addition of the letter "l" becomes either "pleat" or "plate." The word "drag" may be changed to either "grade" or "raged" by the addition of the letter "e."

The original word must be changed in meaning by the commentary letter. To change "mine" by adding "d." to form "mined," would be incorrect. Rearrange the letters of your word to change its meaning, not its tense or number. Take a pencil now and write in your newly formed word in the spaces provided.

A Thrilling Story Of Gang Life

LITTLE CAESAR

By W. R. Burnett

CHAPTER XXXV.

RICO was acutely conscious of his position. A lonely Youngstown yegg in a hostile city without friends or influence. Yeah, funny! Just a no-account yap in a burg like Hammond and not four months ago he had been a big guy in a big burg.

He put on his ulster and went out. The wind was cold and it was snowing. He walked around for a while, keeping to the dark streets, then, chilled through, he went into a little Italian restaurant for a cup of coffee and a sandwich.

The waiter, an Italian boy with a handsome dark face, brought Rico his food. When he set it down on the table he grinned and said:

"Well, happy New Year."

Rico looked up in surprise.

"Yeah," he said, "thanks."

He felt better. This anonymous friendliness cheered him up. While he was eating, he watched the Italian boy, who was wiping off the counter and singing.

"Nice kid," thought Rico.

When Rico had finished his coffee, he lit a cigaret and sat smoking. He felt comfortable. Looking around the restaurant, he saw that there was a mechanical piano up front. Like Pete's!

"Say," he called, "let's have a little music."

"Sure," said the boy.

He put a slug in the piano. It played Farewell to Thee in tremolo. Rico felt sad. He called the boy back and gave him a dollar.

"Keep the change, kid," he said.

The mechanical piano stopped on a discord, and Rico got to his feet. While he was putting on his coat two men came in the front door. One of them went up to the counter and ordered a cup of coffee, but the other stopped and stood staring at Rico.

Rico, noticing the man's scrutiny, put his hand inside his coat and started out, but the man touched him on the shoulder and whispered:

Rico stared at the man and demanded:

"Who the hell are you?"

Then he recognized him. It was Little Arnie's doorman, Joseph Pavlovsky, one of the guys he had chased.

"I'm one of Arnie's boys," said Pavlovsky; "I been in Hammond ever since you gave us the rush."

"Yeah?" said Rico.

"Straight," said Pavlovsky. "I been in the beer racket over here and I cleaned up. I'm going back to the big burg next month."

Rico envied him.

"Yeah?" said Rico.

"You sure pulled one on 'em, Rico," said Pavlovsky; "you always was a smart boy, Rico."

"Aw, can that," said Rico, and, pulling away from Pavlovsky, he went out.

The wind was blowing hard now and it had stopped snowing. Rico turned up his coat collar and started toward Sansotta's. But he hadn't gone half a block when he realized he was being followed. He turned just in time to see two men pass under an arc light.

"It's Little Arnie's boy," he said, "looking for seven grand."

Rico took out his gun, got behind a telephone pole and fired a warning shot. The two men ran for cover and Rico ducked down an alley, ran for two blocks, then turned up another alley and doubled back. He had lost them.

When the lookout let him in he said:

"Louis, the boss wants to see you."

Rico went up to Sansotta's room.

"Well?" he said to Sansotta.

"Cesare," said Sansotta, "a friend of mine is pulling out for Toledo tomorrow night. He'll take you for 50 bucks."

"What's his game?"

"Running dope."

"It's O. K. with me," said Rico.

Rico went up to his room, took off his overcoat, and flung himself down on the bed. He'd have to pull out now whether he wanted to or not.

* * *

The dope-runner dropped Rico at the edge of town. It was about 5 o'clock in the morning and still dark. A heavy fog had come in from Lake Erie and a damp, cold wind was blowing. Rico walked up and down to keep warm while waiting for a car. He felt pretty low.

"Yeah," said Rico, "right back where I started from."

"Ain't that a break?" said Rico.

There wouldn't be another car for half an hour. Rico decided to walk. He turned up his coat collar against the damp wind and lit a cigar. His mind was full of resentment. Yeah, by God, a lousy street car wouldn't even stop for him.

Rico got a room at a bachelors' hotel on the waterfront, and went to bed. It was about 5 o'clock in the evening when he woke up. He doused his face at the washstand, put on his overcoat and went out.

He ate at a little Italian restaurant where he and Otero used to split a bowl of soup when things were going bad. But the place had changed. New management, new waiters, new everything. Toledo seemed small and dingy and quiet to Rico. He was a little bit puzzled.

"Didn't used to be like this," he said.

As soon as he finished his meal he walked over to Chiggi's, which was about two blocks away. But the place was dark, and when Rico went up to the door to peer in he saw that it had been padlocked by the federal authorities.

"Ain't that a break?" he said.

He had no place to go.

There was a fruit store next to Chiggi's and Rico went in. A little Italian girl came to wait on him.

"Listen, sister," said Rico, "you know where Chiggi is now?"

"I get my grandfather," she said.

She went into the back of the store and returned with an old Italian who had crinkly gray hair and wore earrings.

"Listen, mister," said Rico, "could you tell me where Chiggi is now?"

The old man just looked at him. Rico felt a little uneasy.

"No speak English?" he asked.

"Yes," said the old man, "I speak good English. What do you want with Chiggi?"

"Well," said Rico, "Chiggi used to be a pal of mine, but I been away for three or four years and now I don't know where to find him."

"Chiggi has had trouble," said the old man, "he is in the prison."

"Yeah?" said Rico. "Atlanta, huh?"

"Yes," said the old man. "Chiggi is in Atlanta. It is too bad. Chiggi was good to the poor. When my wife was sick and my business was not going good, Chiggi gave me money."

"Yeah," said Rico. "Chiggi staked me, too."

Rico took out a cigar and gave it to the old man.

"Listen," he went on, "do you know where any of Chiggi's old bunch is?"

"Yes," said the old man, "Chiggi's boy has got a place a couple of blocks from here."

The old man wrote down the address for Rico.

Secretary of Labor Davis predicts in fifty years a day's work will be hardly more effort than pulling a lever or pressing a button.

But traffic congestion will probably to so great the workers will spend all day getting to the button and back.

Mr. Davis, however, believes "Church, school and college must now begin to train our people for the proper use of the leisure they're going to have."

And Congress had better get busy, too. With greater leisure people won't be satisfied with the few paltry laws now breakable.

Murders seem to increase in direct proportion to our leisure, so we won't have to worry about over population, at least.

* * *

Mister Banker, fat and sleek,
I come humbly, downcast, meek,
Make, to me, a modest loan,
And let me use your telephone;
I will call my broker, who,
Gets call money, sir, from you;
Thus the circle goes, I trow
You're the milker, I'm the cow.

Says the Rev. Wiley—
Budgets may come and budgets may go, but the first of the month comes on forever.

PROSPERITY NOTE

Ice cream cones were much in evidence on the streets of Downieville Wednesday.

IN THE PUBLIC EYES

This is Wassail Doakes, consulting expert, who is said to have advised many of the tariff schedules included in the Hawley-Smoot bill. It was largely through Doakes' efforts that French Pastry was put on the free list, and the duty on shoes doubled in order to help the farmer and working man.

* * *

CLIP THIS PICTURE FOR REFERENCE

Today we tear off another leaf from The Home Elocutionist in the hope that it will help those who are eager to register some emotion but cannot quite decide which emotion to register. The above illustration shows the proper attitude to assume for "Mockery." This pose is very effective in the home, and will come in handy when the husband stammers, "Now dearie...I can explain everything."

* * *

And then there is the goof whose proudest moment is when he gets a nod of recognition from a night club proprietor.

Adam Scofflaw's Journal

This evening read aloud to my wretch from Mister Muir's Golden Treasury of Knowledgment (in particular his Essay 'Gainst Optimism and Pessimism in which he hold 'tis wisdom to deny all meaning men give to meaning in order that meaning shall have a new meaning) but Lord! I cannot get the wench to so much as nod chin, as her mind is bedevilled with evil yearnings to bleed my purse for a pair of new red heels to her shoon.

Says Rev. Wiley—
"If there's anything worse than a man who insists upon being righteous, it's a woman who insists upon being right."

Why nearly everybody's bowels need Milk of Magnesia

Reduce acids of system - Instantly

MAGNESIA is marvelous for the system that's too acid. And Phillips Milk of Magnesia is magnesia in its best form. It's easily the foremost anti-acid.

It soon has a sour stomach all serene again, free from that unpleasant gas and thoroughly alkalinized.

But this perfect anti-acid does as important a service for the bowels as for the stomach. Phillips Milk of Magnesia has ideal laxative properties.

Perhaps you did not know that. Possibly you are taking something needlessly strong to assist elimination. Most of us live today in a manner that makes the system lazy. It needs occasional help. This gentler aid is just as effective as the things one hesitates to take for the purpose.

An acid condition is at the bottom of lots of systemic disorders. So before you resort to dieting, try this simple means of restoring the alkaline balance. One spoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid. It is a delightful—and an effective—way of relieving the discomfort that follows overeating; heartburn; biliousness. It is ideal, too, in the upsets that come to children. No persuasion is needed for them to take this milk-white, creamy emulsion and nothing could be better than its mild corrective action in the stomach and in the bowels.

Phillips Milk of Magnesia has many uses in almost any household and it is one product that should be in every family medicine cabinet. Be sure you get Phillips Milk of Magnesia as this is the genuine prescriptional product.

Beaver County Lawyer Picked for Meyer's Job

In naming Louis E. Graham, of Beaver County, as the tentative successor of John D. Meyer in the position of United States district attorney here, Senator David A. Reed selected a man of wide legal experience and one who has been associated with the work of the Federal Government as legal adviser and assistant administrator of the prohibition enforcement office of Pittsburgh.

His experience as district attorney of Beaver County for 12 years will lead the public to believe that a capable man has been chosen to take up the work Mr. Meyer resigned several months ago. Approval of the Department of Justice, President Hoover and the United States Senate must be obtained to make the appointment effective, but it is seldom that the wish of a member of the Senate is overridden in such matters.

Youngsters Again to See Games at Small Cost

Those co-operating in the plan whereby youngsters under 16 years of age may see certain football games played in the Stadium for an admission fee of 25 cents, including street car transportation to and from home, deserve commendation. Allegheny Council, Boy Scouts of America, sponsors the activity, which this fall is in its fourth year.

The organization's motive is that of giving the boys clean sport, imbuing good sportsmanship and building character. Every boy is a natural sport lover, and the keen enjoyment provided for him at a nominal expense in this manner is a boon the significance of which is appreciated when the older chaps remember their own youth.

The Unhappy Days

Research Brings Revelations

After all, the modern reformer is probably incapable of living up to the stern immoralities of his moral forbears.

This is apparent in light of the revelations made by John Muir in his recently completed "John Knox: Portrait of a Calvinist."

The sainted Scotchman, Knox (and, by the way, Muir is a Scotchman) preached and fought during a time when it was considered good sportsmanship to kill those who wouldn't lockstep along the path to Glory. To sing was a crime. To wear clothes of a certain cut was a crime. To serve unapproved food was a crime. To dance at weddings was a crime. On one occasion a child was beheaded for striking its parents. Informing against the neighbors became a major sport. But John Knox, of course, did not hestitate, at the age of 59, to marry a girl of 16.

Thanks to John Muir's research, we are now able to observe the saintly qualities in the sinner and the sinful qualities in the saint.

Down in Tennessee

Strikes Not Wanted

Working people in Tennessee apparently don't want strikes or unions. Or they think this is not the time to have them.

While union organizers were arranging for a "strike or no strike" vote, employes of two mills voted on their own account.

In one it was 1,670 against, 128 in favor of a strike; in the other 886 against, 86 in favor.

Many in the South, workers included, believe that unions and strikes would discourage Northern capital. They don't want that.

Concrete Layer Cake

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

AL SMITH is building the largest office building in the world.

It's over 900 feet taller than the White House.

"Bugs" Baer

Al will have a bungalow on the roof. It will give Al a better view of the South and the West than he got in 1928.

The office buildings of New York are rather complicated. Every elevator is an endurance test and every office boy wears a non-stop frown.

We tried to get in to see the president of a big corporation the other day. The first thing you notice about a suite of offices is that the front door is incorporated.

The furniture consist of a desk inhabited by a man whose grandmother must have been a robot.

Every big executive has his floor space divided up into 30 rooms separated by frosted partitions. The density of population is about three vice presidents to a coop.

You are stopped in every room by a needle-nosed investigator who wants to know how you escaped the flu epidemic in 1920.

At the end of the mystic maze is the man you want to see.

By the time they stop shunting you from office to office you feel like one of those little lead bullets in pigs-in-clover.

You never get in to see the president of the corporation because he is either out to lunch or in executive session with another president who hasn't anything to do, either.

We don't know why they build offices so tall. They could make those buildings shorter and be much busier.

Some day we hope to get back to a one-story town. Where they do everything on the ground floor within easy jumping distance of the turnpike.

We know a town like that in Illinois. There isn't a two-story shack in the burg. There was one many years ago. But it was a saloon. It still is.

We want to go back to that one-story town and die. Which shouldn't take more than a week or so.

To make it worse, the revolving door season is on, when every man's hand is raised against his neighbor trying to go the other way.

After a winter in a revolving door, you celebrate the advent of spring by picking peanuts off the ground just like a squirrel.

Bible Passages

Feed My Sheep

(St. John 21; 14-24)

THIS is now the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

So when they had dined, Jesus saith unto Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.

He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus said unto him, Feed my sheep.

Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest; but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

Peter seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do?

Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me.

Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true.

Love and Laughter

LOVE and laughter set one free,
From all doubt and tears,
From the bitter tyranny
Of the by-gone years.

Golden coin, in truth, life pays
When it renders this:
Love's serene and tender ways,
Laughter's bubbling bliss!

Love and laughter, who could ask
More to fill the hours?
Love that gladdens every task,
Laughter, sweet as flowers.

Snaring idle, false regrets
For past follies done,
Love and laughter weave their nets,
Shining as the sun.

Love and laughter, friends of mine,
Linger still with me;
All things else I can resign;
Keep me brave and free!

NOW, WHAT'S IMPOSSIBLE?

By Herbert Kaufman

THE Kangaroo and Old Baldy exchanged direct greetings last week, Melbourne, Sidney, Aukland and the Fiji Islands will soon be on your telephone line.

Distance, one of the few IRREVOCABLY fixed facts, paradoxically becomes a variable THEORY, when the Antipodes and the United States begin to lean over the trans-Pacific fence and verbally transact business.

Recent ancestors of yours would have burned men as black magicians for LESSER wizardries than these.

A most amazing age, this century of ours! We live in a kaleidoscope, whose patterns shift so rapidly, that encyclopedias can't be revised fast enough to deliver authoritative information.

And anybody who relies upon the technical knowledge with which he quit college is as mentally out of date as Rip Van Winkle after his Catskill adventure.

CLEAR out your brain cubbies. They're cluttered with obsolete rubbish. Progress has bobbed her hair and abandoned half the thinking caps in fashion when the sciences and you attended the same schools.

Geographies no longer indicate the shortest routes to ANYWHERE. Cartographers are redrafting travel lanes and locating them UNDER and ABOVE earth's surface.

Tomorrow, making journeys and shipments by submarine and air routes, won't understand how we so purblindly lavished recent billions on elaborate highway systems, prodigious bridge spans and regardless rail expansion.

At which prediction you invoke aviation's mortality record and bet that no such revolution will happen in OUR time.

But, don't over-stress the tumbles and fumbles of a few air pioneers. Bird-men are still merely fledglings, testing pin-feather pinions. Nature didn't evolve competent wing-bearers OVERNIGHT, and WE can't expect to perfect flight in an eye-wink, either.

IF YOU reflect that Cuttyhunk and circumnavigating planes aren't a quarter century apart, and that aviation, in that brief span, has already produced helicopters, fog penetrators, slot and gyro-stabilizers and controls which enable pilots safely to hop the continent under automatic guidance, the complete conquest of cloudland can't be VERY far away.

Communication, mechanics, therapeutics, power transmission and business management are ALL in state of flux.

Processes refuse to STAY PUT; they're in hourly conference with cost shavers and formula-revisers—adopting swifter, cheaper and more precise instrumentalities, the moment possibility shows samples.

DON'T forget there's a delver in the south of France who has practically ACHIEVED wireless heating and illumination. And withhold derision from proposed automobiles to be shipped in their own garages, and run for 50 miles on a single gallon of gas.

By next year, this very column may be set and printed by invisible fingers pressing linotype keys or bringing illustrated pages of advertising and text straight through the ether.

Combine the two, and fame, wealth and independence are your obedient servants.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

WHEN in doubt . . . KEEP IT TO YOURSELF!

CONSUME YOUR OWN SMOKE!

Put on the good old poker face and don't show anyone that you have nothing in your hand bigger than a couple of deuces, and maybe not even that.

Love your fellow man—play the game with him—BUT BE EXTREMELY CAREFUL HOW YOU CONFIDE IN HIM.

Confidences, in times of stress are a relief and a comfort, but they are extremely dangerous, for with each confidence you put yourself at the mercy of the other fellow and sacrifice something of your standing.

You have, in times past, established a certain rating with that other fellow. Each confession of weakness detracts something from that rating. And the bigger you've been, the harder you'll fall in his eyes. He'll not only be sorry for you, and vaguely contemptuous, but, unconsciously, he'll be mad. Here he's been thinking that you were a Pillar of Strength. You let him think that. You probably encouraged it. You let him respect you—let him, as it were, place all his bets on you. AND NOW YOU REVEAL THAT YOU'RE JUST AN ORDINARY GUY AS FULL OF KNOCKS AND WOBBLES AS HE IS HIMSELF. He's bound to feel, somehow, cheated.

Chances are he won't put this into words, but the feeling will persist just the same, and show in a subtle cheapening of his attitude toward you. He'll patronize you . . . now and then he may remind you of what you've said, with a tinge of exasperation . . . or, if he's mean minded, he'll show a malicious glee at the thought that you're shown up, at last. For didn't you make him feel small by your bigness? You did. Then naturally—

Then YOU'LL get mad! "Why should he assume that attitude just because I turned to him in a moment of weakness?" you'll cry. "Don't my fine past record entitle me to respect and sympathy?"

Don't fool yourself! ONE MOMENT OF ILL-JUDGED CONFIDENCE CAN OFFSET AND UPSET A LIFETIME RECORD FOR FINE PERFORMANCE.

Remember that old saying:

"Laugh and the world laughs with you;
Weep and you weep alone!"

That may seem depressing, but the actual facts are even more so. The truth is—

"Laugh and the world laughs with you;
"Weep—AND THE WORLD GETS THE BULGE ON YOU!"

And there's a fair and healthy reason why it should! The world isn't deliberately cruel or traitorous. But—LIFE MUST GO ON. That's a fundamental law. Life must go on though skies fall and humans falter. And social usage is built on that stern necessity. Society "expects every man to do his bit"—FOR IF HE DOESN'T DO HIS BIT THE CONTAGION OF FEAR AND GRIEF WILL SPREAD TO THE CHAP NEXT IN LINE.

So even though you're inwardly racked—BLUFF IT—carry on until you can think out the thing for yourself.

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS.

THEY say there's a lot of jealousy in the theater. You know what I mean, every fellow saying every other fellow is a ham. Well, that's just what people think, and it ain't true, of course. But they tell about two vaudeville fellows meeting at a club, and one of them introduces himself:

"I'm Chris Chrismuss," he says.

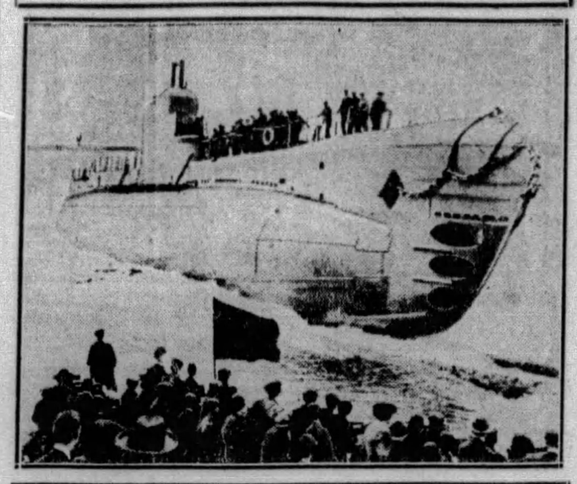
"Oh, are you? And who is that?"

"Now, don't try that on me, boy. You know Chris Chrismuss very well. I'm the guy that sings the popular songs."

"Oh, yes, I remember you now! You sing songs that were popular before you started singing 'em!"

Britannia Hates Submarines

But She BUILDS Them



THE LATEST BRITISH SUBMARINE—WELL NAMED.

The British have a horror of submarines, and implore France and America to "outlaw" them, agreeing that no nation shall use them.

That's natural for the British, because their island, off in a foggy corner, is not self-supporting. Food for their millions must be brought on floating ships. And those ships, in time of war, are at the mercy of submarines.

In the late war the submarines terrorized the British, made them afraid to send their enormous battleships to sea, and made them fear that they would ultimately be beaten by starvation.

However, the British are intelligent. They know the value of a submarine to any nation with whom they might fight as well as they know the dreadful menace that it holds for them and their floating commerce.

And so, while they beg Americans and French to OUTLAW the submarine, the wise British BUILD SUBMARINES, of the latest, largest and most efficient type.

Here you see the Pandora, a good name for a submarine. It will let loose horrors as great as those contained in Pandora's fateful box.

This nation, which will not fight any other nation unless attacked, or outrageously wronged, needs submarines and will have them, the greatest, most efficient fleet of them on earth, if the government is INTELLIGENT.

The French and Japanese are building submarines. Japan, it is said on the authority of a French officer, possesses bigger submarines than any other nation. With a cruising radius that would enable the undersea boats to cross the Pacific, and, unobserved, pass, below the water, through the Golden Gate, into San Francisco harbor.

Of course we know the Japanese will not do anything like that, but some other nation MIGHT. We should be prepared to give anybody coming, through the AIR, on the water or UNDER the water, such a welcome as the world would never forget.

We need fighting airships and submarines, also enough very fast cruisers to disturb seriously the floating commerce of any nation that might attack us.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The metropolis has an army of old wattled codgers doddering along the primrose path and trying to have the last fling without gossip. They patronize those "clubs" where "the board of governors" go into executive session and elect you to membership as quick as that.

They are never seen after dusk, their play hours beginning at lunch time and lasting until time to go home for dinner. Thus it is possible for vibrant young girls for whom they provide food and cocktails to devote their evenings to particular boy friends.

New York has so many attractive lassies who must always be going somewhere and seeing things that antiquated Romeos with plenty of money have no trouble finding the light hearted companionship they crave. Among the merry wags such girls are called "fossil flichers."

Most of them are a type peculiar to New York. They are girls from good homes, well educated and bright conversationalists who have no compunction whatever in exchanging a little flattery or taxicab handholding for a filling lunch, well lubricated, in the glitter of a de luxe speakeasy.

After all the venerable saps must scurry home, climb into carpet slippers and rattle the newspaper grouchily just when New York is going gay. In the meantime, ladies with nothing to do have been provided a pleasant interlude. And that's that.

In the East Fifties are at least a dozen of the private mansion grog shops which seem to specialize in the December and May attachments. Between 12 and 1 fluffy young things are popping out of taxicabs, wearing orchid corsages, to meet their withered cavaliers.

They hang to their arms, coo, flick imaginary fluff off coat lapels, bestow whispered nothings, and otherwise appear in the throes of a great romance. It is good acting and the old boys, are lucky not to fall into more designing hands.

Bud Fisher, the cartoonist, has the distinction of being the only yacht purchaser to leave a new boat flat and never see it again. The day after he became owner he started on a cruise, but, displeased with his captain, put in at a port and fired him and his crew. He hired a local seaman—the fact he wore a duck of a plug hat having a mighty appeal. Several hours after they steamed out, the new captain miscalculated the clearance of a bridge and the top part of the cabin was raked into the water. Bud ahoyed for land in a skiff and never laid eyes on the vessel or inquired about it since. He had his fill.

One reason for the shrinkage in interest and also in the number of vaudeville houses may be gleaned from what I saw in one the other night. Those who arrived late were pointed out by a low comedian and spot-lighted. As they took their seats, the orchestra crashed that "Gentlemen be seated." ta-da-a-a. People paying to see shows and made the targets for such discourtesy are not likely to repeat the visit.

* * *

Kidding customers was the final straw that broke the camel's back in the night club debacle. Customers laughing loudest when hailed as "Hello, Sucker!" are the ones who never went back. Barnum fooled the public—but he never ridiculed it. And he was the greatest showman of all.

Those who declared prohibition would be a kick in the pants for hotel building are thinking up something else. "Bigger and better" hotels are going up in New York now more than at any period in history. Inns flourishing 20 years ago are being torn down for more elaborate structures. The loss of bar revenue has been more than made up in slicing up fronts for shops and stores. Three big hotels cover all expenses in sub-rentals. Thus gross receipts are clear profit.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

DO YOU give certain persons the impression that you agree with them and then ridicule their opinions to others?

Why do this?

Is it because you don't want to make the effort to express an adverse opinion and hold up your argument for it? Or is it that you want to be popular?

Is it a fair or manly thing to do?

If you think that a person is expressing ideas and making statements that are ridiculous, should you not make your ideas known to that effect? Why should you try to agree with every person you meet?

This practice weakens your power to think and sets you down as a jelly fish.

If you have convictions why not express and stand by them?

Why be so deceitful as to apparently support the opinions of others at whom you later laugh? Perhaps you think anything that you might say could not alter or change the ideas of those whom you have heard. Therefore you let them pass at the time, to make sport of them later.

It is cowardly to acquiesce in public and sneeringly laugh in private.
